WASHINGTON IS READY TO WELCOME AIR HERO

Colorado State Senator Is Slain By Enraged Man

GUN PLAY OCCURS IN WOMAN'S ROOM

Woman And Husband Are Implicated By Police In Fatal Shooting

(International News Service)
DENVER, June 10.—State Senator Albert E. Bogdon of Denver was killed here today, victim of a shooting in the apartment of Mrs. Helen E. Minter.

Police are working on the theory the woman's husband, Joseph Minter, did the shooting.

He was seen at the door of the apartment police said, shortly before the shots were heard, and afterwards, he is said to have notified police of the shooting by telephone, and then escaped.

Mrs. Minter, who was in the apartment at the time of the shooting, was arrested and is being held for investigation.

When questioned by police, Mrs. Minter said she and Bogdon were in the apartment, partly clad, when someone was heard at the door. She ran to the bathroom to dress, and when she came out, she found Bogdon's body on the floor, and her husband holding a smoking revolver.

"I ought to shoot you, too," he is said to have told her, then ran to a telephone in the hall, notified the police, and disappeared.

Bogdon was a law partner of City Attorney May and a member of the Denver Civil Service Commission.

Minter Surrenders

Denver, June 10. — Joseph Minter, alleged slayer of State Senator Albert E. Bogdon, walked into city hall today and gave himself up to authorities.

"I guess you are looking for me," he said to George Carter, city official, after he had identified himself.

He was arrested immediately and placed in a solitary cell.

When searched, no revolver was found.

Minter told officials he had been walking all night in the suburbs of Denver and finally had decided to give himself up.

New Rotary Head Takes Over Office, Sessions To End

Newly Elected Rotary President Takes Oath From Retiring President

(International News Service)
OSTEND, June 10.—President Harry Rogers of the International Rotary today turned the office over to the newly elected president, Arthur Sapp of Huntington, Ind.

Rogers declared the convention just closing is "the greatest ever held."

New officers were installed and a roll-call of the delegates showed thirty-seven nations were represented.

The convention ended with the singing of "Auld Lang Syne" and "Home Sweet Home."

Pittsburgh Man Killed In Plane Mishap In Canada

(International News Service)
MONTREAL, Que., June 10.—J. Denzell McKee, millionaire Pittsburgh, Pa., steel magnate, lost his life today and his companion, Lieutenant Hoaff, was badly injured when the plane in which they were riding fell into Lake Lepache, near Grandmere.

Lieutenant Hoaf was piloting the plane, in which McKee was a passenger. When at an altitude of 2,500 feet one wing of the hydroplane collapsed and the plane dropped to the lake surface. McKee was drowned.

Marries Couple In Plane 4000 Feet Above Earth

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, June 10. — Miss Margaret Main, 28, and Harry Humphries, 32 both of Scranton, today held the honor of being the principals in the State's first aerial wedding. The couple were married 4,000 feet above Philadelphia late yesterday afternoon.

The wedding took place in a four seater plane with Rev. Harry Bird, of Abington, performing the ceremony. Miss Janet Main, a sister of the bride was bridesmaid while, Ben Faulkner of Pitcairn Field, the pilot, served as best man.

Lawrence County Sabbath School Association Selects First Baptist Church

MORE THAN 600 AT ENON VALLEY SESSIONS

Able Addresses Are Given—Special Recognition For Ellwood

More than 600 attended the 89th annual convention of the Lawrence County Sabbath School Convention held at the Presbyterian church at Enon Valley Thursday. Every district of the county was well represented, the Ellwood City District had a specially large and enthusiastic delegation.

The convention consisted of morning, afternoon and evening sessions, and the church building was filled to capacity for each session, a specially large attendance turning out for the evening session when Rev. P. H. Welshimer of the First Christian Church of Canton, Ohio spoke on "Making the Bible School Go."

The principal speakers of the convention besides Rev. Welshimer were Rev. L. L. Aber, Administration Superintendent of the State Sabbath school association, P. L. Craig, president of the Pennsylvania Sabbath School Association Miss Letita Brown, recently appointed State Associate Young People's Superintendent.

Rev. H. Davidson, pastor of the convention church led the morning devotional service. Rev. Arthur M. Stevenson of the First Presbyterian church of Ellwood City preached the convention sermon and Rev. S. L. Maxwell of the Epworth M. E. church of New Castle presented vivid "Dramatization of the Life of St. Paul."

The conference music was led by John W. Owens. In the evening the Bessemer High School Orchestra furnished several selections and played for the service.

Recognition For Ellwood

Special recognition was shown to the Ellwood City district who under the leadership of Miss Letitia Brown for the third consecutive year won the "County Shield" for the largest number of young people attending the summer training camps. Mrs. Grace Benford spoke in recognition of this accomplishment.

J. C. Miller was elected treasurer for the coming year and the treasurer's report was accepted and compliment paid to the county for the splendid way in which the county association have met all financial obligations for several years.

On recommendation of the place committee the Annual convention will meet at the First Baptist church of New Castle next year. The place committee was composed of Rev. J. B. Porter, George Andrews, C. S. Ferguson and Mrs. C. L. Repman.

Pronounced Shock Felt In Richmond In Morning Hours

(International News Service)
RICHMOND, Va., June 10. — A pronounced shock, believed to have been an earthquake, shook Richmond at 2:17 o'clock this morning.

Houses were rocked, window panes rattled, and many residents were routed from their beds. Apparently, however, no damage was done.

The shock was at first believed to have been caused by an explosion of some kind, but later other portions of Virginia reported feeling it.

Over 300 Seniors Receive Diplomas Thursday Night

Commencement Exercises Are Presented In Cathedral Auditorium

PROGRAM GIVEN OF HIGH CALIBER

Exercises Reflect Real Spirit Of New Castle; Large Crowd Present

Three hundred eight young men and women joined the "old grads" of New Castle High School Thursday evening, June 9, when the Forty Eighth Commencement Exercise of the school was held in the Scottish Rite Cathedral.

Grey gowned and grey hatted they stepped from their scholastic world out into what for some of them will be the beginning of their life's work, for others the beginning of their higher education. It was at once a joyous and a sad occasion. It marked the last time they would be together as the Class of 1927, save perhaps for later reunions, but it also marked their day of reward for the past 12 years of work in the class rooms of the public schools of this city.

Impressive Program

For the Commencement Exercise the auditorium was not quite filled, probably 2,700 being present. Those who were there saw and heard a most impressive exercise, one that befitted the best traditions of New Castle High School, one that equalled any that have gone before.

The Senior High School orchestra opened the evening's program with "Orpheus in der Unterwelt," by J. Offenbach, with La Verne Irvine directing, followed by the invocation by Rev. J. N. Croxall, pastor of the Mahoning M. E. church. The first speaker of the evening was Miss Barbara Bratschie, the Salutatorian.

For her theme Miss Bratschie chose a subject with which she has become familiar in the past three

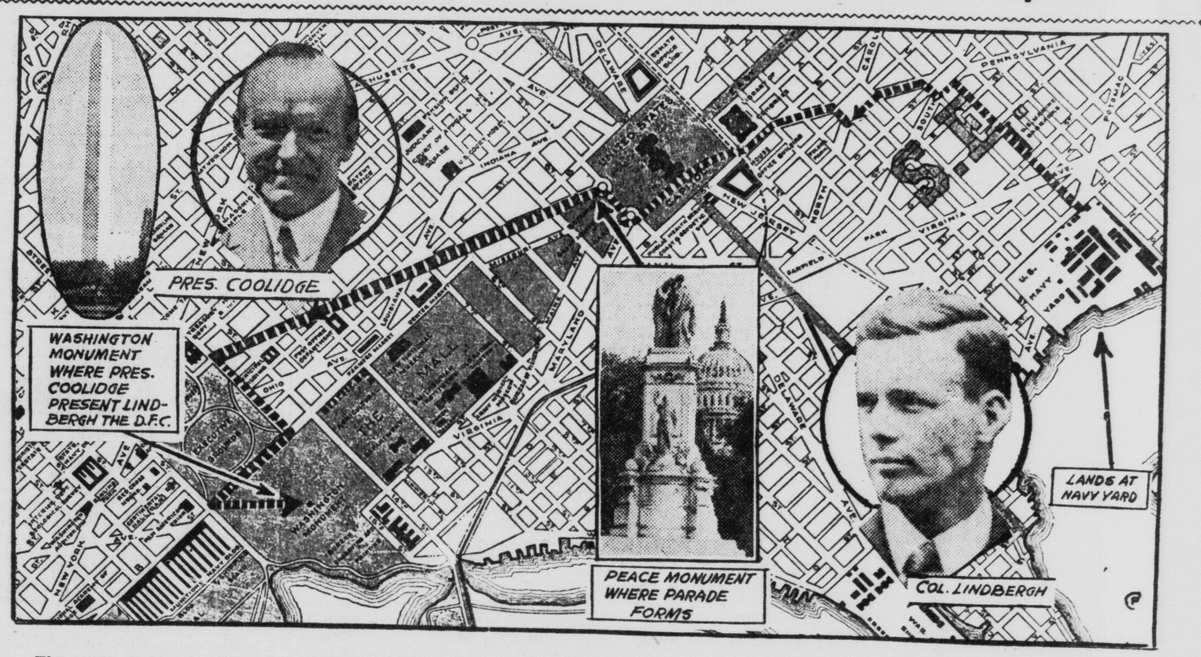
Lindbergh's Triumphal Route Through "His Own" Capital



The artist herewith pictures on the map Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh's tour of triumph through the capital city of his own country—Washington: (1) Met at Navy Yard on arrival of U. S. S. Memphis, previously met at sea by aircraft, bringing him from France; (2) taken with escort along Eighth street to Pennsylvania avenue and B street to the Capitol grounds; (3) there, at the Peace Monument, met by detachments of army, navy and marine units; preceded by these units, with bands, and in brilliant array, along Pennsylvania avenue between cheering crowds, to Fifteenth street, thence along Fifteenth street to B street, thence to Washington Monument and President Coolidge's stand on the Mall; (5) there receiving the first Distinguished Flying Cross ever presented by the United States government.

Air Armada To Greet Memphis This Afternoon

Official U. S. Welcoming Ceremonies Occur Saturday At Capital

PRESIDENT WILL EXTEND GREETING

Lindbergh Unconcerned Over Ordeal; Mrs. Lindbergh In Seclusion

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, June 10. —The drone of motors of a great air armada, music to every aviator, will herald the nation's joyous home-coming for Charles A. Lindbergh today.

While the sleek cruiser Memphis was speeding in a smooth sea with the youthful hero of the New York-to-Paris flight, the welcoming vanguard composed of the giant dirigible Los Angeles, a dozen airplanes and six destroyers, set out to meet her off the Virginia Capes.

Vice Admiral Burrage wirelessed the Navy Department that Lindbergh, scanning the horizon from the bridge of the Memphis, would sight land early in the afternoon.

Welcome to Start

Before sundown he will be well within the waters of Chesapeake Bay, with hundreds of small water craft joining in the welcome that will precede official reception by President Coolidge in behalf of the nation on Saturday.

From the Los Angeles the spick-and-span uniform of the new colonel in the Missouri National Guard will be dropped aboard the Memphis from the Los Angeles, while the first actual contact will be established when Richard E. Blythe, a St. Louis friend, leaves a destroyer to join "Lindy" aboard the cruiser.

Well within her schedule, the Memphis will steam up the historic Potomac at a leisurely pace tonight and deliver Colonel Lindbergh at the Presidential dock in Washington navy yard at 11 o'clock Saturday morning. While is whisked off for a parade and the presentation of the distinguished flying cross by President Coolidge, a dozen skilled mechanics will begin to reassemble the sturdy plane which carried him

WASHINGTON, June 10.—Fair and cooler weather will greet Col. Charles A. Lindbergh when he arrives in Washington tomorrow, the Weather Bureau predicted today.

Even if the weather man is wrong and it rains the celebration for Lindbergh will go ahead on schedule.

Berlin Continues To Heap Honors On American Aviators

FORCED TO APPEAR IN FLYING TOGS

Gifts Of Every Description Pour Into German Capital For Fliers

By O. D. TOLISCHUS,
International News Service Staff Correspondent

BERLIN, June 10. — The municipality of Berlin opened its arms to the American fliers, Clarence Chamberlin and Charles A. Levine, today and offered the two honorary citizenship.

Berlin is not unmindful of the honor extended Dr. Eckener when he arrived in New York, having flown the Dirigible Los Angeles across the ocean, and today's ceremonies were partially as a return of this compliment, but chiefly an enthusiastic effort to demonstrate just how greatly Berlin admires these pioneers of the air.

The enthusiasm for the two fliers does not seem to recede, and Berlin which is naturally an unemotional city has been marked with continued displays and demonstrations that have not been equalled since the war days.

So great is the enthusiasm for the flying men that Berlin refuses

Chamberlin-Levine To Forsake Wives To Keep Good Will In Europe

By H. R. KNICKERBOCKER
International News Service Staff Correspondent

BERLIN, June 10.—The troubles of diplomats today descended upon Clarence D. Chamberlin and Charles A. Levine.

The invitations for the two fliers to visit countries surrounding Germany have become so pressing that it has become evident that unless the invitations are accepted an unpleasant atmosphere of international jealousy will be created.

At the advice of the American embassy Chamberlin and Levine have decided to forego the pleasure of meeting their wives on their arrival at Bremen next week and have accepted invitations which will keep them away from Berlin 10 days or more.

Today the fliers announced they would visit Austria, Czecho-Slovakia and Poland, having definitely promised to visit Warsaw.

Budapest also may be visited by the two airmen following their visit to Vienna.

A program of entertainment is being arranged for Mrs. Levine and Mrs. Chamberlin when they arrive at Bremen on June 17, for at that time their husbands will be in Prague. Lufthansa has offered both women transportation from Bremen to Berlin by air.

When Chamberlin and Levine set out by air for Munich and Vienna on Sunday they will be under an air escort and it is planned to have planes escort them during their entire flight over central Europe.

Young Girl Drowns In River, Was Member Of Graduating Class

(International News Service)
ALTOONA, Pa., June 10—Evelyn Brunnett, 18, a member of this year's graduating class at Central City, vacationing near Everett, Bedford county, was drowned late yesterday while swimming in the Raystown branch of the Juniata river, according to word received here today. Four girl companions and a man failed in an attempt to rescue her. The body was recovered.

School Closes For Vacation

Eleven Thousand Pupils In Public Schools Dismissed For Summer

GREAT PROPORTION GIVEN PROMOTION

Some 11,000 school children of New Castle reported to their teachers for the last time this term when this morning many of them received their promotion certificates and were dismissed for the term.

The teachers remained on duty until they had made out all their final reports and it is likely that most of them will have finished the work of the term by closing time this afternoon.

Dr. Clyde C. Green, superintendent of the New Castle schools says that from a standpoint of promotion the term just closed has been most successful. It is believed that even a larger number than usual have been promoted to higher grades this term. The work of the school has been quite continuous on account of the exceptionally small amount of sickness.

Vacation school will open on Monday morning, June 13 with Principal James M. Hughes in charge.

Jewelry Salesman Robbed In Indiana

(International News Service)
INDIANA, Pa., June 10.—Leaving his automobile unlocked while he went across the street to purchase cigars, S. A. Parish, Chicago jewelry salesman today returned to find that a sample case containing more than $500 worth of silverware had been stolen in his absence.

It is believed the thief sought a case containing $50,000 worth of diamonds and other precious stones which Parish had placed in storage in Pittsburgh before coming to Indiana.

Parish stored the valuables in Pittsburgh when he learned that no jewelers in the Indiana district were in the market for precious stones at the time.

Parachute Jumping Is Most Unpleasant Experience Says Lindy

ON BOARD U. S. CRUISER MEMPHIS, June 10.—(By radio to I. N. S.)—Exactly five years two months and two days from the day of his first flight, Col. Charles A. Lindbergh is returning to the United States acclaimed the world's greatest flier.

"I made my first flight on April 9, 1922," Lindbergh told the International News Service Correspondent today, consulting a little black note book in which he keeps notes on his flying experiences. "With my landing outside of Cherbourg I have flown 1835 hours and 55 mins. This is as nearly accurate as I have been able to estimate, but it is not always possible to keep a flying table to the exact minute.

"I have flown over 35 states, Nova Scotia, Newfoundland, Ireland, France, Belgium, England and Mexico; that is, the Mexican border in 1924. I started flying at the Lincoln, Nebraska, flying school and expect to continue flying for many years over many places.

Parachute Jumps Worst.

"I have been asked many times what were the most unpleasant moments of my flying career. I think I might say they were during the times I was forced to jump from my airplane with a parachute. It is not the sudden jerk; it is not fear that makes it so unpleasant.

"It is the launching into the unknown that is so disagreeable."

This last statement is the keynote to Lindbergh's career. He has always prepared carefully for his

15,000 Employes Of Chicago Surface Lines Vote To Stage Walkout

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, June 10—A street car strike in Chicago appears imminent today with the announcement of union officials that the 15,000 employes of the Chicago surface lines had voted in favor of a walkout unless their demand for a wage increase is met.

Union officials said 98 per cent of the workers had voted and that less than 200 ballots were cast against the strike. The men are demanding a 15 per cent increase in wages.

Officials of the surface lines have stated they would resist the wage increase, even a few cents.

It is believed if the surface line workers go out, the elevated employes will strike in sympathy, thus causing a complete tie-up of the city's transportation system.

Butler Coroner Starts Probe Of Nitro Disaster

Official Investigation Started Today To Determine Cause Of Blast

TWO VICTIMS ARE IN CRITICAL CONDITION

Fund For Relief Of Families Caught By Blast Started By Butler Red Cross

(International News Service)
BUTLER, Pa., June 10.—County Coroner Charles Dengler, today began his official probe to determine the cause of the nitroglycerine explosion at Lick Hill, near here yesterday, in which two men were killed, two persons so seriously injured that they may die and in which 20 homes were wrecked.

The explosion occurred as the truck which was carrying 440 quarts of explosive turned a bend at the end of the village. F. H. Green, 52, driver and Richard Coxson, 20, his assistant, who were instantly killed, were blown to bits and it is believer that few if any parts of their bodies will be found.

Coroner Dengler said today that while every effort will be made to determine the probable cause of the blast, he has but meagre information to work on as the only

The graduates have been passed along to the army of old time grads, and into their place with a smiling face step a new group of lassies and lads. Four years they've worked for commencement week and some of it hasn't been fun, but I hazard a guess that the most of them are rather sorry its done. For out in the world they are going to find that things will be different, quite, and for everything they expect to get, they are going to have to fight. But the training they've had will be back of them to act as a buckler and shield, and a wall of strength when the battles rage, and they feel they must surely yield. They've finished their course and now they must take their place in the old world's play, and may every one find their little niche, its 86 today.

Zoning Board Takes Action In Two Cases

At an executive session of the board of zoning appeals held on Thursday, action was taken in two of the three cases held over at the monthly session on Tuesday.

In the case of Aarel Ferdu, 614 Arlington avenue, who sought permission to construct a new home to the property one in a B residence district, the board refused the appeal and sustained the city engineer in refusing to issue a building permit. The building line in the district is twenty feet back of the property line.

The appeal of M. F. Gosnell, 807 Butler avenue, for permission to construct a building, 30 by 50 feet in the rear of his property and facing the alley, the same to be used as a storage place for furnaces, was granted, providing certain conditions made by the board are respected.

Conditions under which the appeal was granted are, first that the building be constructed at least ten feet from the property line on the alley, second that it be constructed strictly in accordance with the plans and specifications presented to the board in making the appeal, third that no repair or shop work be done on the premises or in the building and fourth that the present building be torn down.

the coming year was appointed by Robert M. Strickler, Jr., president of the county association. They are John P. Lockhart, chairman; S. H. Shaw of the Slippery Rock District, P. W. Griffin of the Mahoning district, George Allen of the Pulaski district, Rev. A. T. Dicks of the Plaingrove district, Rev. A. M. Stevenson of the Ellwood City district and Mrs. R. R. McGeorge of the Wampum district.

Dinner and supper were served in the Enon Valley Community hall by the Willing Workers of the Enon Valley Presbyterian and Disciples churches. Over 600 persons were served by the ladies of the two churches. Special busses were arranged for the transportation of delegates to and from New Castle, Bessemer and other points.

All delegates were urged to make plans for a large delegation from the Lawrence county Sunday schools at the State Sabbath School Convention which is to be held in the Scottish Rite Cathedral in New Castle in October. It is hoped that the county will have over a 1000 delegates at the state convention.

"It Can Be Done"

Rev. L. L. Aber used the expression of Captain Lindbergh when told that the trip from New York to Paris could not be done as his theme. Captain Lindbergh is said to have replied "It can be done" and went ahead and did it. Rev. Aber said that in Sabbath School work many will say that it can't be done, but the people with the spirit of Lindbergh will say, "It Can be Done" and will go ahead and do it.

A very inspiring address was given by Miss Letitia Brown of Ellwood City who spoke about the part of young people in the Sabbath school. She said that the young people wanted to see sincerity in the life of church members about them, that they want to see the church fulfil the spiritual need and thirst of their young lives. She said that the young people want a program of wider scope in the church and Sabbath School and a chance to express themselves by taking a more active part in the church activities, and they expect the program of the church to be simple and yet flexible.

The closing address of the convention delivered by Rev. Welshimer was one full of inspiration to all of the delegates, and was received with real enthusiasm.

across the ocean, and which, on Monday, will carry him to New York for a new demonstration of the nation's enthusiasm.

Holiday Atmosphere

Meanwhile a holiday atmosphere enveloped the national capital, American flags, and occasionally the tri-color of France, Lindbergh pictures, Lindbergh canes and Lindbergh hats all testified to the gala spirit that presages a welcome never exceeded here.

Nor was Mrs. Evangeline Lindbergh, mother of the intrepid young airman, forgotten. Her picture was conspicuously displayed in hundreds of store windows.

Reception committees were enmeshed in a maze of details and harried by thousands demanding the dues of official position and seeking preferred seats for the ceremonies which will be conducted within the shadow of Washington Monument tomorrow afternoon.

See Crowd of 100,000

Police officials said 100,000 people would pack the gentle slopes on the monument grounds, and the constant influx of visitors prompted Brig. Gen. S. D. Rockenbach to order every available soldier to duty in the handling of the crowds. Window space was reported to be selling at a premium along Pennsylvania avenue, through which 3,000 soldiers, marines and bluejackets will escort the young pilot.

"Lindy's" program for Saturday, now virtually complete, includes the parade, presidential reception, dinner at the temporary White House and Minnesota Society and National Press Club receptions.

To Visit Tomb

The flier on Sunday will visit the tomb of the unknown soldier at Arlington, chat with disabled veterans at Walter Reed hospital, probably attend church with President and Mrs. Coolidge, receive the cross of honor of the American Flag Association and attend a reception of the Missouri State Society.

He will leave Washington early Monday morning for New York after breakfasting with the National Aeronautical Association.

The arrival of 21 pursuit planes from Selfridge field, Mich., led by Major Thomas G. Lamphier completed the armada of 85 army, navy, marine corps and mail airplanes which will circle about the Memphis on her way up the Potomac river Saturday.

Distinguished aviators who will personally welcome "Lindy" include Commander Richard Byrd, polar flight; Lieut. Russell L. Maughan, hero of the dawn-to-dusk flight ;Lieut. James H. Doolittle, only man to make an "outside loop"; Commander Albert C. Read, who crossed the Atlantic in the famous NC-4 flight of the navy, and Lieut. Oakley C. Kelly and Lieut. James A. Macready, famous cross-country fliers; Robert Nungesser, brother of Capt. Charles Nungesser, pilot of the ill-fated "White Bird", will be a member of the reception committee.

Lindbergh Is Calm

ABOARD U. S. S. MEMPHIS, June 10.—Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh is not concerned over any controversy as to where he shall land in New York.

"I see there is a good deal of controversy as to the field I shall land on in New York at the end of my flight from Washington" said Lindbergh today. "As far as I am concerned I can find no controversy. I will fly to the field selected by the St. Louis committee. Whatever they decide is all right with me."

As Lindbergh walked the deck there was no indication that he is at all concerned over the receptions which await him. He was as calm as the sea he gazed on. "Isn't it beautiful?" he remarked.

Mother in Seclusion

BALTIMORE, June 10.—Seeking to escape the limelight until her son arrives, Mrs. Evangeline Lindbergh, mother of the "lone eagle" was in seclusion this morning at the Hotel Belvedere here.

Mrs. Lindbergh left a Washington-bound train, just outside Baltimore, and motored to the hotel, thus eluding scores of newspapermen who awaited her at the Baltimore station. The train made an unscheduled stop at a cross street to allow her to alight. She was met by a number of Baltimore friends.

Mrs. Lindbergh plans to go to Washington late this afternoon, where she will be the guest of President and Mrs. Coolidge along with her son, at the temporary White House during her stay in the capital.

flights and considers his trans-Atlantic flight a meticulously planned affair. He went on:

"I have found flying above water smoother and frequently speedier than above land. I have been asked why I flew so low over the English Channel when I was on my way to London from Brussels. My opinion is that it makes no difference whether the aviator is 2,000 feet or 10 feet above water if there is no land in sight. If you are bound to fall a long fall will not help any.

"So far as flying above water or anywhere else is concerned I have no superstition."

Flooded With Invitations.

Lindbergh continues to be flooded with invitations from all parts of the United States. In discussing this situation he said:

"Please tell the American people I appreciate the many invitations sent to me, but it is impossible to answer them all now. I have received hundreds of them while on the Memphis, but it would take a staff as great as that in Paris where the people worked over the messages, sorted them out and answered them to handle affairs here. Please say for me I intend to answer every message received when I reach New York."

At 5 o'clock this morning, daylight saving time, the Memphis was about 265 miles from Cape Henry.

Before daybreak sailors on watch began keeping a lookout for the destroyers that were ordered out to meet and escort the Memphis, including one that was to take moving picture films and other photographs off the cruiser.

On Thursday, despite a stiff breeze, Lindbergh climbed the outrigger of the forward mast and took some pictures.

Lindbergh plans to fly in "The Spirit of St. Louis" from Washington to New York on Monday instead of using a seaplane. He wants his own airplane at New York as he intends to use it for his flight to St. Louis.

The destroyer Humphries met the Memphis this morning and took off the moving picture film that had been taken on board the cruise. The destroyer was first sighted at 5:40 o'clock and drew alongside shortly afterward.

The Memphis stopped her engines at 5:56 a. m., eastern daylight time, and a boat came alongside from the Humphries and took off the motion picture films. The Memphis was under way again at 6:08 a. m. and the Humphries steamed off to the northwest at a speed of 30 knots.

to permit them to even change their clothes, and everywhere they go it is insisted that they appear in the flying togs which they wore across the Atlantic. This despite the fact that both men have consulted tailors and are now quite prepared to appear properly dressed for all occasions.

In addition to the thousands of words of spoken and written praise, both Chamberlin and Levine are burdened down with material indications of Germany's admiration for it seems that almost everyone in Germany has sent some gift to the American embassy for the two fliers.

Chamberlin, however, has been given a unique honor. A brand of Bohemian beer has been named for him, which seems to make it almost certain that his name will be known in Germany long after he has departed and perhaps after greater feats have been accomplished.

For Chamberlin the Berlin visit will take on its greatest interest tomorrow, after the social functions climaxing in a great dance given by the Americans in Germany end tonight. Tomorrow Chamberlin will return to his own world—the world of aviation. He will be under the guidance of the officials of Lufthansa, the Greatest Commercial Airways Transportation company in the world and all of the workings of this rather complicated institution will be demonstrated to the flier. Chamberlin, who is perhaps more of an engineer than a pilot, greatly interested in the problems of commercial flying and he hopes that he may be able to learn many things from Lufthansa which will stand him in good stead when and if he returns to his own business at Teterboro, N. J.

Future Undecided

Cabled offers of every description continue to pour in upon both Chamberlin and Levine, but it now seems definitely settled that only those offers which have to do with aviation will get any consideration from them. Chamberlin's whole thoughts for the future are on the development of aviation and putting the results of his historic flight to advantageous use.

The future route of the fliers after they leave Berlin is not definitely settled, although they expect to visit Vienna, Munich and Prague. Chamberlin is anxious to go to rome to meet Premier Mussolini and to study Italian aviation and perhaps pay some small tribute to the nation which gave birth to Giuseppe Bellanca, builder of the plane which Chamberlin flew across the ocean.

SPEEDING CHARGED.

VALUABLE THUMB!

"Mow, madam," demanded the attorney for the defense in a compensation case, "can you prove that the thumb you lost in this accident was worth $5,000?"

"It was the thumb," retorted plaintiff, "under which I kept my husband."

TURNING THE TABLES

A member of a congregation, becoming angry at a sermon the minister was preaching, wrote the single word, "Fool," on a sheet of paper, called an usher to him and had it delivered to the minister in the middle of his sermon.

The minister opened the paper and read what was written, then he said: "An unusual thing has happened. A member of the congregation has signed his name without writing the letter."

DINNER STORIES

A rather deaf lady found herself sitting beside a surgeon at dinner. She asked: "Should I call you Dr. T——— or Mr. T———?"

"Call me what you like, madam," he replied and added, genially: "Some of my friends call me an old fool."

"Ah," she rejoined, not hearing correctly what he had said, but anxious to be pleasant, "those are the people who know you intimately!"

He'd Figured It Out

The marriage had just been consummated. The high-powered young business man groom turned to the preacher. "Well, what do I owe you?"

"Ah—er—whatever you think it's worth."

"Good enough and a fair proposition. I'll give you fifteen per cent of her earnings for the next year, less her cost to me."

ANOTHER FLORIDA JOKE

Poor Bill was dead; a stranger in a strange land. The hat was passed for a simple but decent funeral and one of the contributors, a local realtor, was called upon to make appropriate remarks.

"My Friends," he began, "we are gathered together to pay our last respects to a departed brother. But you don't know anything about Bill and I don't know anything about him; so I will take occasion to say a few words about our wonderful Florida climate!"

witnesses were killed. State police are of the opinion that the exact cause of the tragedy will never be known.

Believe Truck Hit Rut

Officials of the Bowers Torpedo Company, of Oil City, from which place the nitro-glycerine was being transported to Butler for use in "shooting" gas wells, said today that they believed that the truck struck a rut in the road and the shock of the contact set off the explosive.

A fund for relief of the victims was being raised today by the Red Cross in Butler and vicinity. Soon after the blast the Red Cross established a relief station at Lick Hill to render aid. Mayor George Bob Wick, of Butler, estimated the property damage in excess of $100,000.

Butler Memorial Hospital reported the condition of the seven seriously injured victims as unchanged. Mrs. E. H. Rettig and Mrs. Sadie Arnold were the most seriously injured. Their condition is grave.

Several large families lost most of their belongings when their homes were wrecked. They are being taken care of by more fortunate neighbors.

CONCRETE SEWER PIPE IS BEING UNLOADED

Six car loads of four foot concrete sewer pipe to be used in the extension of the Lutton street storm sewer on the section of the street east of Mill street, is now being unloaded by the contractor at the East Side freight station of the P. and L. E. They are attracting considerable attention owing to their large size and weight. z

LEAGUE BALL TEAM IN NEW CASTLE

WHILE some recognition has been given in the past to the New Castle I. A. A., the organization that has been sponsoring the O. & P. League baseball team in this city for the past two years, there is a much more credit due to this organization for what it is doing to keep New Castle to the fore.

This organization has invested a large sum of money in the erection and maintenance of a ball park, known as Centennial field, and in keeping the O. & P. League team in this city.

Due to the miserable weather conditions so far this season, the matter of keeping a ball team on the field representing this city in the league has been more difficult than ever. The project of running a ball team, as representative of the city in this league, is not one that is covered with financial profit, even in the best of weather conditions and patronage, and the organization is certainly deserving of the aid of the community in the effort at the present time.

The New Castle I. A. A. members are interested in baseball. They are likewise interested in New Castle. They believe that it means something to the advancement of New Castle to be represented in this league. They are doing their best with the handicaps faced, to give New Castle a worthy team. During the recent games the team shows that it has hit a winning stride, even though good baseball has been played during the entire season, but the breaks were against the nine.

With indications for good baseball weather, and with the league leading Massilon team here as opponents on Saturday, the grandstand and bleachers should be packed to overflowing by New Castle citizens who are not only interested in having league baseball in the city, but who are interested in aiding the team and the organization sponsoring it at this time.

Members of the organization backing the team have invested their own funds in an effort to keep New Castle on the baseball map. Citizens of New Castle have appreciated this action and the fact that New Castle has had a league ball team, but have been too willing to "Let George Do It."

Let's all turn in and give a hand in this situation.

HITTING A PROPER NOTE

ONE thing above all else that impressed us throughout the commencement proceedings of the New Castle high school senior class, which have just been concluded, was the emphasis that the students placed up their interest in their home town and its development.

It might have done some of the critics of New Castle a world of good to have heard these New Castle enthusiasts and the nice things that they found it fitting to say about New Castle.

Likewise, it demonstrated that the three hundred or more students who are stepping out to add their influence to the progress of New Castle are to be on the right side.

Their enthusiasm is a factor of importance. That this enthusiasm is to be directed towards advancement of their home town and the progress of its worthy institutions is received with gratification by those who are interested in this little progressive city.

LINDBERGH HAS TACT

COLONEL LINDBERGH'S decision to cut short his European visit was wisely taken. A good time to leave hospitable shores is when enthusiasm and welcome show no sign of abating. There is a limit to human capacity to maintain the fever of exaltation which has greeted Lindbergh and he exercised good judgment in not awaiting its subsidence—a possible anticlimax to a historic event as yet unmarred by a single untoward incident.

A flight which at first was viewed chiefly as an adventure has turned out to be something far greater, and his countrymen have been profoundly touched as well as gratified by seeing an American boy amaze and win the world as much by his manliness and his splendid bearing under a most trying ordeal as by his great exploit.

This youthful aviator seems almost too good to be true. In his refusal to capitalize many opportunities for large financial gains by questionable though customary methods, he has shown possession of ideals which make his compatriots the more proud of him. He is America's best answer to Europe's charge of materialism.

However, Lindbergh has his own future to look after, and it is hoped that he will not forfeit the rewards he has well earned. These considerations could well await his return home.

There are not many Americans who would have dared attempt Lindbergh's lonely and hazardous flight, but one suspects that the majority of that number, had they made it, would capitalize on it to the limit.

A checkered career leads to a striped suit.

The perfect lover doesn't have any time left to make a living.

We feel that if everybody in this country except ourselves can be regulated we'll get along all right.

The one high record that wins no applause is that made by the thermometer.

TODAY'S STORYETTE

An advertising manager was going home on a trolley car. It was late and the man who sat next to him began to talk. "What business are you in?" he asked.

"The advertising business."

"Is that so? I used to be in the advertising business myself. I gave it up, though, and went into the rag-and-old-bottle business. I was a sandwich man for a theater for six months. Say", and he leaned over confidentially, "ain't it hard work when the wind blows?"

A married man simply has to do what a single man should around the corner looking for the spittoon". True, but probably they would be married men, properly trained not to spit on the floor, much less on the golden street.

Dear Hints: Frequently we hear people say that moths eat holes in clothes. This gives me an idea. If moths are so fond of eating holes, why not feed them on the holes in the doughnuts, which aren't any good for anything else, and thus save clothes and money?

SHE GOT WELL IN A HURRY

A woman lay very ill, and not expected to recover. Calling an orphan girl she had raised to young womanhood, she said to the girl:

"I shall soon leave my little children motherless. They know you and love you, and after I am gone I want you to marry my husband."

The young woman burst into tears. "We had just been talking about that", she sobbed.

The woman recovered.

The next thing for Ford and other auto makers to work on is an automobile that will carry its own parking place.

Scientists have invented a new color-matching machine and thus it is made easier for women to harmonize their new scarfs with their black-bottom hose.

Someone has made an estimate that only 6,000,000 people in America play bridge. We had gotten the idea from what we have seen and heard that only a few hundred really played bridge—the others merely try it.

Army officials announce they have realized over half a million dollars from the sale of waste and junk in the past six months. At this rate the disarmament conferences will at least pay their own expenses.

The meanest jury in the world is that one in Boston that drank a quart bottle of claret to discover if it was genuine and then brought in a verdict of guilty because the defendant had it in his possession.

It may be a trifle soft and squashy in spots, but politicians must remember that it is still the solid South. And the next election will prove it, too.

Since Captain Lindbergh's one-man feat in flying across the Atlantic, there has been less and less said here about the one-man street cars.

If only, in these superficial times, there was some way to give the dictionary sex appeal.

There are better reasons than just booze for going to Canada, and it is too bad that everyone who goes there will have to be stamped as a booze seeker. We'd be a little timid about going there now, for we wouldn't want to get a reputation for buying some of that stuff that many people seem to want.

The Perry highway, so we are told, is to be built during the present administration, and it is to be an 18-foot highway. That is good news and that highway is a straight one and when completed will be some pike for the speed boys to open up on.

No more pencils, no more books—you know the rest, and the children of school-age are beginning to sing it. It's all over for the children for several months.

Hints and Dints

Sun sets tonight 7:30. Sun rises tomorrow 4:28.

Instead of installing our windmills out in the open, as they do in Holland, we elect ours to political office.

A gentleman by the name of A. Sapp has been elected president of International Rotary. What a chance for the wisecrackers!

A success is a man who picked out the right kind of habits.

Babies are being named after the trans-Atlantic flyers. Remember when they named babies after Dewey and Hobson?

We notice an item where the state health authorities are going to inspect roadside eating places in the country. We would like to suggest that the hands of those who handle the hot doggies for sale be given a real inspection. We never eat at roadside hash places, but others do.

The final hard test of gentility is to keep your temper while dealing with somebody you can lick.

A plane carrying a weight of over seven tons is scheduled to fly across the Atlantic. It will be well to keep out from under that. It's getting so we cannot believe our eyes and ears any more.

One of the things that a flyer to Europe is sure to get is a drink of the real stuff, if he wants it. Some have refused the cup when it was handed to them, strange as that may seem to some.

Detectives complain that it is harder to catch crooks now because citizens protect them and they also can make their getaway easier in high-powered automobiles. We can see that it is much harder to enforce the law and the officers cannot be blamed much when they fail.

Really, it is remarkable to note the number of wrinkles worn by some of the young ladies who tell you they have seen less than 30 summers.

There are friends who are real friends; then there are friends who are friends today and foes tomorrow.

Perhaps you have noticed that the penitentiaries are full of fellows who work hard—to escape honest toil.

Judge Gary favors laboratory tests for criminals, penetrating their mental workings and digging deep into their thoughts. It sure would be nice to dig into the mental workings of those who have desires to use guns and window sash weights. The judge may be right at that if this is all done in jail.

Most New Castle men are musicians. At least they have learned to play second fiddle.

Have you phoned Mr. Berquist yet and told him the part you are going to play in furnishing the eats for his big picnic for the kiddies on June 23? He will need a trainload of stuffing, so you are asked to help. He just has to have enough grub.

Do you remember when we always got ready for a big June flood in New Castle? Them was not the good old days.

Fresh air is all right, but there is such a thing as carrying it to extremes. I am told of a fresh air fiend up in Croton who changes the air in his automobile tires every morning, arguing that a tire will live longer on fresh air, just like a human being.

Do you ever do anything to help the New Castle baseball club along? We have a good club here and it needs your support now. Go to some of the games, at least.

We would like to have someone tell us how New Castle is going to get rid of the traffic congestion and still keep it all right in the downtown districts? Someone tell us that.

TWINKLING

Twinkle, twinkle, little dress;
You're already, I confess,
Up above her knees so high
You'll be higher by and by.
—Newark Advocate.

Twinkle, twinkle, little dress;
You are short, I do confess.
Darn it, you can't take a flyer
And expect to get much higher.
—Hastings Tribune.

Twinkle, twinkle, little dress;
You are climbing, I'll confess;
But you should do nothing rash
Or you'll turn into a sash!
—Courier-Journal.

Twinkle, twinkle, little dress;
Ever growing less and less,
You no longer seem to please
Those who would prefer fig leaves.

The wives of the two flyers who flew to Germany are on their way to meet their husbands, and they have about fifteen thousand dollars in their jeans—or wherever they keep their cash. We are betting that they do some shopping in Paris before they start back home.

A chap asked us yesterday what he could give a couple for a wedding present that will make a big show. We told him we thought a load of hay was the thing to do that.

Our idea of one of the best improvements that can be made in New Castle is paving the street at the end of the pavement on Sampson street. This leads to the garbage furnace and we are betting it has cost the city many times the cost of paving this in wear and tear on garbage trucks. St. Mary's cemetery is also out further on this road and we owe it to the dead that are taken their to make this road easier, even if they do not know it. Those living who go there will appreciate it a lot.

The fellow who looks out for the fellow ahead of him when he is driving an automobile is doing a lot to make driving safer. He will find it will help him a lot in court also when some bird rams him from the rear.

We read of a woman who killed a bear with a rolling pin, and there are some single men who wonder why husbands obey their wives.

Last year an average of one prescription to every nine persons was issued by the doctors in the United States. So it seems that there are not as many people in the United States getting liquor as some of the people would believe. We have been told that everybody patronizes the doctors, but eight out of nine don't.

That member of the legislature who has entered college at the age of 37 deserves the warmest encouragement. Who knows but what his example will be followed by some of his colleagues.

Communists, anarchists, nihilists used to blow up czars and grand dukes or try to. New friends of czardom adopt the method, bombing and shooting Communists that have taken the czar's place and power. Now comes news that the Communists' debating club in Lenigrad had been sent into the air by two bombs, twenty six hurt. Previous dispatches told that M. Voikoff, Bolshevik minister to Poland, had been murdered by an advocate of czardom.

Bolshevism is sensitive to these attacks as were the czars of old. The fact that Voikoff, said to have signed the czar's death warrant, was murdered in Poland, may cause trouble for Europe. It was "the crime of Serajevo," killing the heir to the Austrian throne, that started the great World war.

It is said "murder never changed the course of history." But it sometimes hurries things along.

Uncle Sam will soon make a "financial statement" reading about as follaws:

Assets of the United States, Alaska, Philippines, Hawaii, other territory, and public schools.

"Income, more than a hundred billions a year, wealth beyond calculation, debts none."

Ogden Mills, assistant to Secretary Mellon, tells the bankers' association that since 1919 the national debt has been reduced by $6,611,000,000, from $25,484,000,000 to $18,873,000,000.

Last year the treasury paid off $873,000,000 of debt and with the fiscal year ending this month the net payment will run over one billion.

London believes the Prince of Wales will marry a Spanish princess, the Infanta Beatrice, relation of British royalty. That is not as important to Great Britain as some marriages of which you will never hear. The royal marriage will decide the character of a king of England. The obscure marriage, perhaps that of a coal miner, or even a despised "tradesman" will decide the character of a future British premier who will tell the son of the Prince of Wales what to do and what to say.

Jack Pickford pleansantly arranged to let Miss Marilyn Miller divorce him, and leaving for Paris, divorce bent, says, "Marilyn and I are perfectly friendly." They are just tired of being married to each other, that's all.

Such a condition shocks many. Others are shocked by the suggestion that men and women should continue living together after they cease to like, and even begin to hate each other.

Those who believe that marriages are made in heaven will naturally object to their being ended in Paris.

Whoever does the things a second time, no matter how well he does it, suffers by comparison. This applies to Levine and Chamberlin. But, if they carry out a plan they suggest, and fly back to the United States, they will be alone in their class, the only "round trip" Atlantic flyers.

The President may call a special session of Congress for October, to take up the Mississippi flood disaster and the prevention question. The sooner prevention is discussed and arranged the better. The American Congress and people have a great faculty for forgetting—even a two billion-dollar calamity and 700,000 people being made homeless.

Rich men suggested a $2,000,000 fund to be invested for Lindbergh to take care of him the rest of his days. Lindbergh says he doesn't want it, rather believes he will be able to take care of himself the rest of his days.

It is difficult for many of us to imagine anything better than two million dollars except three million dollars. But Lindbergh has managed to find something better in the excitement of real achievement.

E. N. Hurley of Chicago suggests as a monument to Lindbergh, the highest tower in the world, with a light on it, to guide airplanes and visible 300 miles away. It's a good suggestion to make, "Lead, Kindly Light," a practical part of earthly life in this flying age.

In years to come, air roads far above clouds will be marked at regular intervals by balloon light houses floating in the air, each with just enough "power" to keep it in the right place. The lighthouse keeper will be a navigator sticking to one place in the sky with the north pole, his compass and other instruments to keep him "on location."

In Day's News

Left school at thirteen, became an apprentice boilermaker, a trade union leader, a politician, a lawyer, and was made a Cabinet Minister at twenty-eight—that is the record of W. J. McKell, Minister of Justice of New South Wales, whose maxim for success is this: "Life is a bank. You only get out of it what you put into it." Mr. McKell had to leave school to keep his widowed mother and three younger children. He started in a drug store, but soon exchanged that occupation for boilermaking. Before long he was secretary of his union. At twenty-five he was elected to the Legislative Council winning a seat from a former Premier who had held it before Mr. McKell was born. He was studying law all this time, and three years later he was made Minister of Justice of New South Wales—before he had even been admitted to the bar.

"Oh, they git along like a couple o' Vanderbilts. He's somewheres, an' I don't know where she is," I heard a woman say t'day. You should have seen Constable Plum pick up his ears when he heard Mrs. Ike Lark say she'd jest wired her husband.

MORAL MOVIES

I go to movies a good deal and I have yet to see one that I regard as distinctly immoral, urless it may be something imported from Europe.

Col. J. C. Weedgewood, a member of Parliament in England, says that, "the stuff we get from America is almost too moral—they are the most straight-laced people in the universe, in fact they are too much of the Gene Stratton Porter type. Don't let us shut down the only stream of sound, moral influence coming into our country."

He says the British must get away from the idea that American films are immoral. They are dull, he claims, perhaps, and sentimental, sloppy sob stuff, but never immoral.

My own observation leads me to believe that Americans are more particular about the moral quality of their entertainment than any other people. In any country in Europe things are exhibited on the stage and screen that people in America would not stand for.

All this talk about a movie censorship is aside from the mark because the producers know that the public will not stand for immorality, and the public is where the money comes from. The best censor is the opinion of the man who pays the bills.

At bottom, the American public is sound and sane.

Mr. Babbitt may excite the risibility of Sinclair Lewis and H. L. Mencken but at least he is a decent chap and he does not want his family polluted by European importations coming in to pander to the lowest elements of humanity under the highsounding title of "art."

Americans are characterized by the fact that they have more bath tubs per capita than any other nation. They are also morally cleaner. They don't care for dirt in whatever form it comes. And while there is a certain element that is always attracted by suggestive things the great body of the people does not like them.

Aside from Lulu Bell, which is about the most uselessly immoral performance I ever saw, plays and books and movies that appeal to a depraved moral sense are not continuously prosperous.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

GREAT CHARITIES.

When Frank Munsey died it was found that he had left his entire estate to the Metropolitan Musem of Art of New York City. The value of his estate was estimated at forty million. When Henry E. Huntington of California died recently it was found that he had given his entire Library and Collection of Art to the public, and this gift is estimated to be worth at least fifty million. So much for Art.

The late Henry E. Huntington's estate, however, did not consist alone of his Library and Art Gallery. His will provides among other things that two million dollars shall be set aside for a Memorial Hospital to his Uncle, the late Colliss P. Huntington, and a son who predeceased him, Howard Huntington.

To show how much attention wealthy men and women are now giving to the establishment of hospitals, the will of the late Mary Ann Fitzgerald of New York City leaves a sum estimated between four and five million, being half of her estate, to St. Luke's Hospital, New York City. Money can not be put to a finer use than in this manner. The building and endowing of great hospitals means the relief of suffering men and women. It means the prolonging of the life span of the human race. It means more happiness to the human.

New Castle was particularly fortunate in being the recipient of such a gift as was made to it by the date David Jameson. May other men in New Castle follow in his footsteps and add to Mr. Jameson's gift, and eventually establish in New Castle a hospital having no equal in the State—one that will provide not only the necessities, but the luxuries of a great hospital, the doors of which will always swing wide for the reception of all the sick and afflicted—the poorest of New Castle citizens.

VICTORY

Not in skill alone,
Not in wisdom clever,
Victory is known,
Not in high endeavor.

Not the power to earn
Fortune's golden pieces
Brings life the best return
When the struggle ceases.

Not the richest dress,
Not the arm that's strongest
Bring to man success
Which endures the longest.

Not in ring or mart
Man achieves his glory,
Something of the heart
Must be in his story.

Something of the soul
Others can inherit
Must, beyond his goal,
Be his badge of merit.

Friends must share his prize
Friends his path must follow,
Love must light his eyes
Or the victory's hollow.

LIFE'S LITTLE AGONIES

The little boy dashed wildly around the corner and collided with the benevolent old gentleman, who inquired the cause of such haste.

"I gotta get home for maw to spank me", the boy panted.

"Bless my soul", exclaimed the old gentleman, "I can't understand you're being in such haste to be spanked."

"I ain't. But if I don't get there 'fore paw, he'll give me the lickin'."

OBSERVATIONS BY THE WAY

Boston has banned "An American Tragedy" from book stores. This action seems to me to be fully as stupid as the book itself. I have hardly been so bored in the reading of a book as when I conscientiously waded through the two volumnes of Drieser's masterpiece. But tediousness has never been a crime in Boston, up to this time.

The most deplorable result of the Snyder murder and trial, it seems to me, is the depressing effect upon the stocks of Womanhood, Preferred. Men have always cherished the belief that there are some things no woman would do. Unthinking men, the world around, have been saying, silently enough, perhaps, "Well, that's the way with these women." Unjust? Very. But also unfortunate.

The biggest noon-day crowds along Broadway are drawn by two buttermilk shops. In the heart of the high rent area, large store rooms on the ground floor have been leased, and a clever exploitation man has devised a ballyhoo scheme for bringing in the crowds. A dozen or more servers are kept busy, dipping up the buttermilk, which is consumed by carload every day. And the very word buttermilk brings to my mind the weary evening job I used to perform on a Kansas farm. After the day's work was over, it fell to my lot to carry the buttermilk in large pails from the house to the hog-pen. In those days we used to feel thankful to the hogs for the service they performed in drinking up the buttermilk.

Someone writes to ask what languages should be studied by a pupil who is to enter high school next fall. I believe a pupil who likes the study of language should learn as many languages as he has opportunity to study, and that those who cannot learn languages but like mathematics should waste no more time on language than the rules require. Of all languages, I believe English is far and away the most important, and that Spanish is next in order of importance for American pupils of today

Sealer Brown Declares Many Public Scales Do Not Weigh Correctly

Those who think themselves becoming stout and attempt to reduce should not rely on the slot weighing machines found in different parts of the city according to W. A. Brown, inspector of weights and measures of Lawrence county.

For Mr. Brown states that most of the machines are incorrect and vary anywhere from 1 to 7 pounds. Out of nine machines tested yesterday only two could be approved, all others were condemned. If a child of 20 pounds weight were weighed on a certain set of scales he would be shown to weigh only 17 pounds while if he was placed on the scales at another and a penny dropped into the slot it would show that he weighed 22 1-2 pounds, having gained 5 1-2 pounds toddling along the six intervening blocks.

A woman recently who was endeavoring to work off some surplus (?) pounds weighed herself on apparently good scales and found that she had lost 5 pounds as she stepped upon the corner of the platform of the scales. Rejoicing, she returned the next day and was shocked to find that not only had she gained back the five pounds but had added another four. On Examination of the scales it was found that they were off one pivot and it made all the difference in the world on what part of the platform one stood.

Special Program

The following program will be had at the St. Luke A. M. E. Zion church. Rev. C. D. Henderson will preach on Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock, and his choir will render several musical numbers. At the evening services Rev. Laster of the Bethel Baptist church of Woodlawn, Pa., will be the speaker and music by St. Lukes choir. On Monday night Rev. M. T. Laster will preach and the choir from St. Paul Baptist church will render the music.

On Tuesday night Rev. W. W. Nelson, accompanied by his choir and congregation will lay the crowning stone upon our effort.

Sunday Program.

Union Baptist church will have a Children's Day program on Sunday. The Sunday school will have charge of the program during the day. The young people will be given an opportunity to exercise their potential gifts in conducting church services.

At 11 a. m. there will be a special sermon to young people by the pastor, Rev. C. D. Henderson. At 8 p. m. a program will be given.

The committee in charge include Mrs. C. D. Henderson, Mrs. Lulu Smith, Miss Bessie Freeman, Miss Lillian Jobs, Miss Daisy Fears, pianist.

SHARE HONORS AT DINNER PARTY

Teachers of the West Side school entertained at dinner Thursday noon at the school, in honor of Miss Maude Montogomery, who is leaving the New Castle schools and Miss Martha Hasely a bride-elect of this summer.

Color tones of pink and white were tastefully carried out in the table appointments, with peonies and roses as a centerpiece.

Both honor guests were presented with lovely gifts.

Honored at Reception

Mrs. Clarence Dodds of Edinburg entertained at a reception in their home Thursday evening honor Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Hoyland, a recent bride and groom and Mr. and Mrs. Wilford Hoyland. The honored couples were presented with many lovely gifts, and chests of silver. Special orchestra music was furnished during the evening.

Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Edward Hoyland and Mrs. Herbert Hoyland.

The guests included Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Yoho, Mr. and Mrs. Edwar Hoyland and daughter Bernice, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Hoyland and son Junior, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hoyland and son George, Mrs. H. L. Ritchey, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Dodds and daughters Mildred and Elwina, Mrs. N. A. Hoyland, Mr. and Mrs. Irwin Tate and son Paul, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Hoyland and Mr. and Mrs. Wilford Hoyland and daughter Ruth.

Beth Shalom Sisterhood

Members of the Beth Shalom Sisterhood had an interesting meeting at the Beth Shalom Center Thursday evening. Reports from the various committee chairmen were heard and the president, Mrs. Eli Kaplan, expressed her appreciation for the co-operation she had received during the year.

Opening prayer was read by Mrs. H. Klivans.

A fine report was heard from the musical recently given by the Sisterhood.

An interesting paper on "Shevuoth", or "Feast of Weeks", was read by Mrs. M. Samuels. This celebrates the revelation of the Decalogue and the birth of Judaism at Mount Sinai, and is the holiday which is observed by the Jews from Sunday at the setting of the sun until Tuesday evening.

A social hour followed and refreshments were served by the committee, with Mrs. Louis Sandler in charge.

Gaston S. S. Reunion.

Eleventh annual reunion of the Gaston Sunday school was held Wednesday at Cascade park with about 60 members attending.

Colorado Slayers Witness Building Of Death House

Murderers Spend Last Few Days On Earth Watching Death House Erection

(International News Service)

CANON CITY, Colo., June 10.—The last days on earth of Arthur Osborn and Ray Noakes, 25-yer-old Colorado ranch lads, are being spent watching workmen erect a new "death house" at the state penitentiary here in which the two youths will be led to their death by hanging sometime during the week of June 26.

The cells occupied by Osborn and Noakes look out upon the site of the new lethal chamber.

Osborn and Noakes were convicted of the murder of Fred Selak, a Grand county hermit. The old man, believed to heve been the possessor of a great horde of wealth inhis lonely mountain cabin, was found hanged to a pine tree. The cabin had been ransacked, but the convicted slayers declared they found but a small pittance hidden away.

An odd coincidence of the infliction of the death penalty upon Osborn and Noakes was brought to light today when it was disclosed that Boon Best, recently appointed warden of the state penitentiary and who will have charge of arrangements for the execution of the two men, cast the deciding vote in favor of capital punishment when an effort was made ten years ago to repeal the hanging law.

The vote on the repeal measure was tied in the lower house of the general assembly, when Boon Best, speaker of that body, arose, and amid the death-like silence of scores of women who had been lobbying for the repeal, announced his vote against the repeal.

Child Is Burned To Death As Home Is Prey To Fire

(International News Service)

OIL CITY, Pa., June 10. — Richard, 17-months-old son of John Gardner, a farmer living near Bully Hill, Pa., was burned to death Thursday when flames destroyed the two-story residence while the parents were working in a field.

The Gardners were unable to account for the fire. They said the house was in flames when they discovered the blaze, and they were unable to reach the child before it was fatally burned.

The child was the grandson of Ex-Sheriff E. M. Voorhies of Venango county. Bully Hill is near Franklin.

Sun Spot Is Visible To Naked Eye Now, Astronomer Reports

WILLIAMS BAY, Wis., June 11. —The huge sun spot, which has been studied by astronomers at the Yerkes observatory here since its appearance several days ago, is larger today and more conspicuous, according to Dr. E. B. Frost, head of the institution.

It is visible to the protected naked eye, in the center of the sun as it now faces the earth, and will be for five or six days.

Its only probable effect upon the earth would be hindering of telegraphic, radio and cable communication in event of a magnetic storm, Dr. Frost said.

Future Commerce In Air May Develop Along New Lines, Is Wright's View

By COPELAND C. BURG
International News Service Staff Correspondent

CHICAGO, Ill., June10.—Transoceanic flights despite the sensational New York to Paris dash of Captain Charles Lindbergh and the Chamberlin hop to Berlin are still matters for the future in the opinion of that history-making aviator, Orville Wright.

Wright, whose airplane in 1913 made the first flight in history, while giving Lindbergh credit for an epochal achievement, declared in an interview in Chicago that trans-oceanic flights as yet are hardly practicable.

"Transoceanic flying must await the time until our instruments have been perfected to a degree where such navigation is shorn of its elements of uncertainty," Wright declared. "One drifts too easily so far off the course that there is yet no comparison between safe aerial navigation and marine sailing."

Lindbergh's Feat

Lindbergh's feat eclipsed the dreams of pioneer aviators, Wright stated and to him the principal contribution of the daring young American was showing what may be done in aerial navigation.

"When Wilbur Wright, my brother, and I made our first flights we believed the airplane would develop along somewhat different lines that it has," Wright declared. "We saw its future as a vehicle for sportsmen and for exploring unknown and then inaccessible parts of the globe.

"Discovery of the North Pole by plane was the first in our list of possibilities. Then came the delivery of mail to isolated spots. We also saw the possibilities of the plane in military science, but as a great commercial proposition aviation seemed to us to hold no high promise.

Works Out Differently

"Peary discovered the pole in the old fashioned way and mail is being carried not so much to issolated places as to metropolitan areas. And finally the commercial possibilities of the plane have far-outshadowed its use as a sport vehicle."

Wright said he had the highest regard for Captain Lindbergh and declared his daring trip to Paris from Manhattan will always be one of the high lights of aviation.

He said the interest manifested in Lindbergh's successful jump across the Atlantic proved even more intense than the most enthusiastic backers of aviation had expected.

Fulfills Terms Of Annual Lease

(International News Service)

LEBANON, Pa., June 10.—By payment of a red rose to Miss Florence Mish, descendant of George Steitz, who in 1760 rented a building site to the Tabor Reformed Church here, the congregation has fulfilled the terms of its annual lease.

Steitz stipulated in the original lease that the contract was to be renewed annually by payment of one red rose to himself or heirs, which was to be annual rental for the plot of ground.

Miss Mish accepted the rose at a ceremony held at the church, at which Rev. John B. Stoudt, of Allentown was the principal speaker.

Boston To Build New Municipal Auditorium

(International News Service)

BOSTON, June 10.—A municipal auditorium to be erected at a cost of $5,000,000 is proposed for Boston.

Mayor Malcolm Nichols is among the staunchest of the supporters in the movement to obtain the auditorium which is recognized as Boston's most needed municipal improvement.

With the recent completion of a group of hotels that compare favorably with those found in the leading cities of the world Boston bids fair to become a convention city. The only stumbling block for those who desire to have conventions come here is the difficulty in finding seating capacity for the many delegates to large conventions.

An incentive to speedy action in the erection of an auditorium is the 300th anniversary of the settlement of Boston which will be observed with the most elaborate program ever undertaken in New England.

The auditorium plan is favored by the Chamber of Commerce and practically all of the civic and fraternal organizations of the city and with municipal support seems inevitable.

Education itself is nothing; it all depends on what use you make of it.

Missouri's Fourth Of July To See First Legalized Boxing Matches

By JERRY QUISENBERRY
International News Service Staff Correspondent

KANSAS CITY, Mo., June 10.—Missouri will celebrate the coming fourth of July with doubled enthusiasm, for on that date the state will enjoy its first legalized boxing shows.

The newly created Missouri boxing commission, meeting for its first session, has just extended an invitation to organizations wishing to sponsor bouts on Independance Day, asking them to apply for tentative permits, so that the commission may approve the bouts and have everything in readiness when the new boxing law goes into effect on July 3.

Under New Law

The new law was passed by the state legislature at its last session. It legalizes 10-round, no-decision bouts and authorizes the commission to license civic, benevolent or religious organizations to conduct the shows. The commission is now drawing up regulations governing the staging of the bouts and will have these all prepared for fistiana's legal debut in the Showme state on Independance Day.

Despite the fact boxing shows were formerly illegal in Missouri, sport fans in Kansas City and St. Louis have nearly always been able to see professional bouts. In St. Louis the "club" plan has been put to successful use, the organization staging the bout selling "memberships" instead of tickets. In Kansas City boxing enthusiasts need only to cross the state line into their neighbor city, Kansas City, Kan., to enjoy a good fistic show.

New Sport Interest

In each case, however, there has always been attendant disadvantages and inconveniences and the coming of the new regime will be in the sport throughout the state, it is predicted.

Chester L. Brewer, athletic director of the University of Missouri and chairman of the commission, said the Missouri body would make a thorough digest of the boxing laws of other states and work with these states to prevent blacklisted fighters from coming into Missouri or going from this state to others.

TROOP 13

Lions troop 13 met last night in the home of Peter Grittie, Scoutmaster. The main talk for the evening was about the Camporee. A large number of scouts were present.

Two new members were voted into the troop, Selvio Crespi, and Rocco Monico. The meeting consisted of practice for the Camporee. Bud Mote was elected second assistant scoutmaster. Wilbur Robbison passed his tenderfoot test and received his badge. The meeting was in charge of Scoutmaster Peter Grittie, Assistant Jack Grittie, and second Assistant Bud Mote.

The following scouts have signed up for camp for this season: Jim Hannon, Robert Wallace, Richard Wallace, Trenton Eckles, Kenneth Clark, John Severa, Edgar Graham, Andrew Eve Thomas Grittie, Lynn White, Howard Kelso and Clair Kelso.

TROOP 14 DEMONSTRATION

All members of the Y. W. C. A. troop 14 wish to thank all who had any part in making the concert and demonstration given by the troop last night at the Union Baptist church the great success it was. Mr. Dye, a Deputy Commissioner, Rev. Bell, Rev. C. A. Henderson, Miss Cora Ritchie and several others are given special thanks for the part they took in the program.

An announcement has been made that tickets are now going on sale for the three-act comedy that will be staged by members of the troop in the very near future.

American Minister To Ireland To Have Most Beautiful Home

(International News Service)

DUBLIN, June 10.—When the first American Minister to Ireland arrives here in July he will occupy the second most beautiful residence in Dublin, the old Chief Secretary's Lodge in Phoenix Park, adjoining the residence of the Rt. Hon. Timothy Healy, the Governor-General.

The house is being leased to the Minister by the Government for three months, the agreement being that if he is satisfied with it it will become his official residence.

The Lodge is a beautiful old place, every stone of its structure being of historical significance and interwoven with some period of Irish history. Mr. Sterling the Minister, and his wife will be the first Americans to sleep within its walls. Their nearest neighbors will be the Governor-General.

The Free State Government intends to give Mr. and Mrs. Sterling an official reception on a big scale, but no detailed program has yet been drawn up due to the imminence of the General Election, which may occasion many changes. For instance the present Minister for Foreign Affairs, the debonair Desmond Fitzgerald, is likely to lose his seat in Co. Dublin, if rumor speaks true.

Even if the present Government is returned there will probably be administrative changes so that one does not know in whose hands the official reception to the Sterlings will be.

Two Are Injured As Machines Crash, Near Kane, Penna.

(International News Service)

KANE, Pa., June 10.—Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Humez of Mt. Jewett, today were suffering from bruises and lacerations received yesterday when the machine in which they were riding was struck by a truck driven by David Konovosky of Kane on the Roosevelt highway near here.

Konovosky is said to have lost control of his truck as it came toward the Humez car. When near the truck careend to the center of the pike and crashed head-on into the passenger machine.

Mrs. Humez was hurled 30 feet through a glass window of the car. Konovosky was unhurt.

No "Real" Whisky Found In Miami By U. S. Chemists

(International News Service)

MIAMI, Fla., June 10.—Not a drop of "real" whiskey is to be had in Miami, the winter playground of some of America's "Idle Rich," according to Dr. H. G. Alford, government chemist.

"Anyone who takes a drink is risking his life," Alford declared after spending several days in Miami making anayises of alleged good liquors.

Testing 18 samples in one day Alford said he found not one to be standard whiskey and all were made largely with cheap Cuban alcohol and colored with burnt sugar.

He laughed at the suggestion that if all the "red" liquor was bad, the "moonshine" brand might be good.

"You'd be surprised," Alford said, "at what we find in moonshine liquor. It's worse than the 'red' stuff. Firstly, the stills are not sanitary and frequently we find small pigs, bugs, rats and mice in barrels used to mix the mash. And in analyses, I have found traces of animal and vegetable matter."

The beer to be obtained hereabouts, however, is not so bad according to Alford and generally does not contain foreign matter. This, though, applied only to the so-called German and English beers and not the home-brew variety, he added.

They've killed a wolf in Cook county, but doubtless the place got too wild and the poor thing just gave up.

American Business Men Advised To Go Slow In Dealings With Russia

By ROBERT S. THORNBURGH,
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, June 10.—Despite the policy of neutrality observed by this government in the British-Russian break, American business men who visioned big profits in the soviet market, unofficially have been advised to "go slow."

A "take the cash and let the credit go" policy apparently is the position of the government in dealing with what is characterized as "An unlimited market for everything but with limited purchasing ability." Trade between the United States and Russia is neither discouraged nor encouraged, but is regarded as the private affair of American corporations concerned.

Since Canada and London broke with the soviet hundreds of letters have been received by officials here, inquiring as to the government attitude toward Russian commence. These communications are being answered unofficially. The writers are being advised that consideration must be given to the absence of relations between the United States and the soviet, and to the peculiar condition of the Russian market. It has been suggested to business men anxious to exploit this field that there should be no deviation from the conservative policy of extension of short term credits only, virtually equivalent to cash.

Officials here profess to see little hope for real Russian development under the soviet state socialistic system, characterized as wasteful, slow moving and extravagant. The stagnation reported to be due to the soviet's "planned economy" is declared to be increasing.

Despite difficulties of the situation American business with Russia is growing. Sales to Russia will amount to over $60,000,000 this year and America probably will purchase goods valued at $20,000,000 in the Russian market, according to estimates.

Already important Russian orders have been diverted from England and Canada to the United States. Copper and rubber purchases alone will boost American sales by $4,000,000, according to experts. Russia's present demands consist of cotton, fine wool, rubber and production machinery. About $2,000,000,000 capital is needed but there is little probability that America's gold will be available.

Officials here anticipated that Germany will reap the greatest commercial benefit from the London-Moscow break. German commercial houses already are extensively interested in Russian concessions.

Groundhog Taken; Caught In Can

(International News Service)

LIVERPOOL, Pa., June 10. — An appetite for canned salmon cost a fat groundhog his freedom at Perry Valley, near here, when the animal went on a recent foraging expedition at a farmhouse.

Hobart Brookhart and Miles Bitting, both of Perry Valley, found the animal by a roadside, struggling desperately to free its head from a salmon can into which it had poked itself in an effort to gobble the last few scraps of fish still clinging to the can. The animal was unaware of the men's approach, and was easily taken captive.

Farmers in this vicinity have begun a campaign against the animals, which are proving destructive to small grain.

MAHONING REVIEW MEETS THURSDAY

Members of Mahoning Review No. 98, Woman's Benefit Association, held their regular meeting in the K. of P. Hall, Thursday evening, June 9. Following the regular business meeting a memorial service was held for the deceased members. Mrs. Frank Reynolds rendered a solo.

Plans were made to take the Guard Team of the Review to the state convention to be held in Pittsburgh, June 16 and 17, at the William Penn Hotel. An invitation was accepted to attend the Emlenton rally on June 23.

Many Greetings Sent To Lindy From New Castle

During the last few days a large number of letters have been received at the New Castle postoffice to be sent by air mail to Captin Lindbergh as a greeting on his arrival in Washington tomorrow.

Air mail for Washington is dispatched from the local postoffice by train either to Youngstown or Cleveland and transferred there to planes to New York and Washington. Letters of greeting to our hero of the air if sent early tonight ought to reach Washington in time for a greeting tomorrow.

Making ends meet is often like a dog catching his tail. They simply won't stay met.

Fiftieth Convention Of Woman's Society In First U. P. Church

Delegates From Churches Of Beaver Valley Presbytery In Session Today

Fiftieth annual convention of the Woman's Missionary society of Beaver Valley Presbytery opened this morning in the First United Presbyterian church of this city with about 165 registered delegates representing the churches of Ambridge, Woodlawn, Ellwood City, Beaver Falls, Mt. Jackson, New Galilee, Camp Run, Portersville, all country churches and churches of this city.

The morning session opened with a devotional period led by Miss Lillian McConnell, missionary of India. Reports of the executive committee secretaries, auditor and treasurer were outstanding features of this session.

This afternoon a memorial service for deceased members was conducted in charge of Mrs. C. D. Fulton of Beaver. Miss Rebekah Browne whose father was pastor of the First church when the Presbyterial was organized, gave a very interesting account of the history of the society of the first thirty years. History of the last twenty years was given by Miss Lyda Mitchell.

Greetings by charter members was also an interesting feature of the afternoon.

Mrs. Mary Samuel, a native woman of Rawlpindi, India, dressed in the costume of the women of India gave an address. An address was also made by Mrs. H. C. Campbell, foreign secretary of Woman's board.

Duet numbers were given by Mrs. David G. Harris and Miss Margaret Sankey. Mrs. A. G. Randles, retiring president, presided.

Luncheon was served at noon at attractively appointed tables in the dining room for the visiting delegates. White and gold made an effective decoration.

USELESS EXERTION

He—Look at me again, will you?
She—No; because if I do you'll kiss me.
"Honestly, I won't."
"Then what's the use of looking at you?"—From Answers, London.

Suds: Bubble masses above a wash tub or a glass of amber liquid. Obsolete in both cases.

Boy Is Missing; Believe That Lad Has Been Kidnaped

Garnet Shorter, 11 years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wade Shorter of Westerville, O., has been unaccountably missing from home since Friday afternoon, June 3. When last seen he was clad in a short-sleeved light shirt and corduroy trousers; he wore brown shoes but no stockings, and had no cap. Garnet is four feet eight inches tall; has sandy hair and brown eyes; his weight is 75 to 85 pounds. He is described as a bright boy, of good habits.

Garnet and his older brothers went to the athletic field of Otterbein college. The older brothers say they left him there. Nobody has knowledge of his whereabouts since that time.

It is reported that Garnet was abducted by a roving band of American (not Romany) gypsies.

Seeks To Locate Missing Son Here

A. A. Heasley of London, Mercer county, has asked the assistance of the local police in locating his son Kenneth, aged 16, who ran away from home on May 30. The missing boy is described as being five feet in height, 130 pounds in weight, having dark hair, gray eyes, nose slightly bent with scar and wearing light cap, mixed gray and blue suit and high tan shoes.

Rose Ave. School Has New Feature

Rose Avenue elementary school has established a new feature in the form of a booklet periodical containing representative literary productions of the children in the school and reports of the work of the school from the standpoint of the children.

Dr. C. C. Green, superintendent of the city schools, comments very favorably on all such efforts of giving the children encouragement by public recognition.

The first number of the booklet which is called "Rose Leaves" is quite attractive, especially the cover design. It contains several mimeographed pages.

Shad Fishing Is Nearing An End

New Dam On Susquehanna To Mark End Of Shad Fishing

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Pa., June 10.—Completion of the power dam at Conowingo on the Susquehanna river will spell the end of all shad fishing in Pennsylvtania State Fisheries Commissioner Nathan R. Buller admitted today.

Prior to the days of stream pollution and the construction of big power dams, shad fishing was the mainstay of the rivermen on the Susquehanna and Delaware rivers. From the time the ice moved in the spring until the arrival of June and its proverbial thin shad, fishermen with dipnets and seines captured countless thousands of the fish.

Pollution has driven shad entirely from the Delaware river where the seasonal industry once flourished

Construction of the McCall's Ferry dam near Columbia ended all shad fishing at points further north on the Susquehanna. Prior to that time shad had been caught in large numbers as far north as Sunbury. The fish coming up the river on their annual pilgrimage, never were able to negotiate the the fishways constructed in the McCall's Ferry dam.

Progress of the work at Conowingo which is just south of the Maryland line now has closed the Susquehanna completely. Although the fish still are found near the Delaware and Susquehanna mouths they will not reach Pennsylvania waters.

St. Andrews Grieves At Change In Date For Golf Matches

(International News Service)
ST. ANDREWS, Scotland, June 10.—The home of golf is not at all satisfied that the agreement with the United States, whereby the British open championship will be started on July 11, is the best that could have been reached.

The people of St. Andrew's think they will have a grievance against America because they will lose revenue through the date of the championship being transferred from June to July.

The championship will cut into the most paying month of the year, and, into the bargain the Old Course will be put to exceptional use by holiday makers during the days preceding the championships.

Nevertheless St. Andrew's is comforted by the fact that no townsman believes the championship will leave Scotland this year. This reasoning takes the line that invaders will find the job of producing a qualifying score on the new course far from easy. There is no doubt that the new course provides the severest test of golf that exists. Everything the player gets he has to play for. The lovely golden gorse, right and left, seems thicker and more beautiful than ever this year—a sorceress tempting the unwary to their doom.

South African Fair Has Biggest Hog; Weighs 1100 Pounds

(International News Service)
JOHANNESBURG, June 10.—Billy, the world's largest pig, is on view at agricultural show here, and is insured for $25,000. Billy is 8 feet, 2 inches long, 6 feet, 9 inches in girth and weighs just over 1120 pounds.

He has travelled 35,000 miles, and is just back from a tour of Australia. He has a voracious appetite, and every day consumes four cases of apples, eight or nine buckets of milk, two bushels of bran, sixteen or eighteen cabbages, and a few "odds and ends."

Billy has a specially appointed valet to keep him groomed, and to reserve accommodation in train and boat when he travels. Bill's food alone costs $10 a day.

The mammoth pig is only 28 years old, and a long and prosperous career awaits him. His owner plans to send him to the British Museum in London after his death.

John W. Barrett Completes College Course; Graduates As Class A Student

John W. Barrett, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Barrett of Northview avenue, this city, was one of the 405 students to graduate from St. Louis university during the commencement exercises held June 6, according to word received here from the university.

The medical school from which Barrett received his degree controls three of the largest hospitals of the city and has the largest medical reserve quota in the United States. John Barrett should receive honor in graduating from this school with the class A students.

Serve Bean Soup At Celebration

(International News Service)
McCLURE, Pa., June 10.—Bean soup—steaming hot, and served in style, is expected to attract hundreds of persons here for the annual Homecoming and Bean Soup celebration September 30 to October 1.

The custom of serving bean soup at the annual celebration here had its inception a score of years ago when a group of Civil War veterans hungering for the "old army chow" met here and served the now famous dish. The event is now sponsored by the Sons of Veterans.

Southern States Losing Negroes; Authorities To Combat Migration

(International News Service)
ATLANTA, June 10.—A new negro migration to the north is reported underway, and authorities of some of the southern states, especially Louisiana and Alabama, are debating a number of proposals to combat it.

One of these would be the enactment of legislation, similar to Georgia's which makes it unlawful for any labor agent to recruit negro workers for any city outside the state. Agents from Northern cities are particularly active now, it is said.

Another proposal would be to make conditions more attractive for the negro, so he would not be lured away so easily by promises of better jobs and more money in the North. Best authorities in the South admit living conditions for the negro are anything but desirable.

The only way, it is pointed out, for the Southern cities to keep their negro workers is to build better schools, better houses and better streets in the Negro sections, and higher wages and more money for recreational purposes and public parks.

Losing Population

The cities of Birmingham and New Orleans are said to be losing negro population steadily, and vigorous campaigns have been launched in both localities to check the exodus. The labor commissioner of Louisiana is authority for the statement that the building trades in New Orleans will face a "crisis" if the ranks of negro workers in the employ of contracting firms are further depleted.

The director of Industrial Relations of the Chamber of Commerce in New Orleans has issued an appeal to the negros to remain where they are, pointing out the south is the home of the Negro and that he is always "assured of the best treatment here."

The negro labor situation is reported more acute in Birmingham, and the Chamber of Commerce there has appointed agents to watch all outgoing trains in an effort to dissuade the negroes from leaving the city.

Take Legal Steps

The first legal step to control the situation was taken in Alabama where the legislature has enacted a statute prohibiting any person from inducing workmen to leave the state "through grandoise promises of economic and social betterment." Georgia has had such a law for several years and at least a dozen have been convicted of the offense and sent to the state prison.

Social workers hovever feel that any prohibitive legislation will defeat its own purpose. They feel that laws designed to prevent negro workmen from exercising free choice is sure to build up a structure of dissatisfaction that will tend to hasten rather than retard the exodus to the North. They declare that fairness requires that the negro be allowed the same opportunity as white persons to learn of economic advantages of other parts of the country.

DESPAIRED OF EVER HAVING GOOD COMPLEXION
Pimples relieved after trying well known remedy
Spokane, Wash., Jan. 31:—"My skin had been very clear up to a while ago when blackheads and then pimples developed. They spread rapidly and I was terribly annoyed. I used several suggested remedies without good results, and was disgusted and just ready to give up hope of ever having a good complexion again when I saw one of your advertisements. At the same time, a friend recommended Resinol Soap and Ointment so I began to use them. After a few applications my trouble was relieved, and I now keep these products always on hand. They are so soothing and refreshing and I find the ointment so good for the scalp and for chapped hands."—(Signed) Miss Carmel De Felice, E. 1723 Third Avenue.

Announce Date Of June Farmers' Day

June 16 Set Aside For Annual Farmers' Day At State College; Program Arranged

Annual June Farmer's Day will be held Friday, June 17, at Pennsylvania State College, preceded by an evening meeting on Thursday, June 16, in the College Auditorium.

This has become one of the important events at the College and each year several hundred farmers gather there from all parts of the State to inspect the work done by the college.

Many Lawrence County farmers attend and it is requested by H. R. McCulloch that those who expect to go this year get in touch with him as soon as possible at the Agriculture Extension building on South Croton avenue in order to make final plans.

Demonstrations, which illustrate some of the more improved practices will be staged. This is particularly true of use of power farm machinery and the control of insect and plant diseases. The campaign against the corn borer will be discussed and demonstrated.

Judging contests and demonstrations will be held with the different classes of livestock. Some of the latest knowledge of livestock, as it is applied to dairy cattle, poultry, and meat animals, will be discussed.

For those farmers who hope to take their families, McCulloch states that a large room in the Horticultural Building has been set aside as a general rest room for the women. Ample seating will be furnished and cots will be available for the small children. A special Home Economics program will be provided in the Women's Building.

Some are not sure of the way to State College, it is situated in Centre County near the center of the State, 28 miles from Tyrone, 44 miles from Altoona, 39 miles from Lock Haven, 36 miles from Lewistown, 66 miles from Williamsport, 56 miles from Lewisburg, 75 miles from DuBois, or 100 miles from Harrisburg.

Historic Stone Once In Wall Of Westminster

Ancient Marble From Abbey In Beaver Falls Church

BEAVER FALLS, Pa., June 10—Historic Purbeckian marbles that rested in the walls of Westminster Abbey since 1290, in the reign of Edward I. brought here and built into the walls of the entrance cloister of the new St. Mary's Episcopal Church, Beaver Falls, were unveiled by Bishop Alexander Mann, at a community service in the church house this afternoon. In the evening the services were held dedicating the new $165,000 church and parish buildings.

The marble from Westminster was obtained through the Rev. Amos Bannister, rector of St. Mary's through acquaintanceship with the dean of the abbey in services in England nearly 20 years ago.

When the Beaver Falls church was projected application was made for a stone suitable for a cornerstone if improvements and rebuilding at the abbey permitted removal of a few units from the ancient walls. It was impossible to furnish a stone large enough for a cornerstone and instead the Purbeckian marble was sent instead.

The marble is 18 by 30 inches and is from the wall above the grave of Eleanor of Castile, queen of King Edward I. It was in the wall of the corridor connecting the south transcept connecting with the chapel of Henry VII, a portion of the structure familiar to all tourists.

Rev. Dr. Floyd Barr pastor of the First Presbyterian church, Beaver Falls delivered the principal address.

600,000,000 CIGARETS ARE SMUGGLED INTO CANADA YEARLY, SAID

MONTREAL, June 10.—From 600,000,000 to 1,000,000,000 cigarets are smuggled into Canada from the United States each year, H. S. Burke, sales manager of the Imperial Tobacco company told the royal customs commission here today. He estimated that the loss in revenue to the Dominion was from $7,800,000 to $10,000,000 a year.

The chief commissioner, Judge J. T. Brown asked how the smuggling of cigarets could be stopped.

"Stop it by reducing the excessive taxes on Canadian cigarets" Burke replied.

Keystone State Delegation To Greet "Lindy"

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Pa., June 10.—Thousands of Pennsylvanians will be among those expected to gather in Washington Saturday, June 11, to welcome Capt. Charles Lindbergh when the aviator-hero is greeted by President Coolidge.

So great is the motor caravan to Washington expected to be that the State Highway Patrol is planning special duty to guide the motorists expected to travel over Pennsylvania roads enroute to the national Capital.

Many other cities are expected to follow the lead of the Harrisburg Chamber of Commerce, which is making plans to aid tourists from all parts of the State making the trip to Washington. Traffic is expected to converge here for the trip via Gettysburg, Pa., Emmittsburg, Md., and Frederick, Md.

The Pennsylvania Railroad is planning a "Lindbergh Special" from Central Pennsylvania, and doubtless will provide extra cars from other parts of the State if the need presents itself.

NOT ALSO A COLLECTOR

"Can I write my name under the 'Received payment' on this bill?" asked the collecter who likes to put things as delicately as possible.

"No, thinks," replied Brokeleigh. 'II'm no autograph fiend."—From the Boston Transcript.

FIFTY ENTRIES MADE FOR BABY CONTEST

FARRELL, Pa., June 10.—More than 50 entries have been received in the baby contest to be held in connection with the borough's silver jubilee. Several local young women, also have entered the popularity contest, in which "Miss Farrell" will be chosen. The winner will be crowned with appropriate ceremony during the jubilee week, which begins July 4.

Both contests are being watched with keen interest by Farrellites.

American Youth Is Not Jazz Mad; Lindbergh Approximates Ideal Type

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, June 10.—The American youth is not jazz mad. He isn't a movie-crazed, gin drinking, dance-loving "sheik" who is going to the dogs.

Wall Street's experience is that the youth of today is just as ambitious as his Dad was and will sacrifice just as much to make good in life.

All he asks is an "even break." Captain Charles A. Lindbergh, the famous "kid" flyer, comes nearer approximating the typical American youth than any so far drawn of him, and sensational charges made by some public speakers against the youth of today are exaggerated and almost entirely erroneous.

So declared Cameron Beck, personal director of the New York Stock Exchange, in an interview with International News Service today. For ten years Beck has directed the youthful destinies of more boys of high school age than serve any other financial institution in the country. He recently returned from a tour of fourteen states during which time he talked before 90,000 high school students and believes he has a mighty good line on the present generation boy.

Even Break For Boys

"I find here in Wall Street, and all over the country, that what the boys want more than anything else is an 'even break' a chance to accomplish something—to do something worth while," said Beck in his office in Wall Street.

"We are giving them more than an even break here. And more and more business men everywhere are finding out that it is good business to encourage them and find out what is in their minds, what they are aiming at."

Beck each year places 1,000 boys on the New York Stock Exchange as pages and in other junior positions. His big employment office is more like a well organized college than an employment department. He has a capable staff of advisors as assistants. He revealed that foremost among the requirements for youths given jobs is that every junior employee must attend school. In 1918, he said, 85 per cent of the boys at the exchange had had only elementary school education while today 93 per cent attend high schools or college.

"The poor boy of today may be the millionaire tomorrow," he said recounting some of the rapid rises of some of the youths who a few years back came in looking for a job.

Seventeen of the boys of a few years ago are today members of the New York Stock Exchange. A membership alone is worth about $215,000.

Street Has Many Of Them

The "Street" is replete with Horatio Alger stories. There is one case, for instance, of the red-headed newsboy from Chicago who today is a $50,000,000 bank president—Matthew C. Brush, president of the American International Corporation. It would take reams of paper to recount the stories of the rise of poor boys to fame and fortune in Wall Street, and it has been such careers as Brush's that has fired the ambition of the youths of today.

The President of the Exhange and members of the governing board frequently address the boys who are trying to "make the grade" in the junior jobs. Seventeen nationalities and fourteen states are represented at present in this category. Out-of-town boys come with a definite idea of what they believe they will accomplish in "The Street" and willing and anxious to begin at the bottom. Most of them are high school graduates and now and then a college graduate accepts a junior position, willing to sacrifice salary for the chance of learning the business from the ground up.

Sound Training

Securities of more than 1,110 corporations are listed on the Exchange. These stocks when listed are abbreviated. Every page must know the abbreviations and the posts where each stock takes place. The floor telephones of member firms are located in booth's along the walls of the trading floors. The pages must know these locations exactly. Lectures are delivered to them and, after working hours, they take active participation in a mock market on the floor of the exchange. It is remarkable how alive and informed these boys become.

Wall Street gives its youths a sound training and watches their progress closely," said Beck. "We try to take the mystery out of financing, and you'd be surprised at the leaders we develop.

"The boys running on the floor of the Stock Exchange today will be the big men of the Street tomorrow—at least many of them will be. And don't think for a minute they don't realize their opportunity. Why, they're competing all the time to make good. The spirit of American business genius quickly gets into their views and the result is often astounding."

The suburbanite who can tell the kind of vegetable he plants from the kind that comes up has passed from the amateur to the professional class.—The Baltimore Sun.

Fortune Awaits Grandchildren Of Early Bostonians

BOSTON, June 10. — A fortune awaits the living heirs of Joseph and Hannah Shaw, early Bostonians, who died here in 1857 to all appearances penniless. Five children, born of the union, who lived in total ignorance of the wealth of their parents, are now being sought by attorneys in New York, administering the estate, said to run into the hundred thousands.

These children were Charles, George, William, Joseph and Mary Shaw. At present their whereabouts are unknown. Joseph was a tailor in this city in 1846. George is known to have moved to Dedham in 1878 and to have made his home there for years. Only one claimant for the riches thus far has come forward. He is Thomas Shaw of 675 Washington street Dedham.

The search for the Shaw heirs has been going on for some time. Meantime the estate has been growing in size until today it is said to be worth more than a million dollars. The terms of the will, leaving the fortune to the children of the family, have not been made public yet. It is known, however, that at least $100,000 and probably much more awaits each of the grandchildren living if he can prove he is a son of any of the five children.

Nation-Wide War On Roadhouse Vice Opened By Women Reform Leaders

BY FRANCES R. MURPHY
International News Service Staff Correspondent

BOSTON, June 10.—Nation-wide "war" on vice in roadhouses has been declared.

Moonlight dances, the so-called body dancing, the hip flask, the "house bootlegger," and the curtained booth as well as sensuous music—in fact, all the high jinks of many of the lavishly furnished motor inns that had had mushroom growth throughout the country with the advent of prohibition must be abolished. Women reform leaders have so declared.

War against vice in roadhouses of Massachusetts is on. Here it has accomplished results. The drive bids fair to become national in scope if the appeal to mothers and fathers throughout the union is heeded.

Through the agency of the National Congress of Parent-Teachers, represented in 47 state and Hawaii, and Town Protective Committee of the Massachusetts Civic League, the dissemination of literature to enlist legislation tending to curb roadhouse vice is now underway.

Violence Is Feared

Mrs. William Tilton, of Boston and Washington, chairman of the Town Protective Committee, fears that violence will be resorted to as a means of intimidating those exposing the "terrible conditions."

Legislation which will give state police authority over roadhouse licenses is asked by the women.

In Massachusetts such a law, commonly known as the "roadhouse law," was recently made effective. As a consequence, five of the most widely known roadhouses in the state, located in Sudbury, Middleton, Scituate, Hanson and Westwood have been practically forced out of business.

The effect of the Massachusetts law is to grant the commissioner of public safety authority to roadhouse owners if they so see fit.

Such a refusal deprives the roadhouse of music for dancing, a paramount item in the roadhouse attraction. Removal of the entertainment feature of the roadhouse soon results in lack of patronage and subsequent closing up of the place.

The law provides that the commissioner of public safety may invoke certain regulations for the conduct of roadhouses. They pertain to booths with curtains, the immoral dancing and other objectionable features. The roadhouse must always be open to inspection by state police. Towns must accept these regulations, otherwise the commissioner is empowered to refuse an amusement license to any road house in the community, thus taking much legitimate business from the townspeople.

How the Law Applies

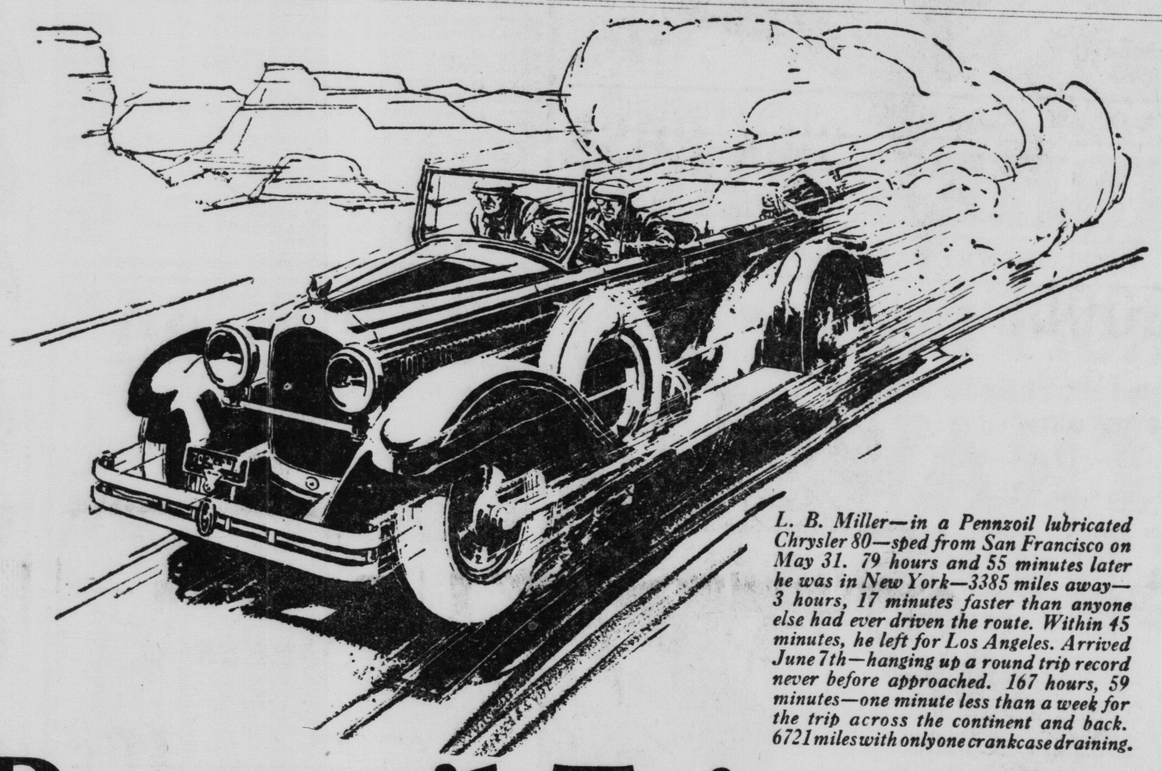
One of the interesting features of the law is that it applies to every place operated under a common victuallers license, even to the lowly "dog cart." The mere use of a radio, victrola or other musical device, to say nothing of the large orchestra found in the roadhouse, bring the place within the law.

To the automobile and the state highway, women reformers attribute the present conditions, which they tell. A revolution in recreation has been created by these two modern methods of travel. By these means the small town has been made the mecca for pleasure seekers and the "promised land" for the providers of such pleasure, investigation has revealed, the women say.

In her investigation of roadhouse conditions, Mrs. Tilton, for years a leader in this work, has found, she says, that 90 per cent of those visiting the resorts are under 25 years of age. Immorality is flagrant and the use of liquor apparently unrestrained in some places her reports show.

She has asked chairmen of the parent-teachers organization thruout the union to cooperate with her in abating it.

Famous last lines: "There goes the cork! Steady!"



L. B. Miller—in a Pennzoil lubricated Chrysler 80—sped from San Francisco on May 31. 79 hours and 55 minutes later he was in New York—3385 miles away—3 hours, 17 minutes faster than anyone else had ever driven the route. Within 45 minutes, he left for Los Angeles. Arrived June 7th—hanging up a round trip record never before approached. 167 hours, 59 minutes—one minute less than a week for the trip across the continent and back. 6721 miles with only one crankcase draining.

Pennzoil Triumphs Again

FOR the third time in less than a year Pennzoil has helped smash the transcontinental automobile speed record.

And the Pennzoil used in Miller's spectacular dash is the same identical Pennzoil that independent service stations, garages and car dealers are selling to motorists every day.

Use Pennzoil—the finest oil it is possible to produce for your motor—100% supreme Pennsylvania quality.

Drain out the ordinary oil you are using. Fill your crankcase with Pennzoil. It wards off friction. Eliminates unnecessary wear and repairs. Increases power. Gives you a smoother, sweeter running motor. And carries you twice as far as ordinary oils without changing. Look for the Pennzoil sign.

Simultaneously with Miller's record-breaking run, Clarence D. Chamberlin was staking his life on Pennzoil as his plane hurtled across the Atlantic to Berlin.

A few weeks before, Pennzoil lubricated the same Bellanca plane when it broke all endurance flight records in its continuous flight of 51 hours, 11 minutes, 20 seconds.

Pennzoil was used by Lieuts. Kelly and MacReady in making the best previous American endurance flight record.

Pennzoil lubricated Ab. Jenkin's Studebaker that last year made the New York to San Francisco run in 86 hours, 20 minutes, beating all records up to that time.

Pennzoil again smashed a transcontinental record when L. B. Miller, driving a Wills-Sainte Claire, beat Jenkin's time by 3 hours and 8 minutes.

Man Tries To Emulate Brodie But Is Halted

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, June 10.—Swathed in newspapers to protect himself from serious injury, Fred Hause, 34, today attempted to leap from the Delaware river bridge. He told police he was going to do it on a dare.

The man had taken a taxicab to the center of the bridge and there discharged the driver.

Children's Day At First Church

Plans Completed For A Reception For Rev. And Mrs. Fohner On Monday Evening

The annual Children's Day Exercise will be given Sabbath morning in the First Presbyterian church. The regular Bible school hour for the adults will be held as usual at 9:30 o'clock. Then at eleven o'clock in the church auditorium the children of the Primary department will give us their program. Parents will present their children at this service for Baptism. The ushers will have cards for the parents to fill out, giving the name of the child and other necessary information.

Since this is the last Sabbath Rev. G. C. Fohner will be with us, the Session has asked that he preach the evening sermon.

A farewell reception will be given for Rev. and Mrs. Fohner in the church dining rooms, Monday evening at eight o'clock. The members of the church and friends of Mr. and Mrs. Fohner are invited to attend.

Crothers Sets New Target Record In Annual Tourney

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, June 10.—Steve Crothers, Jr., state target-shooting champion, yesterday sent another record for marksmen when he broke 20 targets without a miss in the 37th annual championship tournament of the Pennsylvania State Sportsmen's association at the Quaker City Gun club.

Crothers, however didn't win any title as the tilt for the championship will take place today.

"Big" Bob Johnson of Wilkes-Barre, turned in another surprise when he won the championship of the 50-yard double target event. He won in a shoot-off over John Hoffman of Reading 19 to 15.

Former Allegheny County Official Attempts Suicide

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, June 10.—With a bullet wound in his body, George A. Leadley, 54, of Homewood, former clerk of the Allegheny county courts and a political leaders, was found in a dying condition in his home today, A revolver was lying beside him.

Leadley has been in poor health, members of the family declared. Dr. Clyde A. Anderson who examined Leadley following the shooting, declared the victim had no chance for recovery.

Round Trip Flight Across Atlantic Is Planned By Byrd

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, June 10.—Naval Commander Richard E. Byrd the only aviator who ever flew a plane over the North Pole, plans to outdo even Col. Charles A. Lindbergh and Clarence D. Chamberlin in the way of trans-Atlantic flights it was learned today.

Byrd intends to fly to Paris in his great tri-motor, Fokker Monoplane, then immediately fly back again. At the most his stay in the French capital will be scarcely more than 12 hours. Just enough time for the American and his fellow flyers to take a restful sleep and have the America's gasoline tanks filled again.

Hence if Clarence Chamberlin and his flight companion, Charles A. Levine, expect to be the first to fly from Continetal Europe to New York they will have to "step out" speedily. Chamberlin and Levine now have under consideration an offer of $100,000 from William Randolph Hurst to fly from Berlin to New York.

Meanwhile, Commander Byrd has completed his final tests. His great Fokker plane has responded to a load of more than 14,500 pounds. So spectacular was this achievement to Byrd and his associates that they immediately decided to risk an additional 100 gallons of Gasoline, weighing 600 pounds. Thus, when the American dashes into the eastern haze she will carry a weight of 15,500 pounds—something hitherto unheard of in trans-Atlantic aviation.

Lindbergh flew in a plane weighing gross 5,130 pounds. The Chamberlin and Levine machine weighed over all 5,400 pounds. In the America's cabin with Byrd will be Bert Acosta one of the holders of the world's endurance record and Lieutenant George Noville, flight engineer.

It is extremely likely that soon after Colonel Lindbergh sets foot on American soil and receives his official honors Byrd will give the signal for his own flight.

THE REAL TEST

Dick—I don't know how to tell you how I love you.

Gladys—Don't worry about that. What you want to get anxious about is how to tell father about it.

Le Bourget Airport Popular Side Trip For Legionnaires

(International News Service)

PARIS, June 10—One of the most popular side trips for American Legionnaires going to Paris for the ninth annual convention Sept. 19 to 23 will be a hop by air from Le Bourget Airport, where Capt. Charles A. Lindbergh landed after his epochal flight, to London. With the excellent airplane service now existing between the French and English capitals it is possible to take a leisurely breakfast in Paris and eat noon luncheon in London.

For one of the strolls about Paris the Legionnaires will put on "Tom Thumb's seven league boots" in the form of a giant Farman "Goliath" or, perhaps a Handley-Page cruiser, and see the whole of the French capital in half an hour. The humming Le Bourget Airport, in the suburbs of Paris is reached either by taxi or tram cars from the Porte de la Villette, Gate of the Vilette. A hop from Paris to London may be taken for approximately the same price as the rail and boat fares and half an hour flight over the French capital costs but $2.

Le Bourget Airport, recently coming into international prominence through the Lindbergh landing, has 325 acres. The immense hangars are of cement and steel, fireproof construction. They are heated by hot air systems, and their immense sliding doors are operated by electric motors. The pilots operating at Le Bourget are compelled to undergo frequent tests of their hearts, lungs and eyesight. There is a meterological station where a great map of Europe shows the weather conditions, received hourly by radio.

Animal Losses In Great Flood Serious Blow

Mississippi Waters Drown Millions Of Creatures In Sudden Rush

Years Will Be Required To Replace Wild Life Destroyed In Valley

(International News Service)

MEMPHIS, Tenn., June 10.—Trapped as were people but with no rescue fleets to save them, wild animals in the great forests of the Mississippi valley perished by the thousands when the roaring currents of the Father of Waters and its tributaries tore through levees and rushed upon them in terrific suddeness and depths.

The ruthless slaughter of animals by the disastrous floods was one of the greatest losses of the flood, according to accounts of refugees and rescue workers.

Years will be required to replace the wild animals which perished in the wholesale destruction.

Fish Destroyed.

Hundreds of thousands of small minnows are being ruthlessly or thoughtlessly destroyed by fishermen in the vicinity of Memphis in their hunger for larger fry according to an appeal issued here by Dan Wolf, president of the local chapter of the Izaak Walton league.

A gloomy picture of conditions with some interesting side-lights on the hardships of animal life is painted by refugees from Louisana, Arkansas and Mississippi.

One trapper from Louisana told the following story:

"Last week I saw a big black bear floating down stream, perched on a tree. I found a three-foot alligator on a floating bed near a deserted house. On a knoll I saw 35 deer. Several more were on a railroad track not far away."

"In a dry spot nearby there are more than 100 quail. I fed them with chicken feed for several days. Almost a hundred deer are being cared for in boxcars by game wardens. The refugees in some places are sharing their rations with the helpless deer."

Wild Animals Slaughtered.

"But bodies of deer and all kinds of wild animals are seen everywhere by the dozens floating on the water, having been drowned by the floods or starved to death where marooned."

Wolf's appeal to fishermen to stop destruction of minnows to preserve the future fishing possibilities was broadcast over the Commercial Evening Appeal broadcasting station WMc.

Seiners who are finding the catching of fish and minnows easy in sub-drains to lakes are not limiting themselves to what they need and are carelessly leaving thousands of minnows on the banks to die in the sun, Wolf said. They keep the big fish and throw the minnows on the banks instead of back into the water.

Fish will perish by thousands without being deliberately slaughtered said Wolf, as many have been unfortunate enough to be in small water holes left by the flood that will soon dry up, leaving the fish lying in a muddy field.

Lakes throughout the flooded valleys were re-stocked by the flood as many fish found their way into the lakes from the rivers.

A Tip for Hot Water Drinkers

Hot water in the morning is fine for everyone—a good stride in the right direction. BUT if you want to get the most out of this health habit try dropping two tiny tablets of Kruschen Salts in your cup every day. It won't take any more than a few days to show you the amazing difference.

This little daily dose of Kruschen is like a charge of new ambition, new energy that is sent flowing through your veins to every tissue, muscle and cell.

But there's no mystery about Kruschen—it keeps you in perfect trim because it stimulates the liver and kidneys gently but surely to thorough performance of their duties. It frees your system of all waste matter that collects to clog your insides and poison your blood stream. It primes every fibre of your being with tingling vitality.

Get a bottle of Kruschen Salts today—It's not a cathartic—just the best system regulator in the world. Add two tablets to your hot water—coffee or tea—tomorow morning and if at the end of the week you are not a confirmed member of the happy Kruschen family numbering millions the world over we'll lose our bet. Only 60c for 60 tablets at Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc., New Castle Drug Co. or live druggists everywhere. "It's the little daily dose that does it."

First Alaska Flag In Paris Parade

(International News Service)

JUNEAU, Alaska, June 10.—The territorial legislature of Alaska has passed an appropriation to send Benny Benson, aged 13, a seventh grade pupil in the Mission Territorial school at Seward, winner of first prize in a contest for a design for an Alaskan flag, to Paris with The American Legion where the boy will carry the flag in the great Legion parade.

The American Legion department of Alaska, at the request of the governor, conducted the contest among the school children of Alaska, and when the winner was chosen the Legion asked the legislature to send the boy and the flag to Washington for presentation of the flag to the president. The legislature voted to do this, and then went further by appropriating money to pay the boy's expenses to Paris.

Designs were submitted by school children from all parts of Alaska. The one selected consists of eight gold stars in a field of blue, the blue representing the blue of the Alaskan skies, waters and wild flowers, and the gold typifying the wealth that lies hidden in the Alaskan hills. Seven of the stars represent the Great Bear, the most conspicuous constellation in the Northern sky, and the eighth represents the North Star, the ever constant guiding star for the mariner, the explorer, hunter, trapper, prospector, woodsman and surveyor.

Largest American Flag Is Cleaned And Ready For Flag Day, June 14

By GEORGE W. MANNING
Washington Correspondent of The News

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 10.—Uncle Sam owns the largest American flag in the world and the most extensive collection of state flags known to exist.

The largest edition of the Stars and Stripes and the flags of all the states except two hang in the tremendous court of the Postoffice Department. All 48 states except Nevada and Kansas have flags.

The giant flag, 71 feet long by 37 feet high, was made for the Postoffice Department in 1920 and cost $300. It is made of the finest wool and the stripes are but 1 3-4 of an inch less than a full yard wide. The blue field is 28 by 20 feet. Each star is 30 inches across. The flag weighs 90 pounds.

Prepare for Flag Day

In anticipation of the celebration of Flag Day on Tuesday, this huge American flag was taken down for the first time a few weeks ago and given a cleaning, the first it has had since it was originally suspended in the court of the Postoffice Department. A special dry cleaning preparation was used, as it would be regarded as a desecration of any American flag were it to be given a liquid bath. Several days were consumed in the cleaning process and today the emblem and its colors of red, white and blue shine resplendent in preparation for the festivities connected with the natal day of "Old Glory".

Celebrate on June 14

In 1908 the Postoffice Department inaugurated with the other executive departments at Washington the celebration of June 14, the birthday of the flag. Since then each year the day has been observed with appropriate ceremonies. A musical program is rendered in the court of the department building, which is decorated as effectively as possible for the occasion. Such grand opera stars as Madame Schumann-Heink, the noted contralto, and others have given their services free in celebration of Flag Day at the Postoffice Department. This year a number of local soloists, assisted by the United States Army Band, will furnish the entertainment for the occasion.

Flag Day is the only one in the whole year on which the mammoth Stars and Stripes hanging in the Postoffice Department court is furled. In the course of the exercises it is once more unfurled.

State Flags Also

As the postal service is so closely connected with each and every state of the Union, it has seemed proper that the various commonwealths should be represented at the headquarters of that service when the department pays supreme honor to "Old Glory". As a result the department is in possession of the largest collection of state flags gathered together under one roof in the country. Of the 48 states but two—Nevada and Kansas—are missing from the collection. It is expected that within the very near future these two states will adopt state flags. These state flags were presented to the department from time to time by patriotic and departmental organizations and by individuals and much ceremony and pomp have attended their reception by the Postmaster General in behalf of the government.

Scranton Chosen As Convention Site For Oll Fellows Session

(International News Service)

MEADVILLE Pa., June 10.—Scranton was chosen as the site of the 1928 state convention of the Odd Fellows at the annual meeting at Conneaut Lake Park near here today.

The following officers were installed:

Goes To Jail For Three Months To Escape His Wife

BUDAPEST, Hungary, June 9—Jail promised such a relief from his wife's company that Andreas Kurdi passed himself off as his son, served three months in prison and asked to stay longer.

When the authorities discovered Kurdi had fooled them, the judge who sentenced him for his son's offense called him to account before releasing him.

"The penalty I paid was a heavy one," the father explained in court, "but it was worth while. For years I have been puzzling my head to determine how I might escape for a little while from the terrible place my wife has made of my home for 25 years. In prison I had a fine rest and I would gladly spend another three months there rather than return home."

Says Fifty Air Ships Can Protect American Coast

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, June 10.—Fifty commercial airships, converted overnight into aerial warships, can adequately protect the United States from invasion by enemy fleets, it was declared today by Walter Link, president of the American Airship Association, in a statement urging the government to develop lighter-than-air aviation.

Link condemned the five-year aviation program undertaken by the army and navy at the instance of the Morrow board, because it paid so little attention to dirigibles. He also attacked the national advisory council on aeronautics, charging it was "smothering" aeronautical inventions.

BICYCLE RIDING BOYS INJURED

(International News Service)

FRANKLIN, Pa., June 10.—Arthur Ross, 52, of Reno, Pa., and Eugene Shields, 10, of Bully Hill, today are suffering from serious injuries received when the bicycles on which they were riding were run down by automobiles. The two accidents happened several hours apart. Ross who was hit while riding on the Oil City road had his right shoulder dislocated and was lacerated and bruised. The youth received a fractured leg.

Army Plane Will Escort Lindbergh

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, June 10.—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh may have flown alone to Paris, but he isn't going to have much solitude from now on.

An escort of army planes, it was announced today at the war department, will accompany the trans-Atlantic flyer from Washington to New York and from New York to St. Louis.

Jackson Center

Harry Wyand and Glenn McKay are now working for the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company at Sharon.

During the past week, John Rawson has been plowing garden spots for the town folks. It is rather late, but, "better late than never."

Ellis Dye of Jackson township was among the graduates of the Grove City High school, commencement being held on Tuesday night, June 7.

The crew of men who have been repairing the lines of the Bell Telephone company have finished their work through here and are now working on the lines between here and Mercer.

Oakley Elliott, of New Castle, visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Elliott, over the week-end.

The Mercer Steel Mills, where a number of men in this community have been employed have closed down for the summer.

In the ballgame played between Pardoe and Jackson Center at Jackson Park on Tuesday night, Jackson Center won 4 to 0.

If you like to work you won't have any trouble finding someone to let you enjoy yourself.

Cuticura Heals Eczema Over Face Scalp And Ears

"Eczema broke out in a rash around my mouth, and soon spread all over my face, scalp and ears. After about two months it formed blisters and water came from them. It itched so badly that I was compelled to scratch, which made it worse, and I hardly got any sleep at night. My face looked dreadful and my hair fell out so that the top of my head was bald.

"I tried different remedies but it wasn't until I started using Cuticura Soap and Ointment that I got relief, and at the end of three and a half months I was completely healed." (Signed) Thomas F. Tonsey, 19 Willow St., Bayonne, N. J.

Clear the pores of impurities by daily use of Cuticura Soap, with touches of Cuticura Ointment as needed to soothe and heal. Cuticura Talcum is fragrant and refreshing, an ideal toilet powder.

Lindbergh, Flying Ace, Holds Records As Revolver Shot And Bike Rider

By HARRY BLOOMBARGH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

PITTSBURGH, June 10.—Almost everything has been written about Capt. Charles A. Lindbergh, the man who made aviation history with his solo flight across the Atlantic Ocean from New York to Paris, however, it only became known this week that "Lindy" was one of the best shots with a rifle and revolver when he was a student at the University of Wisconsin and that he made a solo motorcycle ride from Chicago to Louisville Ky., in 24 hours with only a two hour stop seven years ago. Another time he made a motorcycle trip from Jacksonville, Florida to Little Falls, Minn., in less than a week.

Told By Buddy

These two added accomplishments of Lindbergh were made known by W. D. O'Connor, employed by a large electrical concern here who was the aviator's "buddy" during their two years at the University of Wisconsin. O'Conner has not seen Lindbergh since they left the engineering department of the university, but they have corresponded ever since.

Lindbergh was not much of a "mixer" at college, O'Connor declared and always preferred to play a lone hand in most everything he undertook.

Lindbergh was "some shot," his friend proudly told visitors.

"Lindbergh could shoot the fire off a cigaret in the mouth of one of the fellows as he stood against a wall fifty feet away," O'Conner asserted. "I have seen him do it many a time.

"One of us would hold an ordinary playing card with the edge toward Lindy. When Charley pulled the trigger the rifle bullet rarely failed to cut the card through the middle. And that was at 50 feet too."

Sent Mother Postals

Lindbergh was nearly as good with a revolver as with a rifle. O'Conner exhibited a picture showing a large snake which Lindbergh had shot through the head with a pistol while the reptile crawled through the grass.

Lindbergh never forgot his mother, no matter where he went or what he did, according to O'Conner.

"During his motorcycle trips, Lindbergh would stop at every town and send a postal card to his mother." O'Conner said.

"He never had a date in school, but there was nothing he didn't know about a motorcycle," O'Conner explained. "We were proud of his marksmanship and would like to show him off to the girls, but he would never allow one of them in the shooting gallery while he was there."

TWO OF FRANKLIN'S MOST NOTED CITIZENS ARE NONAGENERIANS

FRANKLIN, Pa., June 10.—Two of Franklin's most noted citizens, both of them unusually active celebrated their birthday anniversary today.

James Denton Hancock, retired lawyer and former journalist, celebrated his ninetieth anniversary.

At the same time, quietly at his home, Jacob Sheasley was observing his ninty-third anniversary.

Next Tuesday General Charles Miller, another leading figure in Franklin's industrial life, will be 84.

MY KITCHEN NOTEBOOK

Domestic Science Counselor

How Do You Make Coffee?

I'm asked so many times how I make coffee, that I am retaliating this time by asking you. I'd really like to know your method, that I may judge better the kind of coffee the majority of people prefer.

There's nothing on which people have such definite opinions as coffee. Here you will find my recipe for coffee. I offer it with all modesty. You don't have to like it. Still, many people do. They say it has a rich, full body, a fine, mellow flavor, without being overstrong. Part of the secret is in using a good brand of coffee, making it carefully and serving it fresh. But the real reason my coffee is popular is because I always "cream" it with Carnation.

Too Often the Cream Spoils the Coffee

Often I wondered why, with the same grade of coffee and the same method, the flavor should vary so. Suddenly it occurred to me that the cream was the explanation—as it varied from day to day so did the coffee.

It was stupid of me to risk spoiling good coffee with uncertain cream, when all the while I had on my pantry shelves a supply of perfectly dependable, uniformly sweet, pure, rich Carnation. Once I had discovered the unvarying goodness of coffee "creamed" with Carnation, I found that my reputation as a coffee maker grew and flourished. Carnation is more economical, also, costing about one-third as much as cream.

Try This Good, Rich Milk

You'll like Carnation, too—and not alone for coffee but for all cooking. Carnation is simply pure, fresh, whole milk of unvarying high quality, evaporated to double richness and sterilized for safekeeping. It's absolutely dependable, it's very economical—saving butter because of its double portion of cream—and it is the most convenient form of milk obtainable.

In addition, it's "homogenized," which means that all the cream is broken up into tiniest particles and distributed so uniformly that every drop of milk has its generous double share of enriching cream. The finer, more uniformly distributed cream globules give a velvety smoothness, a rich creamy texture and flavor to foods that even the best of bottled milk cannot equal.

The Carnation Cook Book—"My Hundred Favorite Recipes"—will help you discover the wonderful cooking possibilities of Carnation Milk. Let me send you this free book. Address Carnation Milk Products Co., 100 Carnation Bldg., Oconomowoc, Wis.

Carnation Coffee

½ cup medium ground coffee, ½ egg, ½ cup cold water, 3 cups boiling water, ¼ cup cold water. Mix egg and ½ cup cold water; add to coffee in pot; add boiling water, boil up once, stir, allow to boil up again. Add ¼ cup cold water to settle. Serve with Carnation Milk.

Warren Boy Scouts To Make Trip In Big Motor Buses

Forty-Eight Scouts To Leave Ohio City Monday On Trip To Washington

Forty-eight Boy Scouts of Warren, Ohio, are going to have the time of their lives next week when they go on a jaunt that will combine nights spent in camp, motor tour through some of the most beautiful scenic parts of the United States and educational visits to the national capital and points of historic interest.

The trip has been arranged by Scout Executive Olds, who, with three Warren scout masters, will be in charge of the expedition. Washington will be the objective of the scouts, but both coming and going they are going to have a most enjoyable time, for they have chartered two of the newest and most luxurious of the P-O Coach Line coaches to make the trip.

The start from Warren will be made Monday morning in two of the latest model Fageol coaches of the P-O line in charge of two of the most experienced and best drivers, Hugo Boerster and Henry Robb. The start will be made about 6 a. m. and the evening will find the boys at Tower Hill, 23 miles east of Cumberland, Md., where they will camp for the night in true scout fashion. The journey to Washington will be completed on Tuesday and Wednesday and Thursday will be spent in sight seeing in Washington and visits to Mt. Vernon and other points of historic interest.

The eastward trip will be made by way of the National highway. The start home will be made Friday by way of Baltimore and Gettysburg. Friday night the scouts will camp out and on Saturday the long coaching trip will be completed.

LEGATEE MUST PAY TO SON'S CHILDREN UNDER COURT ORDER

UNIONTOWN, Pa., June 10.—For the first time in recent years a Fayette county resident has been ordered by the court and against his will to support his grandchildren. The order came in the case of J. Rosen in an action brought by Mrs. Dorothy Rosen his daughter-in-law.

Mrs. Rosen told the court her husband, Irving, left his estate valued at $10,000 to his father and made no provision for the support of herself and two children.

Rosen was ordered to pay $60 a month for the support of the children and was allowed three days in which to secure a bondsman.

Four Pork Families In Ton Litter Club

County Farmers Have Selected Ton Porkers For 1927 Show; Pennsylvania Record

Four County farmers have selected four porker families for the 1927 Ton Litter Club, the object of which is to promote economical pork production by raising a litter of pigs which will weigh 2,000 pounds at the end of 180 days. Entries for the club closed June 1.

Those who have picked the litter for this year are: F. R. Martin, Bessemer, John E. Houk, Edenburg, A. F. Arnold, Enon Valley, and Lawrence Heacock, New Wilmington.

Three breeds are represented, among them being, Poland-China, Duroc-Jersey and Hampshire.

Pennsylvania has an outstanding record in the production of ton litters. In 1925 they tied with Illinois with 121 litters. In 1926 the Keystone farmers produced 114 of the heavy pork family which put this state second only to Tennessee.

Forest Fires Started By Campers To Bring Punishment By Uncle Sam

By M. F. DACEY
International News Service Staff Correspondent

DENVER, June 10.—A warning that carlessness resulting in the starting of fires in or adjacent to national forests will be dealt with severely was issued by federal forest service officials, following announcement that the United States supreme court in a recent decision declared that carelessness with fire need not be confined to federal forest lands in order to constitute an offense under the United States criminal code.

"Leaving a fire near a federal forest without totally extinguishing it, even tho the fire is started on private land, is a criminal offense," is the gist of the high court decision.

Such offense is punishable by fine or imprisonment, if national timberland is endangered, according to forest service officials here.

To Stop Carelessness

The decision, according to forest officials, coming at the very beginning of the main forest fire season, is expected to be a powerful factor in preventing carelessness with fire on private lands near national forests.

Within recent weeks menacing forest fires have been raging in Colorado and New Mexico, due, it is believed, to carelessness on the part of tourists and campers. In Colorado more than 1,000 fire fighters, including fifty convicts from the state penitentiary, were impressed into service to check flames that threatened disastrous consequences. In the San Isabel National forest, fifty miles west of Pueblo, 2,000 acres of beautiful yellow pine were destroyed before a fire in that region was subdued.

In announcing the United States supreme court's decision regarding carelessness, John A. Hatton, acting district forester here, said:

Careless Campers

"The careless camper or owner can no longer plead private ownership as excuse for leaving a live fire which escapes into government timber. This, combined with the fact that the law applies equally clearly and forcefully to fires abandoned on government land, gives a strong weapon for combating this phase of fire problem."

The supreme court decision was rendered in the case of U. S. vs. D. J. Alford, who had been indicted for building a fire on land adjacent to the Florida National Forest. Alford demurred to the court on the ground that the federal status did not cover leaving a fire at any place except on government land. The lower court sustained the demurrer, but the supreme court of the United States held that the law covered any person who shall build a fire in or near any forest or timber . . . upon the public domain."

Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes, in handing down the decision, declared:

"The purpose of the act is to prevent forest fires which have been one of the great economic misfortunes of the country."

Food Meant To Save Wild Deer Has Killed Many

BELLEFONTE, Pa., June 10.—Game wardens in the Seven Mountain district were exercised last winter over the many dead deer found along the water courses and non-plussed on the cause. It was the general belief that a new disease had made its appearance among the deer and there were grave fears the herds might be decimated.

Thomas H. Harter an old hunter and editor of the Keystone Gazette of Bellefonte asserts the deaths were due to grain colic. Following the heavy snows of the latter part of the winter the State Game commission purchased a carload of corn and had it hauled into the woods and dumped in various places. The deer partook too freely of it Mr. Harter believes.

Catholic Women In Biennial Session

(International News Service)

ASHVILLE, N. C., June 10.—Two thousand Catholic women leaders from all part of the United States and its insular possessions are expected here for the supreme biennial convention of the Catholic Daughters of America, to be held in this city, July 4 to 9. Delegates from every state in the union, and from Panama, Porto Rico, Cuba and Alaska, will come here in special trains, auto caravans and touring parties, for the conclave; which will be presided over by Miss Mary C. Duffy of Newark, N. J., supreme regent of the order, which is the largest Catholic ladies' organization in the world.

Right Rev. Bishop William J. Hafey of the diocese of Raleigh, N. C., national chaplain of the Catholic Daughters of America, who is enroute home to the United States from a pilgrimage to Europe and the Vatican, will celebrate Pontifical Mass formally opening the conclave here on July 4.

GIVING THE GAME AWAY

Brandon Blenkinsop, a great city financier, had brought an action claiming a large sum of money.

He was unable to attend the court proceedings, but as soon as he could he rushed into his solicitor's office to inquire the result:

"My dear sir," said the solocitor imperturbably from behind his mahogany desk, "justice has triumphed."

"Good heavens!" exclaimed the financier. "In that case we must lodge our appeal at once!" —London Answers.

This whole-grain food

brings extra flavor—extra nourishment

The natural, unspoiled flavor of the whole grain—that's what makes a bowl of Mother's Oats taste so good. It cooks so smoothly, too—and you can always count on it being the same.

For the careful millers of Mother's Oats have learned how to make oats finer—smoother—more uniform—through 50 years of experience.

Children notice the difference at once.

And mothers are especially glad to see their growing children enjoy this nourishing breakfast. They know how child health specialists are urging the whole grains these days.

Mother's Oats with milk makes a liberal contribution of vitamins—minerals—protein and other elements that are necessary for sound and perfect development.

Two kinds—the kind you have always known or Quick (cooks in 2½ to 5 minutes). Both with coupons interchangeable with Aunt Jemima coupons, good for silverware and many other handsome articles.

Mother's Oats

Flavors
the whole bowlful

As you mix your spring-time salads, remember that a spoonful of Heinz Vinegar in the dressing gives a bowlful of flavor.

That's because every drop of Heinz Vinegar is full to overflowing with the true vinegar flavor and aroma that bring out the hidden flavors of green things, and add a rich mellowness of their own.

The true vinegar flavor of Heinz Vinegar is developed by long aging in wood. It cannot be hurried. But it is worth all the time and trouble we take to get it for you.

Always economical, because such a little goes such a long way, Heinz Vinegar is now even more reasonable in price than before.

Oak Street Pupils Winners Of Award For High Average

Oak Street Pupils Have Highest Yearly Average For Spelling And Arithmetic

The award given by the Woman's Club of New Castle to the elementary school having the highest yearly average in spelling and rapid arithmetic was won this year by the Oak Street school. It has been held for the past two years by the Terrace school.

Fitting exercises were held in the school yard, the children pledging allegiance to the flag and giving the "Property Pledge."

Mrs. H. M. Kirk and Mrs. J. C. Nothdurft of the Woman's Club were present, Mrs. Kirk presented the award with a fitting speech, and Miss Iretta Dart, principal of the school, receiving it.

This award is beautifully hand illuminated and handsomely framed.

Dr. Green in consultation with the principals of all the elementary schools decided upon the winner.

Twelve-Year Wait For A Name Ends

Adoption Proceedings Give Girl To Stepfather After Long Time

SAN FRANCISCO, June 9—Miss Corinne Elizabeth Baker Warren, debutante, has a legal right to her name now after waiting twelve years. It was given to her in adoption proceedings in the Court of Superior Judge Cabaniss.

Back in 1915, when Corinne was but a child, her mother, Mrs. Corinne Baker, the former Miss Corinne Lindstrom of San Francisco, was married to Charles Albert Warren, now a contractor with offices at No. 519 California Street.

Little Corinne was taken into the Warren household and finally grew to be one of the city's most beautiful society buds. But through all these years she was, in the eyes of the law still Corinne Elizabeth Baker, though known socially as Corinne Warren.

So her stepfather made her his legally adopted daughter by securing adoption papers through the courts. He set forth in his application that he took her into his home, supported her, and has actually been a father to her for the last twelve years.

Sues Doctor, Says Delay Was Fatal

NEW YORK, June 10.—Charging that a two-hour delay of an emergency operation while a doctor waited for his fee caused the death of his daughter, Max Kaminsky, of Brooklyn, testified in the Brooklyn supreme court before Justice Strong.

Kaminsky is demanding $100,000 damages from Dr. Jacob Sarnoff, physician and surgeon, of Brooklyn. Kaminsky's daughter, Hortense, seven, died in Harbor hospital, Cropsey avenue, Brooklyn, seven days after Dr. Sarnoff operated on her.

Rooster Is Trying To Hatch Out Eggs

MONTGOMERY Mo., June 10.—T. W. Allen farmer residing at Richland church near here claims a leghorn rooster with maternal instinct.

The rooster has been sitting two weeks on a nest of 21 eggs and promises to hatch out a fine family.

"He's as faithful on the job as any hen would be" said Allen.

The farmer plans to enter the leghorn and his family in the state poultry show.

No one, surely, has the temerity to think that the Republican party will ever change G. O. P. to mean "Get Out, Prohibition."—The Christian Science Monitor.

Mrs. McCormick's Political Possibilities Excite Women

MRS. McCORMICK'S Marshall
By CHARLES P. STEWART
Exclusive Central Press Dispatch to The New Castle News

WASHINGTON, June 10—Washington feminists are all a-flutter over Mrs. Medill McCormick's threat—or was it a semi-promise?—to run for governor of Illinois at the next election.

"A-flutter," on second thoughts, is the wrong expression.

The managers of women's political activities at the capital are strictly practical persons. They don't do anything so frivolous as to flutter.

Anyway they're very enthusiastic.

Broadly speaking, three schools of women's political thought are represented here.

1. Each of the big party committees has a woman vice chairman, with a corps of women workers under her.

There job's to catch Republican and Democratic votes, respectively women's votes, of course. A candidate's sex doesn't enter into their calculations— only his or her party affiliations.

2 The National League of Women Voters.

This body's mission is to get out the feminine vote, but not to influence it for any particular party or candidacy. It emphatically draws no political distinction between men and women.

3. The National Woman's Party.

We'd better give this group a little separate consideration. it's quite different from the others and not so very friendly with them.

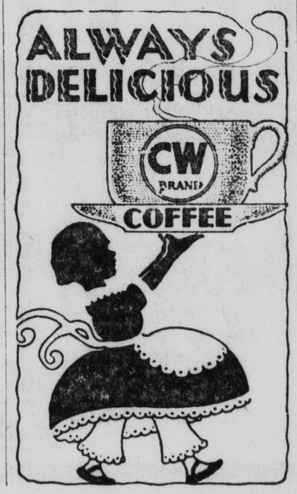
The National Woman's Party is just what its name implies—a national party of women.

It's feminist, in a militant, belligerent sense.

While women now have the franchise, it holds that that's about all they have got, yet—politically. It wants their rights— all of 'em.

As for offices, it points out that women have been conceded only a few picayune little appointments and a handful of nominations for places the politicians were sure they couldn't be elected to.



The National Woman's Party has its collective eye on the presidency, as its final goal.

I've talked with a good many of its members, at one time or another and they pretty generally agreed that the way to break into the White House ultimately is through the capture, sooner or later, of second place on one of the major party tickets.

They feel pretty sure that women would line up pretty solidly behind a presidential candidate—regardless of politics— with one of their own sex as his running mate, insuring victory for the pair of them.

Thus, even if the president himself didn't providentially die, the country would grow accustomed to the idea of a woman as a possibility for the post of chief magistrate—and who knows what mightn't happen next time, or eventually?

But the right woman to serve this purpose?

The party hardly estimates Congresswoman Kahn, Rogers or Norton or Assistant Attorney General Willebrandt as measuring up to presidential requirements, capable as they are in their present positions. Ex-Gov. Nellie T. Ross' geography is against her—Wyoming's an out-of-the-way state for political purposes— and Ma Ferguson's administration wasn't very satisfactory.

All feminists look with longing eyes on Mrs. Nicholas Longworth. But she doesn't seem a bit ambitious.

But Mrs. McCormick!—one of the ablest people in the country, man or woman. With her qualifications!—a politician down to the ground, position to burn, millions of money. And her antecedents!—Marc Hanna's daughter, a senator's widow. As governoress of Illinois!—there's a state that packs a political punch.

No wonder the feminists sit up and take political notice.

Select County Boys For Judging Contest

H. R. McCulloch Selects Six Lawrence County Boys For Young Farmers Week

June 15 to 18 is the date set for the Young Farmers week at Pennsylvania State College, this being the eighth annual event of its kind. Lawrence county will be represented by six boys, listed as follows:

Swine judging team, David Bruce, New Castle, R. D. 9, Howard Glenn and Clifford McKissick, Slippery Rock, R. D. 4.

Dairy Judging team, Reed Forbes, New Castle, R. D. 4, Alvin McFarland, New Castle, R. D. 9, and Ralph Nagel of Ellwood City.

These boys will take part in the State wide judging contest. They have all been members of the Boys Live-Stock Club, conducted by H. R. McCulloch of the Lawrence County Agriculture Association. The lads were selected because of winning judging contests during the New Castle Fair last fall.

THOUGHT HE HAD EARNED IT.

A member of a theatrical company was boasting of his love for the stage. He said:

"My father said to me one day: I will give you $50,000 if you won't become an actor!'"

"Indeed!" said the comedian of the company, "what did you do with all the money?"—Montreal Gazette.

g Wild West Welcome Ready For Ad Writers

Denver To Greet 5,000 Advertising Men With Great Acclaim

Noted Men Of Business World Will Take Part In Convention Program

By M. F. DACEY
International News Service Staff Correspondent

DENVER, June 10—A vociferous "wild west" welcome will be accorded the 5,000 delegates to the International Advertising Association upon their arrival in this city for the annual convention to be held here June 26 to 30.

Local "greeters" in chaps, ten-gallon hats and gaudy 'kerchiefs' will board incoming trains and with cheers bid the delegates and their friends welcome to Denver—the "queen of host cities."

And the greeters' hospitality will immediately take on a more material heartiness when they will care for the disposition of the luggage of each individual visitor and act as escorts until the delegates are comfortably located in their respective hotels.

The meeting of the International Advertising Association here will attract many thousands of visitors to the city, hundreds coming from a dozen foreign countries. And the conclave will witness the gathering of eighteen departmental conventions of advertising organizations affiliated with the world ad men.

Other Conventions

"The vast scope of modern advertising and the complete representation of this convention are indicated by the important subsidiary associations meeting simultaneously with the International Advertising Association," declared Ralph H. Faxon, general manager of the Denver Committee on Arrangements.

Every phase of advertising will be discussed during the week's sessions, and a wide and varied program of entertainment has been arranged for the delegates and other visitors, including motor trips through Denver's mountain park system and to the score of scenic wonders in the adjacent Colorado Rockies.

Denver is destined to be the clearing house for the nation's business during this ad men's convention week, with 5,000 men and women—business leaders in their respective fields—contact agents of the world of affairs—present at the meeting here.

Representatives of virtually all the big industrial and commercial concerns of the United States, as well as from many foreign countries will attend the various sessions.

Cabinet Represented

Two cabinet officials—Secretary of Commerce Herbert Hoover, and Secretary of the Interior Hubert? Work—will be among the prominent speakers.

Other noted men on the program will include Will Hays, "movie czar"; Charles M. Schwab of the United States Steel Corporation; E. D. Gibbs of the National Cash Register company; M. W. Aylesworth, president of the National Broadcasting company of New York; Colonel Fredrick Lawton of the London Times; Sir William Veno, a noted advertising expert of London; Harold E. Ritchie of Toronto, Ont.; Paul Henderson of the National Air Transport, Chicago; Harold Stanier of the Advertising Club of Los Angeles; Mrs. Emily Newell Blair, chairman of the Women's Democratic National committee, and Marcel Knecht, Paris, France, publisher.

Tennis Club Is Being Formed

New Wilmington Players Expect To Play Tourneys During Summer

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., June 10.—With the Westminster varsity tennis season now completed, plans for the new tennis club at New Wilmington are rapidly taking form. "Billy" Clark, star and No. 1 man on this years Tri-State conference championship team at Westminster, is the guiding hand of the club. Matches have already been planned with the Greenville, Youngstown, and Beaver Falls tennis clubs and it is expected that the team supported by the New Wilmington club will also journey to New Castle, Sharon, and Grove City during the summer.

Material for a championship team at New Wilmington is much in evidence. Beside Clark there are the Crowe brothers, "Johnny" Cummings, George Herriott, and "Art" Kirkbride available for the club team. With the Phi Pi Phi fraternity court at their disposal and preliminary equipment in their hands the New Wilmington tennis club is well on the way to a sound standing. Officers for the club are to be elected at an early meeting.

French Deputies Reject Proposal In Match Monopoly

(International News Service)

PARIS June 10.—The Chamber of Deputies today rejected Premier Poincare's proposal that the French match monopoly be sold to a Swedish firm for $80,000,000 by a vote of 281 to 243.

The measure was not one of confidence, but it is considered as a political check to the premier, and is the stiffest rebuff he has received since he took office.

The premier had asked that the monopoly be granted so that France might have the $80,000,000 available for use in negotiating a settlement of the debt to the United States.

Scranton Officials Work Hard To Solve Slaying Of Officer

(International News Service)

LANCASTER, Pa., June 10. — Belief that police have clues which may lead to the solution of the murder of Lieut. Elwood Gainor, of the Lancaster police, was expressed here today when it was learned that authorities have had a circular printed which is said to contain descriptions of two widely known police characters, sought for questioning.

It is expected the circular will be mailed to police in all parts of the country shortly. The names of the suspects were not learned.

Lieut. Gainor was lured from his home here and shot to death in a woods near Sharon Hill, some distance from here.

Our little book review for today: Bold Bendigo by Paul Herring (Lippincott). A romance of bare-knuckle prize fighting in England. Gobs of local color; interesting as history; not at all thrilling.

Asks Removal Of Benches In Square

Garden Club Head Also Requests Other Steps To Beautify City

To Plant Trees Around Jameson Memorial Hospital For Heroes

There will be several additional beauty spots in the city of New Castle as the result of intensive work by members of the Garden Club, according to word delivered to city council today, which appears wholeheartedly in favor of improving the appearance of the city, wherever possible, and it is probable that solcns will co-operate with Garden club plans.

Today, Mrs. DeGraff Pearson, of the club, addressed council and requested that the Public benches be removed. She claims that some persons who occupy the seats scatter newspapers about the plot.

She declared that the plot is a section where business men and business women can find refreshment and declares that route signs should be removed. She told of the club having planted trees and which are to be dedicated to the late Mrs. George Greer.

"We want a woven wire fence, painted in green, placed about the grass plots in the Diamond and we do not want chicken wire. We also suggest that you furnish ample police protection and a safety zone on the south side of the square.

Mrs. Pearson suggested that signs reading "Show your city pride" be placed instead of "keep off the grass" and then told of making plans with local officials of the Pennsylvania railroad whereby a plot near the station will be made into a bed of flowers.

Plans for the improvement of land about the Pittsburgh and Lake Erie, Mrs. Pearson said, had been taken up by local railway officials with those in Pittsburgh and that probabilities are they will be adopted. Post office grounds are to be improved, too.

Councilmen told Mrs. Pearson she should have suggested to the Pennsylvania that a new railroad station should be erected here and she added that the club has suggested that one of the stations be painted.

Among her remarks was that gasoline stations here, nowadays, are being converted into beauty spots. Many of the proprietors are adding a touch of beauty by installing flower beds and are building stations of material pleasing to the eye.

It was also learned that the Garden club plans to plant 35 trees to commemmorate the memory of 35 soldiers from here who gave their lives during the World War. The trees will be planted about the Jameson Memorial hospital grounds.

Charge Man Had Still Operating In His Bath Room

Martin Cunieluk of Frank Way, had a still in operation in the bath room of his home last night, when the place was visited by city and county officers.

In spite of the fact that the officers were armed with a search warrant, admission was refused and the officers had to break into the place.

Cunieluk was arrested and held at the city police station until this morning, when he was taken before Alderman William E. Marshall, where he is charged with violation of the Snyder Act by County Detective William Fleming.

The arresting party consisted of County Detective Fleming, Constables A. S. Leslie and James Ellison and members of the city police force.

Special Children's Day Program At Gospel Tabernacle

Miss Stella Rudy, missionary from South China, evangelistic worker among the young people and children of the Christian and Missionary Alliance will conduct a special Children's Day service at the Gospel Tabernacle, 210 Pearson St., Sunday morning.

The pastor, Rev. Herbert Dyke, who has just returned from Omaha, Neb., where he was attending the annual council of the Christian and Missionary Alliance will speak at the evening service.

BOY ARRESTED AFTER SHOOTING

Frank Cartwright, Jr., aged 13, is being held at the county detention home in default of $1000 bail on a charge of felonious shooting, before Alderman Coates, made by Mrs. Lillian Guckert, mother of Leonard Trushel, aged 12, who was shot a short time ago along the Neshannock Narrows while the boys were shooting at a target.

The Trushel boy, although seriously wounded, is now recovering at the New Castle hospital.

The hearing will be held later.

Final Assembly At High School

School Term Closes At Senior High School This Morning

The Senior high school has closed for the summer.

The students reported at the school at 8:45 this morning for the last time this school term. For the seniors who received their diplomas last night at the commencement exercises in the Scottish Rite Cathedral it was the last time in their scholastic career.

Reports were given to the students, after which an assembly program was held in the auditorium of the school.

The assembly was opened with the school song. After the reading of the Bible Principal Frank L. Orth reviewed the school year. He congratulated the graduating class for its fine showing in the past three years. He stated that there were 36 honor students, more than 11 per cent of the class, in the class which received their diplomas last evening. He also remarked that he hoped the seniors would follow the new school motto, "Perge Modo", which means when translated, "Forward March" throughout their lives.

After congratulating the class Mr. Orth introduced John A. Ortell, a representative of the safety division of the Carnegie Steel Company, who presented the awards for the poster contest in connection with the Lawrence County Garden Club. Awards were made to elementary and high school students.

Ralph Gardner then presented school letters to members of the track team.

Miss Ruth Boyd, director of the girls' physical activities at the school, presented the members of the girls' varsity and senior basketball teams with school letters.

The closing feature of the program was the presentation of prizes to the winners in the recent "anti-cigarette" essay contest conducted by the W. C. T. U. Miss Allison of the English department made the awards.

Without announcing that the school was dismissed, Mr. Orth only stated that the school would resume September 6, next, and the students rushed from the school, free.

This closed the term at the Senior high school.

Iceland Parliament To Celebrate Its Thousand Years Of History

By AXEL THORSTEINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

REYKJAVIK, June 10.—Elaborate preparations are already in the making for the celebration in 1930 of the thousandth anniversary of the establishment of the Parliament of Iceland. A great influx of travelers is expected from all parts of the world and the festivities will continue for many months. At least 2,000 visitors are expected from America.

The ceremonies in 1930 will recall the discovery of Iceland by the Vikings in 930, and the establishment of a lawmaking body at Thingvellir, where for centuries the Icelandic farmers gathered to settle their country's affairs.

Viking Republic

The Norse Vikings founded a republic in Iceland, but later the Norse kings got a foothold in the island and still later Norway ceded Iceland to Denmark. Since 1919 Iceland has been an independent country, the union with Denmark being purely a personal one, as the King of Denmark is also the King of Iceland. The independence then won was the culmination of a long struggle, the Danes at last yielding to the Icelandic demands for greater freedom. At present the relations between the two countries are good, and either has the right, after 1943, to cut the cord which binds them.

In the years 1870-1900 Icelanders settled in great numbers in Canada and the United States, chiefly in Manitoba and South Dakota, but since then have moved to various parts of North America. It is now estimated that there are at least 30,000 persons in America whose ancestors were Icelanders.

Hire Big Liners

It is understood that the plan of the American Icelanders in 1930 is to hire one of the Atlantic passenger steamers and to sail direct from New York to Reykjavik to join in the parliamentary festival. After stopping at Reykjavik and visiting Thingvellir, which is beautifully situated near a great lake between the lava fields, the party would sail around the island and then proceed to Norway, Iceland's mother country, and to the Orkney Islands, the Isle of Man and Ireland, the principal places from which sailed the ancient vikings who first settled Iceland.

Chicago Cubs Get Kansas City Player

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, June 10.—Another Cubs deal was announced by President William Veeck today. It brings Eddie Pick, third baseman for the Kansas City American Association team, into the Bruin fold in exchange for third baseman Howard Freigau and pitcher Luther Roy.

The players will report to their new assignments at once. Pick will play third base for the cubs.

High School Class Plans For Outing

Class Of 1913 Hopes To Have Largest Attendance At Alumni Gathering

At a meeting of the members of the class of 1913 of the New Castle high school held this week, plans were made for the attendance of the class at the annual outing and reunion of the New Castle High School Alumni Association to be held at Cascade Park on June 17.

The class has mailed out invitations to every member of the class and is making strenuous efforts to have the largest attendance of any class in the picnic grove on the evening of that day, in order that it may retain the cup presented last year to the class having the best attendance.

Here is the whole philosophy of life: A cigarette tastes a lot better if you haven't had one for a long time.

Here the year is almost half gone and still no sign of the annual idiotic popular song.

New Air Worlds To Conquer Sought By American Aviators

International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, June 10.—Inspired by the spectacular achievement of Captain Charles A. Lindbergh in flying from New York to Paris without a stop, aviators in this country are now seeking new air worlds to conquer.

What will be the next air exploit? This question is being asked on all sides in view of the seemingly easy manner in which "Slim" Lindbergh winged his way across the expansive Atlantic to the French capital. Yet, strangely enough, there are not a great many new flights left—that is, flights that would appeal to the imagination as has Lindbergh's and that would go down into history as epoch-making accomplishments.

New Air Adventures

But, just the same, new air adventures are being conceived and at no distant date one, several or all of the following may be attempted.

1. A flight from the Pacific coast to Honolulu.
2. A flight from the Pacific coast to Japan.
3. Pacific coast to Philippine Islands.
4. Pacific Coast to Australia.
5. A non-stop flight over the North Pole, between Spitzbergen and Alaska, in a heavier-than-air macine.
6. A flight over the South Pole.
7. A transcontinental non-stop flight to lower the record of Macready and Kelly, established in 1921.
8. An attempt to break the endurance flying record recently established by Chamberlin and Acosta.

Byrd to South Pole

Commander Richard E. Byrd, who last year flew over the North Pole, is contemplating making the trip over the South Pole this year. Lindbergh has indicated he would like to break the world's endurance record.

Army and navy fliers have been turned a speculative eye toward Hawaii. This flight was attempted twice and each time resulted in failure. There is rivalry between both arms of the service to see which branch will make this 2,100 mile jump first. Other fliers, too, are interested.

Linton Wells, holder of the world's speed record, has suggested a speed flight around the world to break the record he holds of 28 days 14 hours and 36 minutes 5 seconds. Wells established this record last year, covering 8,500 miles of the distance by airplane.

Outlining a route around the world of approximately 22,000 miles he said it was possible, in his opinion, to make such a flight in fifteen days. He had contemplated a trip in which he and Lieut. Leigh Wade would leave New York on July 1 and girdle the globe in half a month. Several months ago he made an unsuccessful attempt to raise money to finance such a hazardous journey.

Made Big Plans

He and Wade planned to jump off at New York for San Francisco without a stop; make changes in his plane there and, after a rest, hop off for Hawaii; then after another brief rest head for Midway Island, 1,200 miles northwest of Honolulu; refuel and set forth on the great adventure of flying 2,500 miles from Midway Island to the Japanese archipelago, arriving at Kasumigaura naval station near Yokohoma on July 6-7, six days out of New York. The next hop would be to Harbin, Manchuria, 1,000 miles, and then over a route including stops for oil at a few of the following points: Chita, Irkutsk, Tomsk, Omsk, Kurgan, Kazan, Moscow (all in Siberia and Russia); Kovno, Lithuania, Koenigsburg, East Prussia, Berlin, Paris and London.

"With luck we would be in London on July 13 and then hop off for New York," he said. "Arriving in New York on July 15, we would have girdled the world in fifteen days and smashed a number of records in doing it."

Aviators generally believe as time goes on time and space will be annihilated and new achievements written upon the pages of aviation.

Big Holstein Cow Sets New Record

(International News Service)
OGDENSBURG, N. Y., June 10—In 13 years one Holstein cow at the State Hospital here has given 75 tons of milk, which would furnish a total of 6,000 pounds of butter.

This represents nearly 1,800 cans of milk with 40 quarts to the can. In the 560 weeks she has been milked, the cow has given 150,771 pounds of milk, and has averaged 11,582 pounds a year, with one off year.

The hospital herd of cattle of 217 cows is the largest fully accredited herd in the state, and the average net profit from the herd a year is $7,479.2.

Preacher Changes Time Of Services For Golf Players

(International News Service)
WATERTOWN, N. Y., June 10.—Golf playing on Sunday is all right in its way, and to prove that he believes men and women who are employed during the week should secure their recreation where they can find it, Rev. Harry Westbrook Reed, pastor of All Soul's Universalist Church here, will hold Sunday services in the future at 8:30 a. m.

The early morning service, he explains, will give members of the church an opportunity to attend divine services and then go fishing, to a ball game, out on the links, for a motor ride or work in the garden.

Announcement that the Rev. Mr. Reed would hold special "golfers' service" each Sunday in the future at 8:30 a. m. caused a wave of rejoicing among members of his congregation.

It also caused a wave of protest from other denominations. But none of his fellow preachers cared to publicly criticise Dr. Reed's move.

"I believe that every man, woman and child should attend services at some hour Sunday," Dr. Reed declared.

"I believe that in order to give men and women who are confined to their desks or other forms of employment during the week an opportunity to both worship and play, a special morning service is needed and I propose to hold services for those who wish to attend at 8:30 each Sunday.

"If members of my congregation wish to attend a ball game, pay a visit to the golf links, or enjoy a ride into the country, they will have plenty of time to do so."

Legion Plans For Health Insurance On Trip To Paris

(International News Service)
INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., June 10—A policy that is unique in the annals of life insurance has been arranged for coverage of American Legionnaires going to the France convention to be held in Paris, September 19 to 23, it was announced by Howard P. Savage, National Commander of the Legion.

All veterans from the ages of ten to sixty years in the France movement will be insured upon payment of a nominal fee, much less than that charged for ordinary travel insurance. The Legion insurance will cover both loss of health or injury from accident. One of the unique provisions of this insurance is that it will pay upon injury arising from getting on or off moving vehicles, a feature that most travel insurance does not have.

As a double margin of safety, The Independence Indemnity Company, which will handle the insurance for the Legion has re-insured against loss with Lloyd's of London. The Legion insurance is not resigned to build up an estate for the veteran but to protect him, up to the sum of $250, from the time he starts from home for Paris and until he again arrives at home, in no instance to be more than three months. The cost of the insurance is a flat rate of $2.75 per person.

The insurance arranged for the Legionnaire is considered sufficient to insure medical, surgical, and hospital treatment in event of injury or sickness. Under its provisions a man will not have to lose an eye or limb to collect but will be taken care of if he is sick for a few days. Adjusters of the company will have offices at the France convention office of the Legion in the French capital and empowered to make immediate adjustments.

Natty Uniforms To Be Worn In Paris

(International News Service)
BOSTON, Mass., June 10.—Bay state Legionaires who go to the Paris convention September 19th to 23d, will be clad in natty uniforms. Both men and women will wear the uniform on the overseas pilgrimage.

The uniforms are to be of blue serge with single-breasted coats made with a peak lapel collars, buttoned down the front with four gilt American Legion buttons of adopted standard. The seal of the Commonwealth with the letters "Mass" below will be embroidered on the left sleeve in yellow silk, and the American Legion emblem will be embroidered on each lapel, while the post numerals, in gilt metal, will appear on the collars.

Trousers will be of the same material as the coats with stripes on the side seams of yellow cloth.

HUSBAND AND WIFE COLLEGE STUDENTS

UNION CITY, June 10.—Prof. and Mrs. C. P. Hudson who have been teaching in Pikeville, Ky., during the past year, are spending a short time in Union City where they formerly resided, and where both were successful teachers in the Union City public and high schools.

Following a visit to Schenectady, N. Y., where Prof. Hudson graduated from Union college and at the close of the commencement exercises, they will go to Pennsylvania State college for a post-graduate course, the former studying in the scientific institute of the American Chemical society for a master's degree and Mrs. Hudson will study at the under-graduate school.

Returning to Pikeville in the early fall Prof. Hudson will take the chair of mathematics in the college and Mrs. Hudson will resume her work in the Junior high school.

Low Price On GOODYEAR TIRES

Motorists are beginning to learn that there's a big difference in tires, although they all look pretty much alike.

Some are made with skimpy, short staple cotton. Some have an overdose of "filler" in the rubber of the tread. Some are long on looks and short on quality.

But you won't need a microscope to be sure that the Goodyear Tire you get from me is a real buy. Goodyear mileages tell the story.

Goodyears are performing so satisfactorily for my customers that they invariably come back—not with a kick but with a boost, and for another Goodyear when they need tire equipment.

ARE YOU LIKE W. H. SMITH? ALL "DRAGGED OUT?"

Every day some grateful man or woman writes us about what World's Catarrh Treatment has done for him or her.

Here's the case of W. H. Smith, living at W. Bridgewater. His condition is typical of a lot of you. He got up in the morning tired out—his mouth tasted bad and he had to force himself to go to work. After work he was all in—just dragged around. Doctors didn't help him. A dozen remedies failed.

He didn't know what was the matter, but when our demonstrator saw him it was evident he was full of catarrh. Catarrh means stagnation. His stomach didn't work right; his digestion didn't give him the elements he needed to be full of pep. The membranes lining his stomach and bowels are full of congestion—just stagnation.

A single bottle of World's Catarrh treatment started him improving. Things began to clear up. Now Mr. Smith writes us:

"The change is wonderful. Three bottles of World's Catarrh Remedy have made me a new man. I get up lively, ready for anything. My day's work doesn't tire me out, and after it I am full of energy and enjoy every minute."

Why should you drag around half dead when this wonderful treatment may be had? Get started on it today. You can get World's Catarrh Remedy at McKee's, Eckerd's, Paisley's, Smith's, and all other first class druggists. (275)

De Pinedo Will Continue His Flight To Rome

(International News Service)
HORTA, Azores, June 10.—Commander Francesco de Pinedo, Italian inter-continental flyer, left Horta at 6:20 o'clock today on the continuation of his flight back home to Italy.

De Pinedo planned to return to the spot in the Atlantic ocean several hundred miles off the Azores where he was forced down and hop off from there for Ponta Delgada to take on fuel; then continue on his way to Lisbon. Weather conditions here were perfect.

VOLANT

VANCE-MINNIGH

A pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Minnigh at high noon Wednesday, when their daughter, Elsie Wilmina, was united in marriage to Ernest Vance, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Vance of Mercer. The home was beautifully decorated with spring flowers and shrubs. The ceremony took place beneath an arch of orange blossoms and ferns, with Rev. L. W. Miller, pastor of Volant M. E. church, officiating.

The bride, charmingly attired in a gown of white georgette crepe, with lace and ornaments to match, carried a bouquet of roses and swansonias, and was given in marriage by her father. Miss Lois Nelson, as maid of honor, wore pink georgette and carried a bouquet of pink roses. Alvin Vance, brother of the groom, served as best man.

Miss Wylda Lusk, cousin of the bride, played the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march. Supplementing the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's parents, covers being placed for 50 guests. Cut flowers were used in decorating.

Mr. and Mrs. Vance left for a motor trip to Washington, D. C., and other points of interest. They will reside in Mercer, Pa., where Mr. Vance is employed.

The following were guests at the wedding: Mr. and Mrs. Frank Vance of Mercer, William Vance of Mercer, Alvin Vance of Grove City, Pa.; Miss Lois Nelson of Grove City, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Winger of Mercer, Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Fyffe of Mercer, Mrs. Mary Anderson of Mercer, Miss Helen Montgomery of Mercer, Miss Naomi Masters of New Castle, Mrs. Ida Masters of New Castle, William Hodgetts of New Castle, Miss Wylda Lusk of New Castle, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Lusk and daughters, Gertrude and Leona, of Volant, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Anderson and family of New Wilmington, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Minnigh and family of New Wilmington, Mrs. Alice Robinson of Mercer, Pa., Misses Louise and Ethel Munnell of New Castle, Mr. and Mrs. William Mayne of Mercer, Mrs. Harry Fisher of Pittsburgh, Mr. and Mrs. James Fyffe of Volant, Rev. and Mrs. L. W. Miller and daughter, Lois May, of Volant, Mrs. Ella Minnigh of Volant.

CHURCH SERVICES

The Presbyterian Sunday school services will be held at 1:30 p. m. C. H. Lusk, superintendent. Afternoon services at 2: 30. Rev. C. M. Rohrbaugh, pastor.

The Methodist Sunday school services will be held at 10 a. m. C. A. Rudolph, superintendent. Morning worship 11 o'clock. Rev. L. W. Miller, pastor. Evening services at 7:30 p. m. Rev. Neigh, district superintendent of New Castle district, will give the address in the evening.

Evangelistic services are under way at the Methodist church. Rev. L. W. Miller, pastor, is being assisted by Rev. and Mrs. Pietrie of Wampum, Pa. During the coming week a quartet from Grove City will entertain. There is special music each evening by the junior choir.

VOLANT NOTES

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Hunt and family attended the Hunt reunion held at Packard Park, Warren, O., on Wednesday.

Mrs. T. J. Simison and Mrs. V. O. Wilkin attended the commencement exercises held at Westminster College Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Book and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Book and son Charles, of New Castle, were dinner guests on Tuesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Allen.

Mrs. George Brown and daughter, Elizabeth Jane, are spending a few days at the home of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. V. O. Wilkin.

The ladies of the Presbyterian church met at the church Wednesday and did the cleaning. As soon as the carpet is laid the church will be ready for occupancy.

The boys' class of the Presbyterian church, R. N. Moose, teacher, enjoyed a weiner roast at the home of C. H. Lusk on Tuesday evening.

The children are busy preparing for Children's Day. On account of evangelistic services being held in the Methodist church the exercises will be held June 19 at 11 a. m.

Bankers Complete State Convention

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, June 10.—The final session of the thirty-third annual convention of the Pennsylvania Bankers' Association was held here today. The election and installation of officers was the principal remaining business.

This afternoon the visiting bankers were to forget business matters long enough to play a round of golf at the Pittsburgh Field club, the final event on the program.

Each delegate was presented with a copy of the report of Secretary C. F. Zimmerman, Huntingdon, which was in printed form.

Newspaper Ads Best, He Declares

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., June 10. —"Dollar for dollar, the return from newspaper advertising is much greater than from any other form of advertising," it was declared here today by D. F. Kelly, president of The Fair mammoth department store of Chicago, in an address before members of the fiftieth annual convention of the National Electric Light Association.

Report Over 400 Chinese Drown

Flight Before Nationalist Army Proves Disastrous To Large Number

(International News Service)
SHANGHAI, June 10. — Nearly 420 Chinese were drowned in a little lake west of Pechiu Anwhei province, while in flight before the Nationalist army which occupied the town, according to a dispatch from Nanking today.

In addition to the capture of the town the Nationalists claim to have taken many prisoners and much booty, routing the northern army that was defending the place.

The municipality has begun the removal of the barbed wire barricades within the international settlement and along the boundaries. They had been erected several months ago when an anti-foreign outbreak was feared.

Dies Suddenly While Visiting His Sister

SHARON, Pa., June 10—Stricken with paralysis while at work in South Myers avenue, Charles E. Sharpe, 61, of Miami, Fla., formerly a Sharon resident and widely known here, died instantly.

Sharpe, with his wife, came here two weeks ago from Miami to visit the latter's sister, Mrs. Nillah Williams, wife of City Clerk Fred S. Williams, Washington street. He decided to seek employment here and obtained a position as foreman with the James McCarron's Sons company of Youngstown, engaged in paving local streets. He started work only a few hours before his death.

SHAKESPEAREAN ANYWAY

"No? Well, who did?"

"Othello said that."

"Well, what did Hamlet say?"

"Hamlet said: "My Kingdom for a horse."

UNCLE SAM FIGHTING A WAR IN CORN FIELDS

CHAMBERLIN AS A BOY IN HIS OLD HOME TOWN

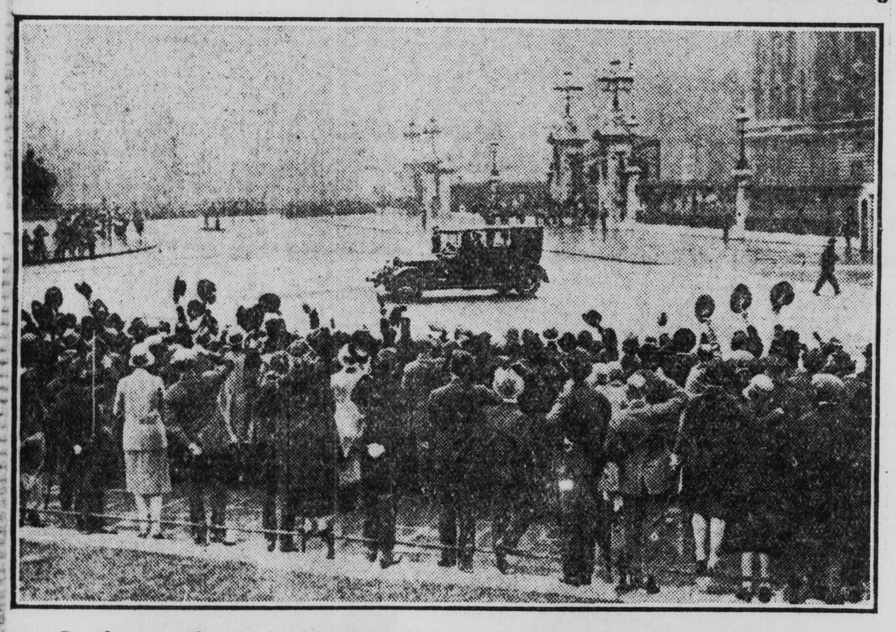
WHEN LINDBERGH CALLED ON ENGLAND'S KING

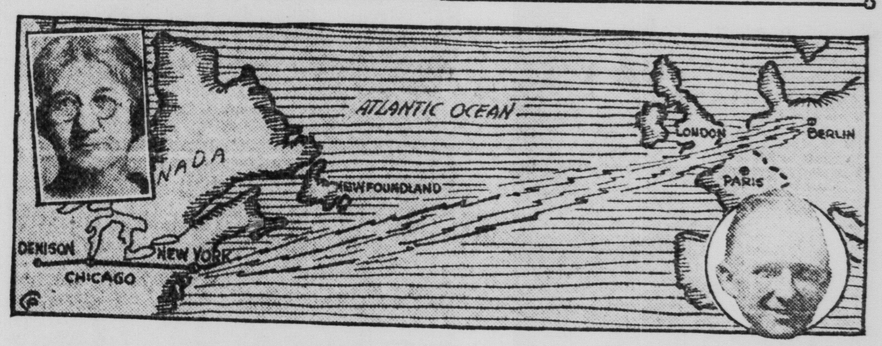


Crowds surrounding Buckingham Palace, London, England, cheering Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh, youthful American hero of the air, as he arrived in a limousine to call on King George. He was given a private audience with the English monarch, which lasted more than half an hour and at which he was presented with the Air Force cross.

IN WILDERNESS THREE YEARS

The weaker sex? Well, here's pretty Eileen Young who braved a three-year exile in the wilderness of Mono county, California, to win a homestead, with a rifle and Reno, her dog, as her only companions. The nearest town was 30 miles away, and a tribe of Piute Indians her only neighbors. She has returned to her home in San Jose for a "breathing space."

A MOTHER'S LONGEST LONG DISTANCE CALL



Mrs. E. C. Chamberlin of Denison, Ia., by "calling up" her son, Clarence D. Chamberlin, New York-Germany non-stop flyer, in Germany, has made the longest long distance telephone call a mother ever has made a son. By land wires and then via radiophone over the ocean to London, where an intermediary retransmitted, Mrs. Chamberlin told her boy in Berlin that she and his father were happy. Insets are of Chamberlin and his mother.

NOTED YOUNG MEN AT BALL

Slain on Beach

Police of Salisbury Beach, Mass., are confronted with a mysterious murder case in the finding of the body of Miss Stella Pomikala, 22, above, of Lawrence, Mass., on the beach near the resort. The sand about the body bore evidence of a terrific struggle. The girl, blond and beautiful, had been at the resort a week, and was in the habit of walking alone on the beach at night.

Creator Of Jiggs Needs Elephant To Move Mail

Barrels Of Names For Elephant Are Received By McManus

Expect Decision In Contest Within Next Two Weeks

By GEORGE McMANUS.
Creator of "Bringing Up Father."

When I announced a Fifty Dollar prize for the best name applicable to the elephant presented to Jiggs by a rajah of India, I had no idea that evedybody in America was so interested in zoology. In fact, I'm beginning to doubt that the interest is zoologic. I'm beginning to think that fifty dollars is a lot of money. In fact I'm beginning to think that most of the population is beginning to think that fifty dollars is a lot of money.

Names have come in by the barrel. Half a dozen letter carriers have grown feeble in the service. I have become blear-eyed and haggard. For weeks I haven't been able to sleep more than six hours a night. And letters and names continue to pour in.

Already enough names have been received to christen all the elephants in this world and most of them in the next. And still they come.

Letters from college professors and letters from kindergarten prodigies; letters from six years old, and from those over sixty.

Bank presidents have laid aside their white carnations. Day laborers have exchanged their picks and shovels for dictionaries. Race track enthusiasts have switched their affections from horses to pachyderms! For Jiggs' elephant must have a name, and there's a fifty dollar prize awaiting the right one.

Bu there must, of course be a limit. A dozen secretaries threaten to take up stage careers unless there is. And so, in order to preserve the peace it has been decided that the name contest ended Thursday, June 9.

Incidentially, it will take me and my 14 special assistants a week or two after June 9 to pick the winnig name and anuounce it in a special statement. For the mountain of mail already piled up (we are reading it with rapidity, at that) is overwhelming. "Jake" the huskiest porter in these parts, has just growled on delivering two more sacks of letters.

"You'll have to hire an elephant Mr. McManus to do do this delivery job right."

And the worst is yet to come. Word has just come that letters from Jiggs' fans in China and Japan will arrive in the near future. That looks like a job for some interpreters from Chinatown!

Practically all other nationalities are represented in the American mail already received.

Historic House Will Be Closed

(International News Service)

ALTOONA, Pa., June 10.—With announcement here by the Pennsylvania Railroad that Logan House, scene of an historical conference between eleven State Governors during a crisis in the Civil War, is to be closed as a hotel, the hostelry's long service came to an end.

The Logan house, now owned by the railroad, was used by the Governors to discuss emergency measures when Lee first invaded the North.

The lunch room in the historic building is to be continued.

BESSEMER

The old postoffice of Bessemer will soon be discarded as the erection of a new one is already well under way. The old building will now be used as a store.

The school ground of the Bessemer high school will soon be a boon of beauty to everyone and a refreshing sight to the eye as work on the lawn is nearing completion.

The Bessemer string orchestra will play at a picnic scheduled at the Mapleville picnic grounds Satrday June 11, Petersburg, O.

Stock Exchange To Close Monday For Lindbergh Honor

Simple Remedy For Bad Stomach Gives Swift Relief

No Need of Strong Medicines or Diet. Safe and Simple Home Recipe Keeps Stomach in Fine Condition.

If you are a victim of Stomach Troubles—Gas, Sourness, Pain or Bloating —you may have quick and certain relief by following this simple advice.

Don't take strong medicines, artificial digestants or pull down your system with starvation diets. For within reason most folks may eat what they like—if they will keep their stomach free from souring acids that hinder or paralyze the work of digestion.

And the best and easiest way to do this is to follow every meal with three or four tablets of Bisurated Magnesia —a pleasant, harmless, inexpensive, and handy tablet form of Magnesia that promptly neutralizes acidity and keeps your stomach sweet and clean.

A week's trial of Bisurated Magnesia tablets, which any good druggist can supply at trifling cost, should quickly convince you that 90 per cent of ordinary stomach distress is absolutely unnecessary. Be sure to get Bisurated Magnesia Tablets!

Port Traffic At Boston Increases

(International News Service)

BOSTON, June 10.—The Port of Boston's domestic and foreign water-borne traffic has shown an increase of more than 400 per cent over a period of fifteen years according to the survey made by the Boston Chamber of Commerce.

In money value wool leads all other commodities in foreign imports. Then comes cotton, sugar, burlap hides and skins, rubber, coffee, pulp, hemp, tea and jute.

In exports, leather leads, then follows cotton, waste, wheat, leather footwear, meats and meat products, lard and tallow.

Nothing is perfect, and the most ardent nature lover cusses with most vindictive satisfaction when at last he swats a fly.

Tax And Women Big Worry For Britain's Wets

Temperance Movement As Women Get Vote Bringing Fear To Brewers

Distillers Longing For Good Old Days, While Troubles Grow

By H. K. REYNOLDS
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, June 10.—Fighting high taxation on one hand, and the agitation of temperance organizations on the other, the brewers and distillers of England feel that their lot is not always as happy as it might be—and they long for the good old days.

Admitting that theirs is the most maligned trade in the country, the brewers have organized what they call the London Central Board to wage a counter-attack against the prohibitionists within and outside of Parliament, and to defend the "rights and privileges" of themselves and of the thousands of public house keepers with whom they deal or are connected with in a business way.

Pointing out that the last national Budget showed that the revenue from excise totalled $725,000,000—more than enough to support the Army, Navy and Air Force—the brewers declare that there is ample ground for describing their chief function as "tax collectors to his Majesty's government."

Worry About Taxes

The tax problem probably worries them more at present than the temperance campaigns, for taxation is keeping up the price of beer as well as whiskey, thereby reducing the consumption of the products upon which their profits depend. To the apparently obvious suggestion that they could reduce the price of beer, the brewers' reply is that to cut the price a cent or two on the pint would wipe out what appears to be a large annual profit, leaving nothing for the shareholders.

In view of the big deficit which the Exchequer faced this year, the brewers realized that there was no chance of getting the beer tax reduced, but they will make a fight during the coming months to bring the Government into closer sympathy with their problems. One of their leading arguments against high beer prices is expected to be that a large portion of industrial unrest is directly due to the fact that the English workingman has to pay too much for his beer.

Would Lower Prices

This statement was made at a meeting of the London Central Board by Major Bonsor, Master of the Brewers' Company, and will doubtless be urged upon the Chancellor of the Exchequer as an important reason why the Government should reduce the tax a few cents on the pint so that prices can come down in proportion.

The forthcoming enfranchisement of several million additional women will cause the brewers new worries, and plans are already being made to circumvent the efforts of temperance organizations to line up the new voters on the side of "local option," "state control," or other restrictions on the liquor trade. Women connected with "the trade" have been urged to direct their attentions on young women who will soon have the vote for the first time, and to work to "counteract teetotal endeavors and to efface the fables and misrepresentations of prohibition propaganda." The dividing of these new votes among the wets and drys will be watched anxiously by the brewers, for the extension of the franchise will increase the female electorate in such proportions that their votes alone, would be enough to seriously threaten the position of "the trade."

FOR ECONOMY'S SAKE

According to a Vermont paper a Scotsman was discovered wandering around in one of those towns up there with a pair of rumpled trousers over his arm. "Can I help you in any way?" asked a kindly citizen.

"Man" replied the Scot who was evidently a newcomer, "I'm looking for the Burlington Free Press."

Name One Of Trees At Rose Ave. School For Col. Lindbergh

The pupils of Rose Avenue School are very proud of the many fine trees, which were planted Arbor Day on the school grounds.

They are looking forward to the time when these trees will spread a cooling shade over the sun-baked playground and thus amply repay for the care given them now.

The trees were the gift of the Woman's Club of the city, each grade in the school receiving a tree. In order to preserve and emphasize this feeling of ownership, each class has selected a name for their tree, a name suggested by some phase of their wark, or reflects some special interest of the group.

The list of names follows:
6A—Horatius.
6B—Charles Lindbergh.
5A—C. C. Green.
5B—Sir Joshua Reynolds.
4A—William Penn.
4B—Theodore Roosevelt.
3A—Abraham Lincoln.
3B—Corot.
2A1—The Woman's Club.
2A2—Rosa Bonheur.
2B—Columbus.
1A—Joyce Kilmer.
1A2—"Shadewell."
1B—Ben G. Graham.
Kindergarten—"Bates."

years, the drama, her subject being "The Influence of the Drama." She sketched briefly the history of the drama down to the present day and spoke of the influence the drama had had in the world. During her school years Miss Bratschie was prominent in school dramatics, and handled her subject intelligently.

Miss Helen McBride, the next speaker, built her address around the City of New Castle, her subject being "Retrospection and Progression" painting a word picture of the New Castle of a century ago, and the New Castle of today. The address showed every earmark of some intensive digging into the development of this city, and also reflected real New Castle spirit.

Abe Newmark followed, his subject being "A University Training". In it he argued that a university training brought out the latent abilities of the student, fitted him for a broader outlook on life, and regardless of what line of endeavor he followed made him a better citizen.

Madelene Marlin spoke on "The Quest of Life." Her address had to do with the quest for the beautiful in life, of the joy and satisfaction one found in seeking for the better things, and was well delivered.

Following this, Miss Gartha Leslie, winner of the D. A. R. Prize gave her winning essay, "Nathaniel Green, Second to Washington." Her essay had to do with the yoeman's service rendered to the colonies by General Greene and was an interesting insight into the work of a man sometimes forgotten in the glories of other Revolutionary soldiers. The prize of the D. A. R. was presented to her by the Historian of the D. A. R., Mrs. Albert Treser.

Miss Margaret Zimmerly the Valedictorian was the last student speaker. Her subject was "The Encouragement of Literature" and she dwelt upon the influence that has been wielded by writers of the past and present. It was a splendid valedictory and she was greeted with a wonderful outburst of applause.

Dr. C. C. Green, superintendent of schools spoke for the school system and said that the present administration is open at all times to constructive criticism. He urged the citizens of this city to stand by the school system, to do their share in advancing the system to even higher levels, and outlined the program now being followed for school progress here.

Mrs. Rose M. Nothdurft, vice president of the Board of Education spoke briefly, confining her remarks largely to the class. She urged them to follow this comment with larger efforts, whether they entered higher schools of learning, or went into the business world. She then presented the graduating students with their diplomas.

Dr. Samuel E. Irvine, pastor of the First United Presbyterian church pronounced the benediction and the orchestra played a recessional march.

It marked the close of another school year, the departure of another graduating class, and brought to a successful close one of the happiest commencement weeks New Castle High School has ever seen. The list of graduates follows.

Barbers Scolded For Jail Haircuts

(International News Service)

DETROIT, Mich., June 10.—Styles of haircuts and mustaches must not be changed in the county jail, it was ordered by Judge Donald Van Zile after plaintiffs in two cases before him were unable to identify the defendants.

In each case the barber at the jail had so changed the defendants appearance through his tonsorial efforts that the plaintiffs were completely baffled. Jude Van Zile wrote a letter to Turnkey William Kresin ordering him to instruct the barber regarding his work.

When Mike George was placed in jail on a charge of robbing Frank Birker, an oil station attendant, he had long hair with prominent sheik sideburns. When he came to court hair was closely cropped. Neither Birker, nor the policeman who captured George could identify him until a picture from the rogue's gallery was produced.

The next case was that of Harry Dermanalian, alias Hohnson, 33, charged with felonious assault on Zacker Moushegian. When Dermanalian was placed in jail he wore a long, luxurious, handle bar mustache. But he appeared in court as cleanly shaven as it is possible with the modern razor.

Moushegian declared that the man was not the defendant, but a checkup at the jail finally established the proper defendant.

BECAUSE it's the trade-mark of a table salt that women wouldn't be without - Morton's Salt.

This is the salt that won't cake or harden. Even "when it rains, it pours"- because of cube crystals, the one great advance in salt manufacture in centuries. They tumble off one another like dry sand.

Thus Morton's Salt ends the annoyance of caked salt for women and gives them quality and a rare, zesty flavor impossible with ordinary table salts. Get a package at your grocer's and prove what we say.

and so will you

You can get Morton's either plain or with iodine added for the prevention of goiter. In taste and looks they are exactly alike.

Germany Builds Giant Zeppelin For Europe-South America Airline

By O. D. TOLISCHUS
International News Service Staff Correspondent

BERLIN, June 10.—While daring aviators of many nations are recklessly gambling with death to pilot a plane across the ocean in a flight that has no practical value except to establish a sport record, German science and Spanish enterprise have combined to construce a real air-liner, not to establish a record, but to open up commercial airline between Europe and South America.

The airliner will be a giant Zeppelin, one and a half times as large as the Los Angeles. Equipped with cabins, dining rooms and dance floors—plus radio—for forty passengers, yet fleet enough to outrun any storm, it will carry the traveller of the future from Sevilla, Spain to Buenos Aires, Argentine, in three days high above the turbulent seas and under guaranteed sunny skies. The quickest steamer trip over the same route is 28 days.

Completed This Fall

The first transatlantic airliner will be completed this fall and the first trans atlantic airline is to be opened next Spring. It seems that in the race between the airship and the airplane for the first transatlantic air route, the airship is destined to win out.

Germany is represented in this enterprise by the Zeppelin Airship Building Co., of Friedrickshafen, personfied in Dr. Hugo Eckner, its head, who built the Los Angeles and piloted it across the ocean. He will furnish the airship and the direction.

Spain is represented by the Spanish government, personified in Primo de Rivera, and organized for this special purpose in the "Sociedad Colon Transaera Espanola," whose driving genius again is Major Herrera, its technical director. It will take over the operation of the line and furnish the financial backing.

In return, the company obligates itself to maintain a regular airline between Sevilla and Buenos Aires with airships carrying at least 40 passengers and ten tons of freight, of which two passenger accommodations and 1,000 pounds of freight are reserved for the government. A round trip is to be made at least once a month, and a fortnightly service must be installed as soon as the postal freight exceeds 10 tons.

What Service Promises

The company also obligates itself to establish a weekly air service between Sevilla and the Canary Islands with aircraft carrying at least 16 passengers and one ton of freight.

During the first four years, the crew of the airships must be thirty percent Spanish or Argentinian; afterwards, 90 percent.

In case of war, the Spanish government is entitled to take over the ships and the ground for war purposes.

If the operating company fails to live up to its obligations, the government can take over the line itself.

At present, in the same huge shed in which the Los Angeles was born, skilled mechanicians are busy erecting the new airliner's gigantic framework.

The airship will be 235 meters (771 feet long) 30.5 meters (100 feet) in diameter and will contain 105,000 cubic meters (3,730,000 cubic feet) of hydrogen gas. The Los Angeles is only 70,000 cubic meteres (2,500,000 cubic feet) big. In its proportions, however, the new ship will be built along racier lines than the Los Angeles—longer and more slender.

Dancing Every Evening

The big passenger car in front is being divided into 20 double-bed cabins and a big salon and dining room. The cabins will be as convenient as the deluxe cabins in the transcontinental trains, with running hot and cold water, etc. The salon and dining room, paneled in wood, will be fitted out with big club chairs and broad windows, through which the passengers can view the panorama for miles around. An electric kitchen will prepare the meals.

In the evening, after dinner, the dining tables will disappear and the center of the floor will be cleared for dancing. American or European jazz furnished by the best bands in the world—by radio.

The airships fuel will be without weight. It will be gas—etanogas, which is carbohydrate of the same specific weight as air, and cheaper than gasoline. It can be manufactured everywhere.

The fuel gas will be stored in the body of the ship itself. The lower one-third of the 16 gas cells will be filled with etanogas, the upper two-thirds with hydrogen.

The liner will have six Maybach motors of 2,400 horsepower each.

These are the same motors that drive the Los Angeles. Its speed will be approximately ninety miles an hour.

The fare from Sevilla to Buenos Aires is figured at 6,000 pesetas ($1,051) which is approximately the price for a steamer cabin.

Noted Writers Play On French Riviera

By EVELYN McDONALD
International News Service Staff Correspondent

PARIS, June 10—The French Riviera has become the favorite retreat for writers of all nations.

Rudyard Kipling rests frequently at Cannes and Roquebrune, where also Gabriel Hanotaux is writing his book on provincial painting. Not far away at Menton, Blasco Ibanez plans his Spanish novels.

Maurice Maeterlinck's preferred spot is the "Abeilles" at Nice, where Colette, Mauclair, Berstein and Pierre Custoy are also seen.

H. G. Wells has rented a bungalow near Grasse. Paul Bourget spends a good deal of his time at his estate in Hyeres. Henry Bordeaux always makes an annual pilgrimage to Nice and Louis Bertrand has just completed his villa at Antibes.

Jean-Jaques Brousson, Anatole France's delightful biographer, is a regular visitor at Villefranche, Jean Cocteau is another booster for this village.

Delays Eviction Of Coal Miners

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Pa., June 10. — Judge V. Moore, in common pleas court on Thursday handed down an order staying the execution of the writs for the eviction of 75 union coal miners of Mine No. 2, in Castle Shanon, of the Pittsburgh Coal Corporation.

The order directed the attorneys of the coal corporation to show cause why judgment should not be stricken off and the writs set aside. The arguments were set to be heard on the week of June 13.

Fifty-one additional writs for eviction in Snowden and Bethel townships wer obtained today by the coal corporation.

Claim Trotting Record Broken

(International News Service)

COLUMBUS, O., June 10.—Claim that the world's trotting record for the month of June was shattered here Thursday was made in connection with the announcement by Charles V. Truax, State Director of Agriculture, that Peter Manning, the world's champion trotter, stepped a mile in 2:04½ on the track at the Ohio State Fair Grounds.

The last half-mile, it was stated, was made in one minute flat and the last quarter at a 1:56 clip, during a workout when Peter Manning was prompted by the thoroughbred mare, Bumble Bee.

Two Million Dollar Mansion Now Obsolete

(International News Service)

SAN FRANCISCO, June 10.—Once the show place of the town but now surrounded by garages, automobile sales rooms and other places of business the imposing Claus Spreckles mansion is going the way of all obsolete real estate.

The sugar magnate expended $2,000,000 to build the imposing brown structure. Torn down the materials will be worth about $20,000 according to the wrecker.

Those who have an eye for antiques are closely watching the proceedings. The famous gold-plated door knobs which caused tongues to wag in San Francisco in the Gay Nineties have already been sold. The gold plated plumbing fixtures are still waiting a purchaser.

In a few more days the mansion will just be a memory of those days when San Francisco was young—and perhaps a trifle garish.

Penn-Ohio System Wins High Awards

National recognition and high honor was won by the Penn-Ohio system at the annual convention of the National Electric Light Association now in session at Atlantic City.

In the competition of the electric service companies from all parts of the United States for the public relations awards of Forbes magazine, the local electric company received second prize. Three prizes are offered annually in this competition for the electric companies making the most outstanding accomplishment in the development of good public relations. The Penn-Ohio system presented a brief in this contest and received the second of the three prizes, the certificate being presented to vice-president and general manager, C. S. MacCalla at the session of the convention on Wednesday afternoon.

A second high honor was won by the Penn-Ohio when it received honorable mention in the contest for the Charles A. Coffin gold medal. This medal is awarded annually to the electric company making a distinguished contribution to electric service for the convenience of the public and the benefit of industry. The judges are leaders in the electrical field and the honor is greatly desired by all the leading companies of the country. The award this year was made to the Edison Electric Illuminating Company, of Boston, with the Penn-Ohio System receiving honorable mention.

A similar honor was won by the local electric service company a year ago when it was second in a close contest in which the award was made to the Commonwealth Edison Company, of Chicago, the largest electric service company in the country.

In the transportation field the Penn-Ohio System also has won high honors receiving the Charles A. Coffin gold medal for its distinguished contribution in the field of transportation and one of the three Forbes awards for development of good public relations at the annual convention of the American Electric Railway Association in Cleveland last October.

Government Planes Barred From Air Over Washington

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, June 10.—Government aviators will be barred from the air over Washington Saturday and Sunday during the Lindbergh celebration, under an executive order issued today by President Coolidge.

It was the first order of the kind issued under authority of the air commerce act of 1926.

All government planes will have to get specific authority to take the air.

Vienna Serves Coffee On City Street Cars

(International News Service)

VIENNA, June 10.—Vienna claims to be the only city in the world to serve coffee on its street cars. The service was instituted June 1 in connection with the neighboring town of Baden-bei-Wein, which is making a special effort to popularize its bathing facilities.

Baden is connected with Vienna by electric street-cars, as well as by train, and on the street-cars a special cafe service is run thirty-six times a day.

The famous Viennese coffee topped with whipped cream is served by waiters at ordinary prices. Pilsener and lager beer, wine and sandwiches arealso available.

Iowa Woman Found Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Always Helpful

Vinton, Iowa.—"When I was seventeen years old I had to stay at home from school. I finally had to quit school, I was so weak. I suffered for about two years before I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, then I picked up one of your books and read it. I began taking the medicine. Now I am a housekeeper with six children, and I have taken it before each one was born. I cannot tell you all the good I have received from it. When I am not as well as can be I take it. I have been doing this for over thirteen years and it always helps me. I read all of your little books I can get and I tell everyone I know what the Vegetable Compound does for me."—Mrs. Frank Sellers, 510 7th Avenue, Vinton, Iowa.

Many girls in the fourth generation are learning thru their own personal experiences the beneficial effects of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Mothers who took it recommend it to their daughters as a dependable medicine.

Economics Meeting Being Planned By County Rural Women

SLIPPERY ROCK, Pa., June 10.—Women of Butler and Lawrence counties are interested in the announcement that the annual home economics meeting will be held at Slippery Rock State Normal school on Friday, June 24, under the auspices of the Butler County Association of Rural Women. An invitation has been extended by the Butler county association to all women of Butler and Lawrence counties to attend the sessions of the all day meeting.

The morning session will begin at 10:30. Following an important and instructive morning session a basket picnic will be served at noon in the Normal park. The afternoon session, beginning at 2:30, will consist of helpful addresses. Rural women's organizations in other states will be featured as well as several speakers of special interest to the men. Demonstrations and round table discussions will consume part of the time.

At the evening session, beginning at 8 o'clock, the meeting will be brought to a close. There will be illustrated lectures on household hints and on beautifying the home.

Musical numbers will feature the program. Rural social life will be the subject of an address by a well known speaker. It is expected that this subject will be of interest to men as well as women.

Life Imprisonment Means Man Legally Dead Is Decision

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, June 10.—For the first time in the history of New York, a decision was handed down today in supreme court holding that a man sentenced to life imprisonment for murder is legally dead and that his wife may inherit his property and may remarry if she chooses without divorcing him.

The decision was given by Justice Fawcett on the application of Mrs. Blanche Irene Gallaway Webster, wife of Harold F. Webster, convicted slayer of his mother-in-law, Mrs. Catherine Gallaway, who was killed in Hempstead last October.

Wild Life League Closes Deal For Old Fish Hatchery

MEADVILLE, June 10. — With $1,300 of the $1,500 necessary to purchase the old state fish hatchery site at Conneaut Lake, the committee of the Wild Life League and others interested who have been pushing a campaign for funds, closed the deal at a meeting held at Oakland Beach hotel and appointed a committee to make the purchase.

The site will be used for a federal fish nursery and is expected to prove a good thing for this section. The purchase, besides 18 acres of land, includes a good house and barn. It is understood that those behind the movement are so well pleased with the success of the plan that they will stage a celebration on the new property within a short time.

RICHMAN'S
fine, all wool CLOTHES
Established 1879

When men who have been paying $50.00 for clothes come to this store, in a more or less skeptical frame of mind, they quickly realize that Richman's Clothes are greatly underpriced—that they equal in style, fit, quality of woolens, and fine tailoring, the clothes they have been buying at very much higher figures. See these fine clothes and judge for yourself.

Thousands of suits, fresh from our factories, in seasonable weights and shades—Wanskuck's fine serges, serviceable worsteds, silky cassimeres, "rough and ready" cheviots, and the sturdy new double-twist weaves. New shades of gray, tan and brown, smart, deep-dyed blues, colorful mixtures—you'll find any weave and coloring you like in the Richman stores.

Men hard to fit are surprised to see how quickly and easily they can find just the right style, proportions and size in Richman's Clothes—they are made in many models, and eleven proportional groups, with a complete range of sizes in each group.

Convention Is Attended By Local Churches

First Christian Church Distinguishes Itself By Sending Score In Chartered Bus

Ellwood Ranks Second In Number Of Delegates Present At Enon Valley Meet

ELLWOOD CITY, June 10.—Among those present from Lawrence County at the Sunday school convention at Enon Valley yesterday, 109 were from Ellwood City, thus winning for the town second place over New Castle and other larger towns in the county.

First Christian church, always original, sent its delegates and interesting members in a chartered bus, which was filled with members, besides many cars.

A special recognition was given Miss Letitia Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Brown of this city, as head of State Young Peoples department. Miss Brown received her earlier training in the local Young Peoples council under the direction of Mrs. Grace Benford. Rev. A. M. Stevenson of the First Presbyterian church of Ellwood City preached the Convention sermon, and the Misses Martha Houk, Virginia Kerr and Henry Brennamen took active parts in the vesper service which was conducted in the open preceding the evening service.

Delegates from the local churches included:—Rev. and Mrs. King, and Mr. Marshall of the Bell Memorial church; Rev. and Mrs. A. M. Stevenson, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Kerr, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Kirk, Mrs. Grace Benford, Janet Gimmel, Miss Virginia Kerr, Miss Marjorie Streeter, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Brown, Mrs. Thomas Haines, Mrs. S. A. Hartung and A. A. Logue were delegates from the First Presbyterian church. From the Slippery Rock church went:—Rev. and Mrs. Paul Elliott and family, Miss Lucy Johns, Miss Ethel Welhausen, Mrs. Welhausen, John M. Houk, Clyde Harper and Mr. and Mrs. James Brown.

Over Seventy Take Examination To Drive Cars Here

Officers Busy Testing Nervous Drivers From 9 Until 3 O'clock

ELLWOOD CITY, June 10.—Over seventy people obtained drivers examinations for operator's license yesterday on the Pittsburgh Circle and Glenn avenue.

Four officers were in charge, and many new drivers came from the valley. This was the second test given here. The Examination Patrol was brought here through the efforts of the Ellwood City Motor club.

Another unit will be here next month, July 14, and any wishing to take examinations at that time can do so, armed with a learner's permit, and accompanied by a licensed driver.

Forum Dinner Is Postponed

ELLWOOD CITY, June 10.—June 23 instead of June 20 has been selected by the Chamber of Commerce as the date for their Forum dinner. The event will take place at the Ellwood Country club, and the speaker of the evening will be Capt. C. Dorr of Harrisburg, head of the State Patrol.

He is being brought here through the influence of the local Motor club, and will speak on "Selling Safety on the Highways". The present campaign against speeders, which is being waged by the local police, will probably receive some favorable comment from the captain in his talk on safety. Members of the Rotary and Kiwanis clubs are being extended an invitation.

Line Avenue Signal Will Be Removed

ELLWOOD CITY, June 10.—After another argument, one of the many that distinguished the monthly meeting of the Borough council last night in the city building, the members decided to take down the traffic light at the corner of Line avenue and North street. Many complaints regarding the light have been sent in, most being the steep hill before turing on Line making it difficult to hold cars when the red light is on. When this defense was brought forward one councilman remarked that if a man couldn't hold his car on a hill, he shouldn't be driving.

However, when the roll call vote was taken, the majority voted for its removal, and instructed the members of the police committee to put another mushroom on the east curb line.

Council Attempts To Pass Sewer Ordinance Over Veto

Suspend Rules And Regulations And Open Bids On Grading Of Center Avenue

Traffic Ordinance Passed On Second And Final Reading; Now In Effect Here

ELLWOOD CITY, June 10.—Some controversy arose among the members of the borough council at their monthly meeting, which took place last night in the city building.

The bone of contention was two ordinances which had met with the approval of council some time ago, regarding the placing of a relief storm sewer along Chestnut Way to Division avenue and along the Connequenessing creek to Factory avenue, which were desired, according to the city engineer, to relieve the flood of water during the heavy storm, from the subway. When the ordinances were presented to Burgess Evans he refused to sign them, stating that he didn't believe that the relief could be procured from the placing of these sewers, and that the cost was such that the people would be taxed more. Then followed many remarks concerning the sewer, which ended in part of the members trying to pass the ordinance over the burgess' veto. Both ordinances were lost because the measure required a two-thirds vote to pass them.

Contract for the grading of Center avenue from Tenth to Thirteenth streets and Smiley line was awarded to E. F. Scanlon of New Castle, lowest of three bidders. The bids were not to have been opened until later, but the time being short, rules and regulations were suspended and work will go forward at once.

The contract for the placing of the sidewalk on the south side of Lawrence avenue, between Ninth and Tenth streets, was awarded to Mr. Richardson, lowest of three bidders.

Ordinances

Suspending the rules and regulations of council, the traffic ordinance was passed on second and final reading last night. This ordinance imposes penalties on people if they do not observe the traffic signals of all kinds in the borough. At a red signal there will be no left or right turns. Any failure to observe these signals is liable to a fine of $25 and costs, five days in the local jail, or 30 days in the county jail.

Passed on second reading, the ordinance providing for the resurfacing of Sixth street between Lawrence avenue and the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie tracks.

Ordinance for widening Wampum avenue held up until next meeting so that an investigation can be made as to the proper place for the widening to be made. Survey will be made by the borough engineer.

Passed on second reading, the ordinance providing for the paving of Wampum avenue at the north end of the Connequenessing bridge establishing a safety zone and assessing the property owners one-half the costs. The property owners will be notified when the ordinance will come up for third and final reading, in case they wish to file any further complaints.

Passed on second reading the ordinance prohibiting theaters, pool rooms and any other places of amusement to remain open between the hours of 12 o'clock, midnight, and seven in the morning.

Passed on first reading, the ordinance regarding the grading of West Short street between Crescent and Park avenues.

Ordinance passed on first reading establishing a center grade line along Summit to Division avenue.

Ordinance passed on first reading establishing a center grade line on Franklin avenue.

Ordinance passed on first reading regarding the grading of College street from Wampum avenue to Todd avenue, assessing the property owners two-thirds of the costs.

Passed on first and final reading, the ordinance providing a sanitary sewer from Franklin avenue to Hillside avenue; also from Fifth street to brick road.

Passed on first reading, the ordinance providing the placing of a sanitary sewer system on Lincoln terrace east of McKinley street.

Petitions

Permission for the conducting of a medicine show from four to six weeks was asked last night. People in charge willing to pay a license fee. The matter was referred to the police committee and the burgess, with the power to act.

Owners of lots on Pittsburgh Circle and Glen avenue asked for a cartway 27 feet wide instead of 48 feet, assessing the owners two-thirds of the cost of paving. Council ruled that the proposed width was too narrow and returned the petition to the owners, asking them to make the width 36 feet.

ELLWOOD CITY PERSONALS

Mrs. Emma Diven and Mrs. Howard Hazen are attending a convention at Conneaut Lake over the week-end.

Rev. L. L. Abor of Scranton, and a prominent speaker at the County Sunday School convention in Enon Valley Thursday, left this morning for Sharpsville, having been the house-guest of Rev. and Mrs. A. M. Stevenson of the Pittsburgh Circle.

Mrs. Gold Hostess At Country Club

ELLWOOD CITY, June 10.—Mrs. H. S. Gold proved a charming hostess at a bridge luncheon Thursday afternoon at the local Country club. Covers were laid for 20 at a long table decorated with a floral piece and tall candles. Each place was marked with diminutive pint Peonie-nut containers, bearing the place-cards.

Following the serving of the luncheon, Mrs. Gold's party joined the series of games which are conducted each Thursday.

The guest list comprised: Mesdames W. W. Seidel, Harold Seidel, J. S. Bowater, B. M. Lawther, George Pugh, Ralph Conner, J. Reed Carpenter, Paul Mumma, George Moyer, Charles Stiner, T. B. Magee, Fred Krauth, Harry Harris, W. F. Kegel, Henry Schenck, Roy and David Hamilton, Ralph Evans and Burton Bell. The guest list comprised, necessarily, members of the club, as no others can be entertained there on Thursdays.

Nineteen Tables At Club Thursday

ELLWOOD CITY, June 10.—The second ladies day of the summer series of 1927 was attended yesterday afternoon by 19 tables of bridge playing.

The games were preceded by luncheon at the club for those desiring to go out early. All luncheon reservations, however, must be made with any member of the committee of the day, rather than the stewardness of the club.

During the series of games, punch was served by the committee in charge. Mrs. W. R. Johnston, treasurer, reported that about $126 had been donated toward the piano.

High score gift for the afternoon was won by Mrs. David Cartwright. Mrs. Chancellor, a former resident of Ellwood, and the house guest of Mrs. Paul Mumma, was awarded the guest favor.

Members of the committee for yesterday were: Mrs. Charles Adams, chairman, assisted by the Mesdames H. B. Anderson, R. H. Aylesworth, A. J. Baker, E. B. Baker, Charles Barton, J. M. Barton, Dora Spann Bates, Oliver Bauer, William W. Bayers and Grant M. Bentel.

MEXICO BARS U. S. GOODS

Ellwood Motor Club Commends Police Activity

ELLWOOD CITY, June 10.—Officials of the Ellwood City Motor club believe that the campaign that the local police are making in arresting speeding motorists upon the streets of the city is a good one, and commend the department in their efforts.

Several people have been hit by "speeders" and several streets have become speedways for the flashy sport cars, that drive the streets, the club officers say. The charges that the police are imposing are not the limit allowed under the law.

The number of accidents of motoring is increasing so rapidly that every community must work a check thru the police department on the speeding operators.

As stated by Chief Teater to the officials of the motor club, the police are determined to break up the practise on several streets of reckless driving.

Police And Fire Reports For Month

ELLWOOD CITY, June 10.—Reports of the Police and Fire departments at the regular monthly meeting of the Borough council which took place last night in the City building are as follows:

Number of arrests, 109; number of deposits, 11; fines, 18, and forfeits 64.

MISS NAGLE IS HOSTESS TO CLASS

ELLWOOD CITY, June 10.—Miss Margaret Nagle of the North Side entertained the members of Class No. 6 of the Bell Memorial church Thursday evening. Music and games were the diversions of the evening, which concluded with the serving of light refreshments.

Members present were:—The Misses Esther James, the teacher, Dolly Clyde, Ethlyn Miles, Bertha Book, Babe Stoner, B. Brown, Anna McIlvaine and Beulah Snare.

Company B Drills Friday Evening

Uniforms And Equipment Are Now Being Issued To The Members

Company B, 125th Engineers, will hold its regular drill at the armory on Neshannock avenue this evening at 8 o'clock, daylight savings time. All members have been ordered to report without fail.

Uniforms and other equipment have arrived and are being issued to the members. Those who have not received their uniforms are especially urged to be present this evening.

Lieutenant Paul W. Keely, formerly commanding Troop A, 104th Cavalry, states that he still has quite a number of drill checks that have not been claimed. These checks will have to be returned to the finance officer very shortly, unless claimed.

He also states that some of the former troopers still have uniforms and other equipment in their possession. This equipment must be turned in immediately or other means will be taken to secure them.

The rattlesnake and mosquito warn before they strike, but an approaching bill collector seems as innocent as anybody else.

PETERS ADVENTURES IN ANIMAL LAND

By Florence Smith Vincent

A FIGHT TO THE FINISH

Off Matty Mole scuttled, burrowing under the leaves, and if Peter had not just seen him digging for cover he would never have known that he was there. Not even the tip of his nose showed as it had when first the boy came upon him. Mole lay as still as a Mouse, and Peter, remembering his warning, never moved a muscle. But he wanted to laugh.

"Here am I standing like a stone image just because Matty said he smelled a Mole," thought he. "How silly! What is to prevent him being mistaken. However, I made him a promise and I shall keep it—for a while. Then—if something doesn't happen—I shall move. Gracious! There is some one coming as sure as I'm a boy. I see a red nose poking around the corner of that flat stone!

Slowly Mike the Meddler ambled along, wriggling his soft nose along on the ground, with it searching for the most direct entrance to the underground. Probably he thought that Matty had long since tired of waiting for him and had gone down home, for he acted quite as if he was the only Mole in the neighborhood. When he was directly in front of his hidden foe he came to a halt, rolled over a small pebble that lay on the ground and gobbled up a wee snail that tried too late to make its escape.

That, alas, was the last meal that Mike the Meddler was ever to eat. "Swish! Whirr!" Straight and swift as a stone slung from a catapult Matty launched himself upon his rival, and, taken completely off his guard, Mike the Meddler hadn't a chance in the world to win. He made a brave fight, however, and for a few moments the two mad Moles thrashed about upon the ground near Peter's feet, tumbling over each other.

"There! Take that, and that and that!" screamed Matty. "Try to steal away another fellow's sweetheart, hey! Well, you will never do it again!"

"I promise to leave the Mole-Hill if you only will let me go!" gasped his struggling rival. 'Help, help, help!"

Fainter and fainter grew the cry for mercy, and at last Mike's voice was still. Peter would have gone to the aid of the poor fellow had he known which Mole was which, but they both, looked just alike to him and besides they were so smooth and slippery and tumbled about, now here and there, that he could not hold on to them at all.

"Stop it Matty! You have punished him enough now. He has promised to be good. Let him up! Let him up, I say! You have won the scrap. What more do you want?" yelled he, stamping his foot.

Not till then did Matty loose his grip, but at these words he stepped aside and Peter saw that Mike lay still upon the ground.

"Who said it was a scrap?" grumbled Matty. "This was a fight to the finish and I have finished him all right. He is as dead as a door nail; and I am glad of it. That is what will happen to any Mole who starts to make trouble for me!"

MASSILLON TO PLAY NEW CASTLE HERE SATURDAY

Locals Hope To Continue Streak

League Leaders To Appear At Centennial Field Saturday Afternoon

GAME CALLED AT THREE O'CLOCK

BY "BUGS" WALTHER

The league leading Massillon Agathons will oppose New Castle here in an O. & P. league game at Centennial field, here Saturday afternoon. The game is scheduled to start at 3 o'clock, daylight savings time.

It will mark the initial appearance of the league leaders in this city. The Agathons have been setting a fast pace, so far this year, and have lost but one game in eleven starts. New Castle is in the midst of a winning streak and they hope to continue their stride, that has carried them through two straight loop victories.

With McCullough back on third, Maxim returning to shortstop and Meis ready to take the mound, the locals are well fortified to clash with the Ohio crew. Massillon defeated New Castle at Massillon earlier in the year by a close score.

In all probability the locals will present a new outfield combination here tomorrow afternoon. With the departure of Weimer the left field job has been hanging fire, and it is thought that Shack or Byak will fill the gap. General will be in center field and Flynn will likely be back in right field.

The locals are getting better results with the willow now, and with still more improvement at the bat, the Castles are going to be hard to beat.

AMATEUR NOTES

The Blue Racers baseball team would like to schedule games with all leading junior team in the city and county. Any teams desiring games call 44. The Blue Racers are composed of:—Jones, Parker, Waters, Cuba, Rogovin, Pacello, Nocera, Eardley, J. Lewis, John Lewis, Tofanno and Seamans.

Dewberry's defeated Middletown 15 to 1, in a game played on Thursday night at the Scotland Lane Field. Schaas on the hill for the Dewberry's allowed but five hits and fanned twelve men.

The Marcella Grocers are booked for two games next week. On Monday night the Grovers tangle with the Gayety Billiards at the B. & O. Field, and on Tuesday night they journey to Eastbrook to battle the Eastbrook Independents. Manager Marcella would like to hear from the Boyles A. C., Clifton Flats and Polish Nationals for a game. The Grovers will hold a practice game tonight at the B. & O. Field, with the Italian Orioles.

The Blue Aces won their third straight victory on Thursday afternoon downing the East Side Athletics 5 to 4. The game was played at the Ben Franklin Field. Campbell featured the game with a home run with one man on base. Hannon pitched a fine game for the Aces fanning twelve men. The Blue Aces want games with fast teams, call 5297-R between 6 and 8 o'clock.

Indie-Ayes To Play At Coaltown

"Nocks" To Play Off Postponed Game At 6:15 P. M.

Indie-Ayes and Neshannocks will clash this evening at Coaltown. The game was scheduled for May 4 but was postponed. The Indie-Ayes staged a great game at Ellwood City, Wednesday while the Neshannocks struck a hard pill in the P. R. R. There is considerably rivalry between the teams. Hudson and McCormick are scheduled to umpire, McCormick calling balls and strikes and Hudson taking the base lines.

Braves May Trade Manager Bancroft

Rumors Say Boston Ready To Give Popular Leader Away In Trade

BY DAVIS J. WALSH
Sports Editor Internat'al News Service

NEW YORK, June 10.—If the boys plan to better their hands—and it is expected that some of them wouldn't object with great firmness—they will have to start dealing them out of the cuff within the next five day. For on June 15 the major league trading dead line goes into effect, and after that you couldn't trade Nick Altrock for George H. Ruth, even if Clark Griffith waived his natural prejudice like a good sportsman.

The Carlson-Cooney-Kaufman deal of the Phillies and Cubs is the only midseason trade to be closed to date but there is backstairs gossip to the effect that a lot of the boys are in there trying.

They say the Boston Braves have decided to obtain a legal separation from Dave Bancroft, their player-manager and are inclined to offer him for what he might be worth, which is plenty. Bancroft may have been unable to make the Braves win in four years but he still is quite a shortstop and would make a great man for an outfit like the Cubs. He isn't hitting this year but probably would start as soon as they took the managerial surcingle off his breast bone.

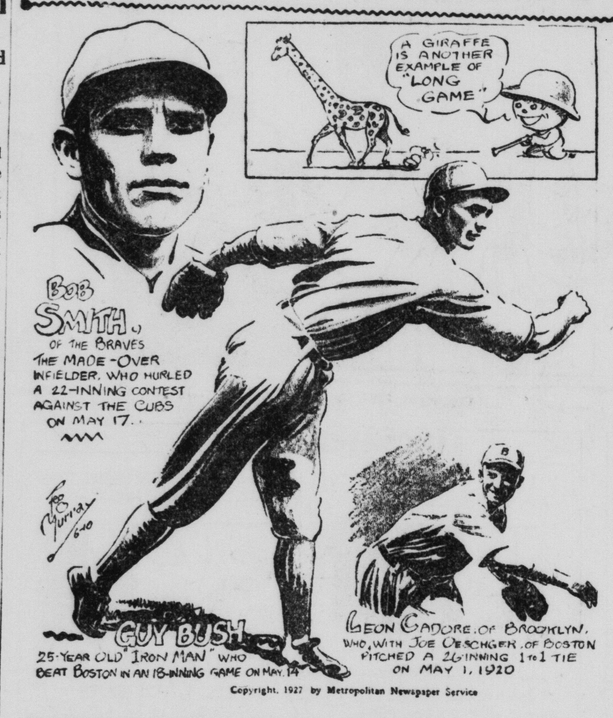
There is also a moderate possibility that the Yankees and Senators will attempt to short-change each other. The Yanks are understood to have asked waivers on Mike Gazelle as a "feller" for a trade and several American League clubs indicated more than a nominal interest in the matter. Washington could and will use a shortstop—as soon as it gets one.

Start Ball Game At Four P. M., D. S.

Arrangements have been made to start the game between Wampum and the Pennsylvania Railroad at four o'clock, Daylight Savings Time, at Mahoningtown, Saturday afternoon. All games in which the Pennsylvania participates will be played at four p. m., at Mahoningtown, during the Lawrence county season so railroad employes will have time to witness the start of the game. Other league games start play at 3:15 p. m., D. S.

Long Game Heroes

By Feg Murray



Two National League pitchers who are rapidly earning their spurs as major league winners are Bob Smith of the Boston Braves and Guy Bush of the Chicago Cubs. The latter, especially, has aided his club in its rise to the top, and, as he is not yet 25 years old, he should go far along the paths of baseball success, perhaps even farther than his namesake, "Bullet Joe Bush", who is now reaching the end of the trail with the Pirates.

Both of these right-handers figured in interesting "iron man" stunts last month, their feats of endurance taking place in two successive games in Boston, a city already noted for record overtime ball games. Guy Bush figured in the first of these affairs, pitching his team to an 18-inning victory over Boston, allowing 11 hits and two runs. In the last half of the 12th inning Boston scored a run when J. Smith walked and then tallied on High's triple. Bush was ordered to pass Burrus and Welsh, filling the bases with one out, but made Gautreau fly out to first and Taylor line out to third. Then the Cubs won by scoring five runs in the 18th.

The next time the two teams were able to play was on May 17. This time the game went 21 innings, the third longest game ever played in the majors. Bob Smith pitched the entire game for the losers, holding the Cubs scoreless from the fifth to the final inning, Chicago winning, 4 to 3. If you think pitching for four hours and a quarter is easy, try it some time. It was an especially worthy stunt for a former utility infielder who had pitched in only 14 complete games the year before.

Leon Cadore and Joe Oeschger both burnt out their arms in the famous 1 to1 tie played May 1, 1920. The second longest game in major league history was the 24-inning victory of Philadelphia over Boston in the American League September 1, 1906. Pittsburgh beat the Braves, 2 to 0, in 21 innings August 1, 1918. Beantown baseball history is replete with these drawn-out diamond struggles.

Feg Murray Says—

There is such a thing as an "unplayable lie" in golf, but there is no such thing as an untellable one.

Lawrence Indies Defeat Hillsville By Score 11 To 10

Lawrence Indies Slub Ball Hard To Down League Leaders In Fast Game

The Lawrence Indies upset the dope bucket in the Twilight League Thursday night by nosing out the league-leading Hillsville team, 11 to 10. The game was a slugfest from start to finish.

S. Zidow and Riley pitched the entire game. Both pitchers were hit hard and often. The Hillsville boys jumped away to the lead in the first inning by pushing over a run. The Indies in their half of the third tallied four times.

The seventh inning saw plenty of slugging and base running. The score at the start of the seventh chapter stood 8 to 5 in favor of the Indies. The Indies slugged their way to three more runs in the first half of the seventh. Hillsville came back with a rally in the final half of the seventh and shoved over five runs before the onslaught could be checked.

Fabian, Pepe and Orlando had extra base hits. Pepe led the Hillsville team at bat with four safe wallops.

Radiators To Play Clifton Flats Team

The National Radiator Colored Stars, members of the Twilight League, will battle with the Clifton Flats team on Monday, June 13, on the Radiator Field.

The Radiators are playing a fine brand of ball at the present time, and they are confident of winning from the Flats outfit. "Midnight" Wayman will do the hurling for the Stars.

Church League Games Tonight

The Central Presbyterian and First Baptist teams will play tonight at 6:30 on Colonial Field. The Presbyterians are favored to win, due to their past performances in the Church League circles.

The First Methodist team will battle with the First Christians at the Lehigh field.

Railroad Team Defeats "Nocks"

Rodenbaugh And Dean Fall Prey To Heavy Clouting Pennsy

Pennsylvania railroad team holds the distinction of having made more hits in any one game of the Lawrence county league played this season, according to a box score of the Pennsylvania-Neshannock game played Wednesday evening turned in by the P. R. R. today. The Pennsylvania won 17 to 3.

Rodenbaugh was driven from the mound when the brake-twisters got seven runs and Dean who succeeded him was touched up four four runs up to the ninth. For the first five innings the game was rather fair, the P. R. R. having a 3-0 lead. Beginning with the sixth the Pennsylvania started hitting and this ended the game so far as the Neshannocks were concerned.

The box score:

Ellwood City To Play Croton Here

Wampum Goes To Mahoningtown And Energy Plays "Nocks"

INDIE-AYES TO MEET BESSEMER

Lawrence County loop teams are mated evenly and when Saturday afternoon arrives four good games should be witnessed with close scores resulting.

Pennsylvania which walioped the Neshannocks and Bessemer recently wil have a chance of measuring their hitting ability with Wampum when they clash with Wampum at Mahoningtown.

The P. R. R. occupies second place by virture of their recent victories and Wampum is in fourth place through a defeat handed them by Energy Wednesday evening.

Energy will get a chance to trip up the Neshannocks at Coaltown and having lowered the colors of the Robertson team from Wampum Energy expects to duplicate the feat Saturday over the "Nocks."

Bessemer is leading the Lawrence county league but the Indie-Ayes are showing considerable strength despite their defeat Wednesday by Ellwood City. The teams will play at Bessemer.

The Indie-Ayes had the Ellwood City team beaten Wednesday according to reports but their efforts went to naught in the last inning simply because an Ellwood City batter cleaned the bases with a home run.

Ellwood City will get a chance to fatten their average when they travel to Croton unless the Colaluccomen turn the unexpected. Ellwood is in third place and trails the Pennsy by 11 points.

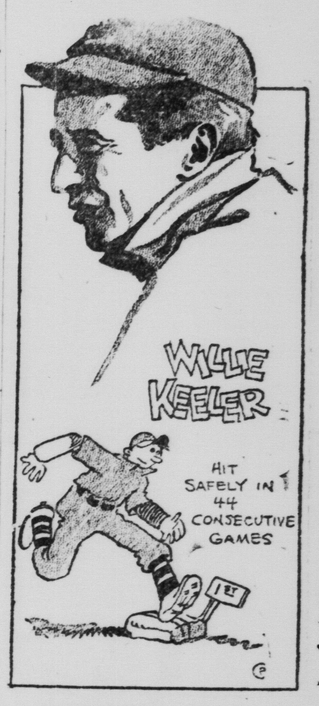
The umpires assigned for duty Saturday follow: At Mahoningtown, Hudson and McCarthy; at Coaltown Kroesen and Evans; at Bessemer, Parks and McCormick and at Croton, McCann and Patterson.

Notice To All League Managers

Managers of Lawrence county teams are requested to submit box scores and accounts of all Saturday league games to the News late Saturday night.

The manager of the home team is responsible for the delivery of the score. Failure to submit scores is punishable by a fine by league officials.

Looking Back



By NORMAN E. BROWN.

On June 16, 1897, "Wee" Willie Keeler, one of the greatest and most popular ball players that ever lived hit safely in his 44th consecutive game. This is still the major league record.

He holds the world's record for collecting 200 or more hits for eight consecutive years.

He holds the record for singles in a season—with 199 in 1897.

He scored 1,719 runs during a career extending over 19 campaigns.

He hit .300 or better for 15 consecutive years.

Played with the Giants in 1892 and 1893 and then after serving years with the Baltimore Orioles, the Brooklyns and the New York Yankees returned to the Giants in 1910.

In ten times at bat that year he collected five hits—for a .300 average.

Gotham Giants Wallop Pirates

Pittsburgh Pitchers Are Hammered For Sixteen Hits

PITTSBURGH, June 10.—The Giants delivered a real blow to the Pirates yesterday at Forbes field smacking the Bushmen for the second time this week. The Giants won 12 to 1 which is a rather lopsided score. Fitzsimmons an old protege of Donie Bush pitched against the Pirates and held them to eight safe blows while 16 safeties were clubbed off Bush, Yde and Cvengros. Eddie Roush got a home run in the fourth. The Giants scored four in the first, six in the fourth and two in the sixth while the Pirates got their lone tally in the sixth.

Croton Wins From Central Christians In Fast Game 4 To 1

Ross Outpitches Shiek As Croton Advances In Church League

Croton M. E. advanced somewhat in the New Castle Church League Thursday night by downing the league-leading Central Christian team, 4 to 1, in a fast game played at Colonial field.

The game was a pitchers' battle between Ross and Shiek, with the former having the better of the argument. Rose allowed but five hits and fanned three men. Shiek was found for seven hits and had 11 strikeouts.

Croton won the game in the sixth inning by bunching enough hits off Shiek to tally three runs. The feature play of the game was Miller's dive into the sumac swamp to catch a hard liner. The Croton left fielder came out of the swamp gasping for breath, but he held the ball for the putout.

The Croton victory over the league leaders was somewhat of a surprise in the Church League circles. Kerr, Shaffer, Bauman and Cowmeadow hit timely.

Epworth Drops To Third U. P. 8 To 7

The Third U. P. team hung a defeat on the Epworth M. E. boys on Thursday night at the Lehigh field. The final score was 8 to 7.

The game was decided in favor of the Third U. P. team in the sixth inning when they got to Nicholson and Cooley for enough hits to produce four tallies.

Eleven errors marred the game to a certain extent. The Third U. P. boys had seven misplays and the Epworth team kicked in with four wobbles.

Seamons pitched a steady game for the Third U. P. team allowing but seven hits and fanning five men.

Radiator Stars Down Troop B

Wayman Hurls Two-Hit Game As Radiator Stars Snatch Victory

The Radiator Stars broke their losing streak in the Twilight League on Thursday night, by downing the Troop B, team 10 to 0, in a game played at the National Radiator Field.

Wayman on the knoll for the Radiators was stingy with hits and limited the soldiers to two safe blows. Wayman fanned twelve men. Smith and Degation hurled for the Troopers.

The Radiators had one big inning, the second when they tallied nine runs. The game was loosely played with a total of nine errors being chalked up, six by the Troop B team, and three by the Stars.

H. Bradley, Morrow, Grey and O. Bradley led the Radiators with the willow.

SPORTS DONE BROWN

By NORMAN E. BROWN

The Detroit Tigers, generally speaking, are no better, no worse than last year.

A falling off in the batting strength of the team.

This cannot be attributed to the departure of Cobb's bat, either.

Most followers of the team are at loss to explain it.

The 1926 team averages show that the Detroit club ranked:

Third in runs scored.
Second in total bases hit for.
Third in two-base hits.
Second in triples.
Second in sacrifice hits.

Late averages of the current season show that the team, under Moriarty, ranks—

Tied for last in runs scored.
Sixth in total bases hit for.
Sixth in two-base hits.
Leading in triples.
Last in sacrifice hits.

The only offensive department in which the team has held its own, with the exception of the "triple" department, is in stolen bases. The team ranked third in that section last season and is holding third now.

That a team composed of such batters as Heilmann, Fothergill, Manush, Blue, McManus, et al, should make such a sorry showing may well be a mystery.

This falling-off, at a time when Moriarty seems to be getting much better pitching, is discouraging to the team and the hometown fans, who had rosy visions of the new pilot correcting the outstanding faults of the team, as Cobb left it, and carrying it to great heights.

Mrs. Einstein, wife of the world-famous scientist, confesses that she knows no more of her husband's theory of relativity than do the masses of the people, who know nothing about it at all.

Let's get down to cases

YOU don't need a degree from Oxford to figure out why so many men smoke pipes today—and enjoy them. Pipe-smoking has increased at least three-fold since Prince Albert came into the picture. And pipe-pleasure has increased a thousand-fold. And with good reason!

Prince Albert in the bowl of your pipe means pipe-joy coming up the stem. That's the story of P. A.'s tremendous popularity in a pipe-bowl. You suspect that Prince Albert is wonderful tobacco the instant you open the tidy red tin and set free that rich, rare fragrance. That's a treat in itself!

Your "suspicions" are confirmed the minute that cool, comforting smoke comes rolling over your tongue. Never did pipe-tobacco taste as good as that. Cool and sweet and mellow and mild—long-burning—why, P. A. just has everything you ever wanted in a smoke, including complete satisfaction.

No matter how hard you hit it up, P. A. never bites your tongue or parches your throat. You can start in right after breakfast and stay with it until bedtime. You may think your pipe is delivering capacity pipe-joy now. Never mind. Until you've tried P. A., you won't know.

P. A. is sold everywhere in tidy red tins, pound and half-pound tin humidors, and pound crystal-glass humidors with sponge-moistener top. And always with every bit of bite and parch removed by the Prince Albert process.

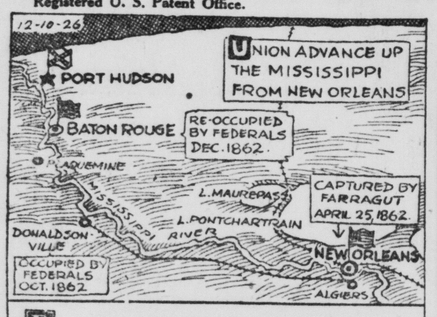
HIGH LIGHTS OF HISTORY

Registered U. S. Patent Office.

Banks and Farragut Before New Orleans.

by J. CARROLL MANSFIELD



EARLY IN MARCH, 1863, WHILE GRANT WITH THE AID OF PORTER'S FLEET WAS TRYING TO INVEST VICKSBURG, AN ARMY OF 10,000 FEDERALS UNDER GEN. BANKS, CO-OPERATING WITH ADMIRAL FARRAGUT'S SQUADRON, SET OUT FROM BATON ROUGE TO ATTACK PORT HUDSON, THE SOUTHERNMOST STRONGHOLD OF THE CONFEDERATES ON THE MISSISSIPPI.

ON THE NIGHT OF MARCH 14TH, WHILE BANK'S TROOPS WERE MARCHING AROUND TO THE REAR OF THE PORT HUDSON WORKS, FARRAGUT LASHED HIS SHIPS IN PAIRS, A STRONGER WITH A WEAKER, AND ATTEMPTED A DASH UP THE RIVER PAST THE STRONG BATTERIES ON THE SHORE.

THE START WAS MADE SECRETLY, UNDER COVER OF DARKNESS, BUT THE MOVEMENT WAS OBSERVED BY THE ALERT CONFEDERATE GUNNERS, WHO AT ONCE OPENED A DEADLY CANNONADE, AND LIGHTED HUGE BONFIRES WHICH MADE THE WARSHIPS PLAINLY VISIBLE. TWO OF FARRAGUT'S VESSELS, THE FLAGSHIP "HARTFORD" AND HER CONSORT, THE "ALBATROSS", PASSED IN SAFETY AND LATER COMMUNICATED WITH PORTER'S SHIPS ABOVE VICKSBURG.

THE REST OF THE FLEET, HOWEVER, FAILED TO GET THROUGH. THE "MISSISSIPPI", UNDER CAPT. MELANCTON SMITH, PASSED THE LOWER BATTERIES, BUT STUCK ON A BAR IN FRONT OF PORT HUDSON, AND AFTER FUTILE EFFORTS TO GET HER AFLOAT, WAS SET AFIRE AND ABANDONED. SOME HOURS LATER, THE BLAZING HULK DRIFTED OFF AND BLEW UP.

TOMORROW—GRANT CROSSES THE RIVER.

Will Broadcast Lindbergh Arrival From Airplane

(International News Service)

WASHINGTAON, June 10.—The arrival of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh in American waters tomorrow and the passage of the cruiser Memphis up the Potomac will be broadcast from an airplane, it was announced today.

The broadcasting will be done by Dr. J. H. Dillinger of the Bureau of Standards, from a specially equipped Ford motor company plane. The description of the cruiser's progress will be heard for a radius of 75 miles on a wave length of 375 meters it will be the first time in history that a public event has been broadcast by airplane radio.

The reception ceremonies throughout Washington however will be broadcast on one of the greatest "hookups" in history. Every radio fan in the country will be able to hear a description of the events.

New York Prepares For Greeting To Colonel Lindbergh

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, June 10.—Mayor James J. Walker, not having authority to declare a public holiday, today designated Monday, the day of Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh's arrival here, a day of public celebration.

The mayor in a public proclamation, requested that the national colors be displayed from every public and private building in the city, and requested business men of the city to cooperate in tendering a fitting welcome to Lindbergh on behalf of New York City.

N. Y. STOCKS

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, June 10.—After an irregular opening, in which the railroad stocks sustained only fractional losses while the industrial stocks held firmly, the stock market was called upon to absorb selling in the early trading today and the trend of prices was definitely downward.

Baltimore & Ohio Railroad common stock broke nearly 4 points on announcement of the decision of the directors to sell new stock at $107.50 a share. Lehigh Valley also reacted sharply from yesterday's high price, the stock at 128½ showing a decline of about 9 points from the peak of Thursday.

Texas Pacific Land Trust was bent backward to 30¼ on a rush of speculative selling in the first period. The stock sold at 40 earlier in the week, in a move which was believed to be the old fashioned "squeezing of the shorts."

Four Miners Are Killed By Fall Of Slate In Mine

(International News Service)

BLUEFIELD, W. Va., June10.—Four miners are dead here, and another is in a critical condition in a Welch hospital today as the result of a slate roof cave in at the Keystone Coal and Coke Company's mine late Thursday.

The dead: Joe Tatazarro, William Braddon and Moxie Hooks, all white, and Grady Crider, negro. Henry Griffin is suffering internal injuries, two broken limbs and a crushed foot.

The men were clearing the main entry to the mine, preparatory to resuming operations today when a support was removed, releasing a 50 ton slab of slate from the ceiling.

This is the third fatal accident in McDowell County in the past four weeks.

The man who says what he likes, will hear a great many things he dislikes.

Muny Bunk Room Will Be Taken As Boiler Room

Members of city council today assured Mayor William Dunlap that provision for caring for wayfarers will be taken before the advent of winter as the heating plant when installed in the city building will result in monpolizing the room now known as the "bunk room."

Mayor Dunlap today called this to colleagues attention and said that there should be a place for men to spend the night as the majority of them who appear for lodging are men who by force of circumstances have no employment, no funds and need a warm place to sleep during winter.

Councilman Tyler replied that he was in perfect accord with Mayor Dunlap but said that he would be opposed to establishing any place under ground and said that the next "bunk room" should be built with proper sanitation and ventilation. Councilman Burns adding: "When the new fire department is built there may be room for such a place." Councilman Genkinger remarked that "council will go along with Mayor Dunlap on the matter."

Auto Goes Down Big Embankment

California Visitors Arrive In City After Serious Accident Enroute

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Fleming of Santa Anna, Cal., and Mr. and Mrs. James Abbott of Los Angeles, Cal., arrived here this morning for a visit with relatives in this city.

They are making their headquarters with Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Fleming of 933 Rose avenue, the former being a son of J. C. Fleming.

Mr. and Mrs. Fleming and Mr. and Mrs. Abbott had a narrow escape from death or serious injury while en route to this city by automobile. They had reached a point near Oatman, Arizona, five hundred miles from their starting point, their machine was thrown over an embankment when its control was lost as the wheels skidded on some stones and sand in a bad piece of road.

The car went down over the embankment for a distance of 75 feet before it stopped, turning over twice in its mad flight down the side of the hill. The occupants of the car were inside all the time, but fortunately escaped with severe bruises and some minor cuts. The car was badly wrecked.

They then returned to Los Angeles and started over again from that place for this city by railroad, arriving safely this morning.

Veteran Actor Is Fighting For Life In Coast Hospital

(International News Service)

SAN FRANCISCO, June 10.—John Drew, dean of American actors, was making a valiant battle for his life here today. Stricken at Portland, Ore., two weeks ago, Drew was brought here and has been confined to Dante Sanitarium, suffering from arthritis and rheumatic fever.

Apparently on the road to recovery, Drew suffered a relapse and his doctors are much concerned over his condition.

Legionnaires Will Attend Service

At the invitation of Rev. Phillip C. Pearson, of the Trinity Epicopal church, members of the American Legion and other ex-service men are invited to participate in the Flag Day services to be held in the Trinity Episcopal church on Falls and North Mill streets, Sunday evening, June 12.

President Coolidge and all state and national officers of the Legion have called upon all patriotic organizations to participate in the celebration of the 150th anniversary of the origin of the Stars and Stripes and all members of the Legion are urged by Commander Harry M. Long to make an effort to be present for the meeting Sunday evening.

Te Legionnaires will meet at the Legion Home on the corner of Falls and Jefferson streets between 7:15 and 7:30 from whence they will march in a body to the church where a section of the seats will be reserved for them.

Deaths Of The Day

Frank B. Hunter.

Frank B. Hunter of Franklin, Pa., died Wednesday, June 8, in the Cleveland Clinic hospital following an operation.

Mr. Hunter was the son of E. B. Hunter and Elizabeth Locke Hunter. He was born in New Wilmington, but moved to Franklin when a small boy. He was a man of fine character and was held in high esteem by those who knew him.

Besides his parents he leaves four sisters and two brothers.

Funeral services will be held from the residence on Elk street, Franklin, Saturday at 2:30, Eastern Standard time.

Mrs. O. R. Campbell, Mrs. Nettie Mackey, Clyde Hunter and Mr. and Mrs. William Riblet of this city will attend the funeral services

City Moves To Protect Trees From Mutilation

Ordinance To Be Drawn To Regulate Trimming Of Trees Here

Claim Made To Council That Trees Are Being Butchered

Council at their Friday morning session directed Solicitor Robert White to draw an ordinance designed to protect trees from mutilation and providing that they can be trimmed only by an expert.

The ordinance will provide that when it is necessary to trim trees it will be done under the supervision of an expert and the cost will be charged to the property-owner.

Council ordered the draft as a result of a Garden club official, Mrs. DeGraff Pearson and Solicitor White declaring that P-O Electric employes is mutilating trees to make way for wires.

It is probable that the Garden club will be given power to act as a shade tree commission when the ordinance is presented to council after it has been written by Attorney White.

There is an ordinance on the records for a shade tree commission but it has not been functioning for several years and tree and beauty lovers have awakened to the situation.

"A city lined with trees, we feel, is a heritage any town is glad to claim" said Mrs. Pearson in addressing city council today.

Solicitor White told council of the alleged mutilation, pointing to Hazelcroft avenue on the North hill.

Solicitor White, a tree-lover, in commenting on Mrs. Pearson's statement concerning trees being mutilated, called attention to a speech by Martin Davy, tree expert, delivered in congress.

"Wires can be cleared without cutting much of the tree," Davy's address read.

"The (public utilities) cut too much and have no regard for individual or the collective rights of citizens."

White charged that when the top of a tree or a large limb is cut off, it opens the way for disease, saying:

"When a tree is beheaded or butchered, it is wounded and decay comes and this is what they are doing here."

White alleged that the private property-owner has no protection and said: "Our city forester can do this work"

"I drew an ordinance" he told council "and the tree commission is willing to function.

"To have a tree trimmed, a person would secure a permit and after he does the work the property-owner would pay.

"We should not let this butchering of trees go on, "declared White. Councilman Davies offered a motion that he prepare an ordinance to curb the alleged situation.

The motion was seconded by Genkinger and passed unanimously.

Airplane Armada Leaves To Greet Colonel Lindbergh

(International News Service)

NORFOLK, Va., June 10.—The greatest welcoming armada in history, left Hampton Roads early today to greet America's returning hero Col. Charles A. Lindbergh.

Sixty airplanes, in battle formation, and a fleet of thirty vessels, including a half dozen destroyers, sailed out to greet the Cruiser Memphis fifty miles at sea. The naval craft will form a convoy to escort the Memphis to the Virginia Capes, where late this afternoon Lindbergh will sight his native land for the first time since he left it on his epochal flight to Europe.

The aircraft will return to Hampton Roads late today to prepart for a new formation tomorrow, in which one hundred army, navy, marine corps and airmail planes will escort the Memphis on the last leg of her historic passage up the Potomac.

Sponsors Paving Of Three Streets

Beckford, Maryland And Winslow Avenues To Be Improved

PLAN TO GRADE HURON AVENUE

While council was in regular meeting today, Councilman Lolus Genkinger offered a motion which passed, directing the city clerk to ask for bids for the paving of Beckford street, Winslow and Maryland avenue, between Stanton and Butler avenue. Specifications will call for brick, concrete or asphalt material.

Council in committee of the whole acted favorable on an ordinance, introduced today, then sent to committee, providing for the grading of Huron avenue between Hazel street and Vogan avenue. After being reported from committee action was delayed until the bill can be printed.

Struck By Freight Car Man Dies From Injuries Sustained

Pasquale De Simone, aged 58, Passes Away At New Castle Hospital Today

Pasquale De Simone, aged 58, of 901 South Mercer street, died in the New Castle hospital this morning from injuries sustained when he was struck by a Pennsylvania freight car being shifted at Furnace No. 2, of the Carnegie Steel Company, Thursday evening.

De Simone was employed as a coke worker by the Carnegie Steel Company, his business being to look after the unloading of cars. The Pennsylvania crew was making a shift of some empty cars. One of the cars was standing over a coke bin into which De Simone is said to have dropped an iron bar, sometime earlier in the evening.

The shifter had run some empties down to the car which had been standing on the bin. It is believed that De Simone thought that the car on the bin had been coupled with the others, and went down into the pit to get the iron bar which he had dropped. As he returned to the track the car which had been standing over the bin was bumped by one of the empties being shifted. De Simone then saw that it was not coupled and attempted to jump out of danger, but too late. The car caught him crushing one hand, breaking a leg and causing other injuries. He was rushed to the New Castle hospital, where he died this morning from shock and loss of blood.

De Simone was a valued employe of the steel company and had the reputation of being a very careful workman. He is survived by his wife, four step-children, Josephine and Vitus Conti, Mrs. Anna Richards of this city and Mrs. Alice DeLillo of this city. One brother, John De Simone of New York and one sister, Victoria De Simone of Italy survive. Deceased was a member of King Humbert No. 1 Society. Funeral Tuesday at 9 a. m. from St. Vitus church.

Kansas City Dealers Junk Old Automobiles

(International News Service)

KANSAS CITY, Mo., June 10.—A $50,000 corporation to handle the used car problem in Kansas City has been approved by the secretary of state. The purpose of the organization will be to "junk" 12,000 motor cars now in use on the streets of Kansas City.

An outgrowth of the Motor Car Dealers association, the new company will be known as the United Auto Wrecking company, and will be used to combat "junk" dealers who heretofore have bought the used cars from dealers at a nominal price, and in turn placed them back on the market after slightly reconditioning them.
